"TO SAVE THE NATIONALITY OF MY COUNTRY."

—Gen. Felix Diaz.

The following telegram from Gen. Felix Diaz was received yesterday by Gen. Harrison Gray Otis, editor of the Los Angeles Times:

MEXICO CITY, Feb. 11.—I take the liberty of thanking you for the opportunity given me by your representative, who entered my lines under cover of darkness, to thus address the world: I reiterate my previous statement that I shall accept no official position in Mexico. I regret the loss of twenty-two of my men and an unknown number of the enemy killed. I am seeking peace at this hour (5 a. m.,) but at the same time I am preparing for the supreme struggle and am confident of success. I ask for moral support in the fight I am making to bring peace and save the nationality of my country. I have invited your representative to witness a battle behind our guns, but he has elected to act as a neutral, giving your paper fair reports from both sides. [Signed] FELIX DIAZ.

CALIFORNIANS TO FRONT IN CASE OF INTERVENTION

Officers on Border Patrol Discuss Plans of War College.

If Army Invades Mexico, It Will Probably Cross Boundary at Naco to Take Possession of Mining Camps in Sonora—Another Division Would Push Into Interior from Juarez.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

EL PASO, Feb. 12.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] California will be the first State to be called upon for its full quota of fighting men in case the United States declares for intervention in Mexican affairs. The plans of the War College, as finally adopted after a conference of the commanding generals of the army, leaked out here today and reveal the general plans of mobilization, transportation and invasion of the republic by the armed forces of the United States.

This plan is said to be absolutely authoritative and to have been adopted after much discussion by the commanding generals and the War College.

ARMY OF INVASION.

The expeditionary force now preparing to sail under the guise of a protective force for foreigners in Mexico City is in reality the southern army provided under the tentative plans of the strategists. This will be augmented by the marines from the battleships in Vera Cruz harbor and will be landed on the southeastern coast of Mexico. No effort will be made by this part of the army to capture Mexico City, its main purpose being to protect lives of foreigners and to conduct a rigid blockade of all ports of entry.

The bulk of the work is to be done by the departments of California, Arizona and the Central West, although all departments will move their quota of troops to the border to replace those going in.

TO CROSS BORDER AT NACO.

The port of Naco, Ariz., will be the point of entry for the California regiment regulars and the California National Guard. These will garrison all of the mining camps, including Cananea, Nacozari and the Sonora mining colonies. Under the plan, a force twice as large will take possession of the Mexican Central and Mexico Northwestern at Juarez, after occupying the historic old town, and will move their forces into the interior as rapidly as it can be conquered and subdued.

Horses are being brought here in wholesale quantities, trains are being rushed assembled at Fort Sam Houston and at Fort Bliss and ammunition is being delivered by mule train to all of the patrol camps in anticipation of the order to forward march to Mexico.

SUMMARY.

SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA. Pasadena is expecting trouble today between the Board of Education and the City Council over the old dispute on the buildings of the new High School.

The Crescent Wharf and Warehouse Company and the Independent Stevedoring Company which have heretofore operated under one management, have parted company and hereafter will be conducted separately.

Because their candidate in the City Council would not receive other votes from them, the Socialistic bosses of the Boyle Heights district are endeavoring to exercise the recall against him.

In honor of State officers of the California State Realty Federation, the Realty Board of Venice gave a banquet last night, and co-operation was advised as the best way to obtain results.

Boosters for the great highway from Riverside to the sea met at Riverside yesterday with officials of that place, and received every encouragement to go on with their project.

The South Pasadena police, fire and city offices have been so connected with telephone systems that the people can get in touch in a few minutes at any time of the day or night.

PACIFIC SLOPE. Capt. F. Wilson of the Alaska-Pacific steamship Victoria yesterday resigned to enter into business in Los Angeles, and several other changes were made on the vessels of the company as a result.

State Engineer Fletcher yesterday said in reply to the criticism that the highways of the State were being constructed will not last long, that he calculates the surface will last at least three years, and can be easily renewed.

It was stated yesterday that no great loss from the demand for copies of the 1000 bills introduced in the Legislature at Sacramento, that more than 3,000,000 copies have already been sent out.

GENERAL EASTERN. President-elect Wilson said yesterday that he would not announce the names of his Cabinet until he sends them to the Senate for confirmation.

The Missouri Supreme Court yesterday refused to modify the judgment of ouster against the Standard Oil Company issued four years ago.

Dist.-Atty. Whitman of New York and his assistants yesterday were granted permission to carry revolvers, on account of the frequent threats that have been made against them.

WASHINGTON. The formal canvass of the electoral vote was made yesterday in Congress, and Wilson and Marshall were declared elected President and Vice-President, respectively.

FOREIGN. The new Cabinet of Premier Yamamoto of Japan was announced yesterday, and will start in at once to reorganize conditions in the government which have caused the recent riots in Tokio.

MEXICO. The Army and Navy departments have mobilized an expeditionary force of 16,000 men to invade Mexico at a moment's notice in order to protect foreigners and foreign property in the disturbed republic.

President Taft and his Cabinet are still working to prevent intervention in Mexico, and many of the Congressional leaders are firm in their stand against an invasion of the neighboring republic.

FIRING CEASES AFTER DARK.

BOMBARDMENT IS KEPT UP UNTIL AFTER NINE O'CLOCK.

Shot and Shell Are Rained Upon Skyscrapers and the Number of Dead and Wounded Is Large. Diaz Advances Forces but Madero Still Confident of Winning.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

MEXICO CITY, Feb. 12.—Mexico's capital was torn asunder again today by shot and shell. It was not until 9 o'clock tonight that the fire ceased in all quarters.

Gen. Felix Diaz, in command of the rebel forces, fortified and entrenched in and around the arsenal, held his ground against the Federals. He did more than this. He subjected the city to a more terrible bombardment than that of yesterday, enlarged his zone of action and sent forces against the National Palace.

But tonight Madero was optimistic. Throughout the bombardment and the almost continuous rattle of machine guns and rifles, the President went about his work in the palace apparently unperturbed. He took counsel frequently with the Finance Minister, Ernesto Madero. From time to time he was in conversation with Gen. Huerta, the commander-in-chief, regarding the plans of attack. His courage was great, his confidence remarkable.

Rushing to Mexico.

Rear-Admiral Winslow, at the top of the above group, is hurrying part of his fleet to Vera Cruz and Tampico, while Rear-Admiral Southerland, at the bottom of the group, on board of the armored cruiser Colorado, his flagship, also shown in the picture, is in command of the Pacific fleet and is to reach Mazatlan tomorrow.

MADERO STRENGTHENS POSITION DURING AN ENFORCED TRUCE.

Second All Day Battle in the Streets of the City of Mexico Leaves the Issue in Doubt.

Foreigners Flee to the Embassies and the Suburbs for Safety — Three Americans, Two of Them Women, Victims of Bullets—Casualties May Total Thousand — Convicts Released from Belem Prison to Plunder and Pillage.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

MEXICO CITY, Feb. 12.—After a second all-day unsuccessful attempt to rout Gen. Diaz from the Ciudadela, President Madero took advantage of a truce enforced by the American Ambassador and the German Minister to move his forces closer around the arsenal and to place in position eight large cannon that he had just received from near the capital. The result of this action during the armistice was that at 5 p.m., when the fighting was resumed, Madero poured a storm of shot and shell upon Diaz's stronghold from four sides. When the fighting ceased at nightfall the Federal troops were in stronger positions than at any time since the revolt began.

Whether President Francisco Madero, or Felix Diaz, revolutionist, shall rule in Mexico City remained tonight unsettled, in spite of two days of fighting unprecedented in its severity in any city of North America.

It is possible that the combatants might be left to fight it out undisturbed, taking as much time as they pleased, but for the fact that property and business of foreigners are being shot to pieces, literally, by the opposing artillerymen, and two American women, Mrs. H. W. Hellman and Mrs. Percy Griffiths, have been killed, while outside the immediate zone of fire.

American interests also have suffered most, the American consulate general is riddled with bullets and it was Ambassador Henry Lane Wilson as dean of the diplomatic corps who headed the delegation of foreign representatives today in a fruitless demand that fighting be confined to some assigned zones.

Neither Diaz nor Madero would admit that, with the tremendous penetration of modern firearms, this would be possible.

Dawn tomorrow is likely to see a resumption of hostilities, while on both coasts are gathering war vessels to protect the lives and interests of foreigners.

From early morning the sharp crack of rifles or the crash of cannon could be heard in some quarter of the city almost every minute of the day, sometimes close, sometimes far distant.

MEXICO CITY, Feb. 12.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] After a day of rapine and slaughter, in which hundreds, if not thousands, of men, women and children—mostly all non-combatants—lost their lives, Mexico City is tonight comparatively quiet. It is, however, but the lull before the storm, as tomorrow the decisive and, in all likelihood, the most vicious battle of the war is expected to be fought.

Tonight the once beautiful capital of Mexico presents a horrible sight. Bodies of hundreds of killed still lie in the streets; great buildings, the pride of Latin American architecture, are battered by shell and shot, and those residents who were fortunate enough to escape today's rain of bullets are hovered in their homes praying that tomorrow may never come.

CONVICTS RELEASED.

Loosened from the steel bars that had held many of them for years, more than 3000 of the most desperate criminals in all Mexico poured from Belem prison today into the street and houses of the city and looted, robbed and murdered right and left. Many women and girls fell victims to these human beasts before the firing ceased in the afternoon and some semblance of order was restored.

THE DEATH STRUGGLE.

Tonight both armies are feverishly preparing for the death struggle tomorrow. President Madero, it was announced, had 7000 men. Col. Diaz, leader of the rebels, said he had 6000 men, and expected 2500 more when the Zapatistas arrived. Diaz, it is known, has a great advantage in armament and ammunition. Madero's forces are in and around the National Palace; Col. Diaz controls the arsenal, the Alameda Park and most of the city. Strategically, Diaz holds the better position. I viewed today's fighting from the rebel lines until the firing became unbearable, when I repaired to the cable office, where I found huddled together most all of the foreign correspondents now in the city.

MACHINE GUNS' HAVOC.

It was 9 o'clock before either side made a move today. At that hour Col. Diaz placed machine guns in many streets and ordered everybody indoors. All roofs of buildings were cleared. Diaz made known his intention to attack the National Palace at once, and within five minutes after his orders had been given, part of the Palace, popularly known as the "American Government Site," was blown up with dynamite. The cable office, where I was at this time, was surrounded on either side by Federals or rebels and all those inside, citizens, newspaper men, and operators, were unable to leave.

GENERAL BOMBARDMENT.

The general bombardment of the rebels began at 10 o'clock. First the rapid-fire guns opened, followed by Diaz's heavy field pieces. Many buildings occupied or owned by Americans were in direct line of this fire, and all occupants were cooped up. To add to the awful situation, more than three thousand convicts in Belem prison escaped and overran the city, mixing with both Federals and rebels, but mostly improving their time by looting and burning

AMERICAN REFUGEE DESCRIBES STREET BATTLE.

Bullets Mowed Down More Civilians, Including Women and Children, Than Combatants — Dead and Wounded Lie in Front of National Palace for Many Hours.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

LAREDO (Tex.) Feb. 12.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Stirring stories of the fighting in Mexico City and conditions existing are told by an American who passed through here today from the capital. The trains were crowded with refugees, many of whom were witnesses to the first two days' fighting. Harry O. Karnes of Akron, O., one of the passengers, was a close spectator of the first day's engagement in front of the National Palace. He said:

"After it was over, I managed to get into the plaza, but I did not stay long, nor did I get far. It struck me as being sacrilegeous to splash through pools of blood which checkered the pavement as do the wild flowers a hillside.

PRESIDENT STILL HOPES TO AVOID INTERVENTION.

Leaders in Congress Also Resist Clamor for Invasion of Mexico.

Army Officers Declare That Conflict With Distracted Republic Would Mean a Protracted War With Heavy Sacrifice of Life and Treasure—Three Hundred Thousand Men Might Be Needed to Restore Order.

BY GEORGE GRISWOLD HILD.

[BY FEDERAL (WIRELESS) LINE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Feb. 12.—[Special Dispatch.] The situation in Mexico continues to be the occasion of the gravest anxiety to the administration. While the reports are meager, they indicate a wanton disregard on the part of both Madero and Diaz for the lives and property of foreigners and Mexican non-combatants. On the other hand, intervention in Mexico would mean protracted warfare and a sacrifice of blood and treasure far beyond the realization of man, and only dire necessity will impel the President to take a step in that direction.

That a crisis may be reached tomorrow is the belief of those who are in close touch with the situation. It is earnestly hoped it will be of a character which will obviate any necessity of intervention. While developments and more accurate news will be awaited before any definite plan is decided upon by the administration, it is quite possible that unless there is a cessation of the wanton destruction of lives and property in the City of Mexico, the President will feel compelled to send to Congress a special message dealing with the situation. The President's patience and non-intervention policy have been severely strained by the developments of the past few days and although he is still loath to involve the United States in so grave an undertaking as an invasion of Mexico, he may be forced to put the matter up to Congress.

MADERO CUTS WIRES.

It is believed here that the scarcity of news from Mexico is due to Madero's having cut the telegraph wires pretty generally over the republic with a view to preventing his troops in the provinces from learning of any success which may attend the efforts of Diaz and thereupon turning against the Madero government.

When the situation in Mexico became acute last fall, President Taft indicated in the event of a crisis demanding dramatic measures he would refer the problem to Congress. When he departed from Washington for Philadelphia this evening he was still hopeful that the United States would not be forced to interfere, although he has made it plain that he will not tolerate the sacrificing of foreign lives in the battle for political supremacy. In leaving Washington, the President left Secretaries Knox and Stimson on the lid, and he will be constantly within reach of them by telephone until his return early tomorrow morning.

RESTING ON ARMS.

Under orders issued today the first brigade of the first division of the new army organization is resting on its arms ready to entrain for Newport News within a few hours after the word is given here. Transports have also been put in commission to carry this force, numbering about 3000, including auxiliaries, to Mexican waters. Preparations have also been made to mobilize 2500 marines from the Atlantic fleet and the Guantanamo naval station at Vera Cruz for any emergency. Nearly all the reports received by the Department of State today were disquieting.

HEAVY LOSSES.

One of the lates messages was from Consul Alonso B. Garrett, at Laredo, Tex. It read:

"Battle opened in Mexico City at 9 this morning. Heavy artillery and machine guns used on both sides. Property loss very heavy from yesterday's cannonading. Fierce fighting in vicinity of Federal telegraph office and operators have left their stations. All wires down south of Monterey and communication from Laredo to Monterey only via Mier."

No detailed confirmation has been received from Ambassador Wilson and owing to the uncertainty of the telegraphic communication to the capital it is not expected he will furnish much of an account before tomorrow. He is practically in charge of the situation, it being declared this afternoon that no additional instructions had been given him other than the general request from both sides to protect foreign lives. It was admitted by the State Department that several foreign diplomats had called to inquire about conditions in Mexico City, but it was asserted that there was no particular significance to the fact as it was understood by the other powers that the United States would protect their interests.

RED CROSS SENDS FUNDS.

One thousand dollars were transmitted to Ambassador Wilson by the American National Red Cross today with instructions that one-half the amount be expended by the Mexican Red Cross in the relief of suffering and distress incident to the revolution while the other half could be expended by the Ambassador in his discretion for the relief of the sick, wounded and destitute Americans.

TAFT UNSWAYED BY CLAMOR.

Tremendous pressure is being exerted by certain Americans who are extensive property owners in Northern Mexico to force American intervention. This pressure is being quietly exerted by certain members of Congress, and more noisily in certain portions of the public press. President Taft is well aware of the motives which prompt such clamor and will not be swayed by it. So, too, are many members of Congress. Senator Tillman came out flatly today and asserted his knowledge that certain Americans who own property in Mexico were responsible for much that is said with regard to intervention. Senator Cullom, chairman of the Committee on Foreign Relations, deprecated interference by the United States. Other Senators admitted privately that they were well aware of the animus back of the more violent expressions, but would not talk for publication because they may be called on to deal with the subject officially.

CONGRESS WITH PRESIDENT.

Generally speaking the members of both Houses of Congress are in entire accord with the desire of the President to abstain from intervention as long as possible, although some of them admit that in this instance, as was the case with regard to Cuba, Congress may be forced by the emanations of a certain section of the press to act in violation of its best judgment and this irrespective of the fact that such emanations are known to result from ulterior and selfish motives.

The chiefs of the quartermaster corps of the army have completed arrangement for the transportation of troops by train to the Mexican border, and by transports from Newport News and from Galveston. It has been no great trouble to map out a plan for transportation of troops by land. The army has been for some time in a condition to mobilize in Texas when necessary. The developments of the situation in Mexico, and the direction in which the troops will be used, must necessarily determine the destination of troops and whether they shall go by rail or be sent by water. If it is decided that a large military force should be mobilized at some point on the Mexican border, concentration will be accomplished in a few days more than required for the water trip. The military authorities have already settled which troops are to form such a command and have perfected the arrangements by the selection of personnel and the various auxiliaries connected with a mobilization of that character.

FOUR TRANSPORTS READY.

Another problem, however, is presented in arranging for the transfer of troops by water. Everything has been put in readiness for the employment in that direction of the four army transports at Newport News—the McClellan, which has accommodations for 350; the Meade for 915 men and 97 animals; the Sumner for 740 men and 97 animals, and the Kilpatrick for 560 men and 104 animals. By crowding the men and using mattresses on the decks, it is believed that these four transports on each trip could carry between 3000 and 3500 men. The vessels have been coaled and it would be only a question of a few hours to install the thirty days' rations which would be provided for each man.

THIRTY MERCHANT TRANSPORTS.

Negotiations have been made with owners of ocean liners for the acquisition of the vessels should the occasion require additional water transportation facilities. Communication has been opened with representatives of the Mallory, Ward, Southern Pacific, American, Hawaiian and other lines and it has been found that about thirty vessels will be available for use by the government by the fifteenth of March. Other steamers would be available later and probably in time to accommodate all the troops which would be needed. If the troops come from the east and northeast, they will be taken on board at Newport News. If it is necessary to transfer into Mexico any of the troops now in Texas, the embarkation will probably be at Galveston. The Mexican ports where the debarkation will occur would be Vera Cruz or Tampico, from which there are adequate railroad facilities for getting to the Mexican capital and other points where it might be necessary to make a military demonstration.

PROTRACTED WARFARE.

There is no failure of the military and naval authorities to appreciate the gravity of the situation. It is also appreciated that an invasion of Mexico would present a problem of the utmost gravity. Most army officers believe that the appearance of the American troops south of the Rio Grande would serve to amalgamate into a single resisting foe both loyal and rebellious Mexicans. The character of the country is such as to lend itself to a type of warfare calculated to tax the endurance of a large body of trained soldiers. Some experts take the view that an invading army of less than 500,000 men would be ineffective. That would necessitate a call for volunteers in addition to the employed militia. It is believed that with such a force the effort to restore peace and establish a stable government in Mexico would involve protracted warfare. The period is variously estimated, the maximum prediction being not less than six or seven years.

WOULD NEED BIG FORCE.

Officers who have visited Mexico, point out that it is not merely a question of getting troops to the capital, but that the lines of approach must be protected for every mile from the border line or the sea ports to the capital. It is this that would require vigilance and this would call for an extraordinary force, while guerrilla warfare in broken country, conducted by troops who had entire sympathy of the inhabitants would prolong the struggle and involve this country in an expense of blood and treasure which defies estimate.

WORLD POLICE FOR MEXICO.

Washington Peace Society Suggests International Action Similar to That in China a Few Years Ago.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, Feb. 12.—Development of a world police, such as was begun in avoiding internal war in China, to be utilized by nations in policeing the republic of Mexico, was suggested today in resolutions by Washington Peace Society.

The plan, which will be submitted to President Taft, President-elect Wilson and others with the request that other nations be asked to cooperate, would bring about action by combined foreign interests in Mexico to insure settlement of that republic's affairs by "peaceful elections, if necessary restraining the internal factions from war by the combined police power of these nations."

Thirty-five Thousand Men Ready to Move.

Six Dreadnoughts Ready to Mexican Ports.

Up to Congress, However, to Order Intervention.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, Feb. 12.—President Taft and the Cabinet are in accord that Congress must bear responsibility for any intervention in Mexico.

A day of conference between the President and his advisers ended with the understanding that should conditions in Mexico City become worse as to demand the landing of American troops, Mr. Taft will first lay before both houses of Congress the facts of the situation. Such preliminary was arranged today in the action which might follow in due course. Thirty-five thousand men of the army and navy and the marine corps were put in readiness for movement.

FIRST BRIGADE MOBILIZED.

The first brigade of the first division, just created in the reorganization, 5000 men in all, the nucleus of an expeditionary force of 15,000, was put on marching order, ready to entrain for Newport News, Va., where army transports will be under steam.

MARINES TO BLAZE WAY.

Between 2500 and 3000 marines of the Atlantic battleship fleet and the Guantanamo Naval Station were prepared for immediate service at Vera Cruz, where they might be landed aboard ship ready for landing or as an avenue of escape to Mexico for foreigners as they did at Vera Cruz.

Among the vessels set apart for service in Mexican waters are the Georgia, 15,000-ton battleship, Capt. Marbury Johnson, due at Vera Cruz Friday.

Young Women Approve His Banquet Speech.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 12.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Churches should become matrimonial agencies, according to a leading minister of this city.

"I wish there were a room in my church fitted for the accommodation of young women and young men, I wish the young women could use a room in my church as a 'front parlor,' where they could entertain young men and be courted by them. I don't see anything wrong about courting. Marriage is a sacrament and nothing mysterious. It would be a whole lot better if girls could meet their future husbands in a church room designed for courting purposes than to have them meet at a nickel dance."

IDEA IS APPROVED.

Nebin was convicted at Bouse of a misdemeanor and sentenced to the County Jail at Yuma. He was given his commitment papers and started for the county seat unattended. At Maricopa he was robbed of his cash and commitment papers but proceeded to Yuma. The Sheriff refused to receive him because he had no papers and Nebin started back for Bouse. He was re-arrested here tonight on a telegram from the Yuma officials.

LADYBUGS TO SAVE MELONS.

State Horticultural Collectors Gather Them by Millions to Kill Cantaloupe Aphis.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 12.—The ladybug season has opened and collectors of the State Horticultural Commissioner's force are going to the mountains to gather the tiny creatures by the pound.

The ladybug saves the cantaloupe crop of Imperial Valley each year by devouring the aphis which would otherwise destroy the melon vines. Last week 100 pounds of ladybugs were gathered in the Coast Range mountains.

Since there are 30,000 bugs to the pound, this makes 3,000,000 in captivity. From this time on, the collection will be in progress in Humbug Canyon near Towle, in Placer county.

JUDGE AT ODDS WITH CLUBMAN.

ISSUES WARRANT FOR ARREST OF COMMODORE DWYER.

Sacramento Businessman, Banker and Charity Worker Who Seeks to Remove Children from the Jurisdiction of the Court Is Charged With Misconduct.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 12.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Judge Hughes of the Superior and the Juvenile courts made a sensational statement today explaining his action in issuing a warrant for the arrest of "Commodore" Francis T. Dwyer, a prominent business man of Sacramento.

Dwyer, who gets his title of commodore from the local yacht club, is a bachelor and club member. He is a director of the Sacramento Valley Trust Company, vice-president of the Sacramento Transportation Company, and a brother-in-law of Robert T. Devlin, until recently United States District Attorney for the northern district of California. Dwyer had been secretary and an active member of the Probation Committee appointed by Judge Hughes, and has been a familiar figure in the lobby at several State Legislatures, in the interest of better laws for the care of delinquent minors. Recently differences arose between Dwyer and Judge Hughes, and Dwyer resigned from the Probation Committee, and went to Europe. He returned after several months' absence and plunged again into charity work, again coming into conflict with Hughes.

Yesterday Hughes issued a warrant for his arrest when he was endeavoring to remove some children in whom he has taken an interest from the jurisdiction of Judge Hughes. The latter now accuses Dwyer of misconduct on several occasions with the wards of the court.

PUBLIC CURIOUS TO READ BILLS.

State Has Sent Out Three Million Copies.

Printing Total Will Show Heavy Increase.

New Senate History Contains All Amendments.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SACRAMENTO (Cal.) Feb. 12.—Thousands of requests from all parts of the State for complete sets of the 4000 bills introduced in both Houses of the Legislature are keeping the attaches working until all hours of the night. Three million pieces of printed matter already have been sent out by Secretary of the Senate W. N. Parrish and Chief Clerk of the Assembly L. B. Mallory, and the end, they said today, was not in sight.

THE SENATE HISTORY.

In order to more exactly meet the requirements of the public, and at the same time lighten the overwhelming burden which unexpected public interest in proposed legislation has thrust upon him, Secretary Parrish has ordered printed 3000 additional copies of the Senate history, which will contain a revised index facilitating the finding of the different bills bearing upon any one subject.

The new history also will contain a numerical list of all the code amendments introduced in both the Senate and Assembly, for the special convenience of the legal profession.

WILL REDUCE WORK.

"If the public will make use of this index," said Parrish today, "it will receive the bills of particular interest to it much more speedily, and at the same time will reduce our work three-fourths. It takes hours for a clerk to prepare a full set of bills for mailing, whereas the bills bearing upon one topic can be gathered in a few minutes. March 10 will be upon us before we mail out all the requests for full sets if they continue to pour in at the present rate."

SUPPLEMENT TO INDEX.

A supplement to the index of the Assembly history, which listed 1400 bills as "miscellaneous," will be ready in a few days. State Printer Richardson probably will complete the printing of the bills late tonight or early tomorrow, and the complete files will be mailed to legislators probably by tomorrow night.

Lincoln's birthday was generally observed today by the closing of offices in the Capitol.

NEW STATE SCHOOL BOARD.

Administration Measure to Reorganize Present Education Bureau Introduced by Morgenstern.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SACRAMENTO (Cal.) Feb. 12.—A plan for the reorganization of the State Board of Education, generally believed to have the administration backing, is embodied in Assembly bill 1821, introduced by Assemblyman Alfred Morgenstern of Alameda, which came from the printer today. The bill provides for a board of seven members, "who shall not be actively engaged in educational work," to be appointed by the Governor for terms of seven years.

Instead of the Governor acting as president, as with the present board, which consists of the Governor, the State Superintendent of Public Instruction, and the principals of the State Normal Schools, one of the seven is to be elected president, and the State Superintendent is made executive officer of the board.

In addition to traveling expenses as allowed the present board, the members are to receive $10 per day salary when in attendance upon board meetings, which are to be at the call of the president and not less than twice a year. The board may appoint three assistant superintendents of public instruction, at salaries of not more than $4000 a year, as well as examiners, special agents and clerks.

Powers not specified in the present statutes are given to the board as follows:

To prescribe the general rules under which examination for the teaching force shall be held, as elsewhere provided in this code, and to establish the minimum of proficiency entitling applicants to certificates authorizing them to teach in the elementary schools of the State or any county thereof.

To prescribe by general rules the standard of credentials upon which persons may be granted special certificates in drawing, music, physical culture and commercial, technical or industrial work.

To approve courses of study for the primary and grammar schools, high schools and technical schools and to grant permission for the teaching of subjects not embraced in the courses of study, under conditions which the board may determine.

To apportion the State school funds in accordance with law and to furnish an abstract of such apportionment to the State Controller, and to all county, city and county, and city treasurers and county and city school superintendents of the State.

To adopt all needful rules and measures for carrying out the constitutional powers of the board providing a uniform series of text-books for use in the day and evening elementary schools, and for furnishing and distributing the same.

To make investigations regarding all educational matters and to make recommendations to the schools of the State and to the Legislature concerning the same; to issue from time to time such printed matter as it may deem helpful; to present to the State Controller a budget, covering the needed expenses of the department of education and make recommendations for such legislation as it may deem necessary; and to perform all other functions and duties which are now or may hereafter be assigned to it by law.

[BY FEDERAL (WIRELESS) LINE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Feb. 12.—[Special Dispatch.] The return of zero weather caused one death and much suffering to thousands of the city's poor today. An unexpected cold wave from the Northwest sent the thermometer down to the zero mark, a record of from two to four degrees below that point being registered in some sections of the city.

Dr. Adam Mackey, who lived at the Columbia Hotel, was the victim of the day's cold spell. He was found overcome in the street by the cold and died today at Wesley Hospital. He was 83 years old.

State Railroad Commission Will Hold Meeting to Pass Upon Use of Central Pacific Line.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 12.—The State Railroad Commission will hold a hearing on February 19, upon that portion of the Southern-Union Pacific dissolution which affects the joint use of track facilities by the Southern Pacific and the Central Pacific in this State. Under the public utilities act, no railroad can lease any of its facilities within the State without the consent of the railroad commission.

The commission expects that all of the traffic associations will be represented at the hearing.

the skies, their eyes wide open and a great crimson spot on their clothing to indicate where a rifle ball had severed that narrow thread of life. Others were merely crumpled up in a heap. It was in the throngs of onlookers where the ranks were thinned by bullets.

SUFFERING OF WOUNDED.

"It will be impossible to estimate the number of injured. Those who were fortunate enough to escape with slight wounds got away from the shambles as quickly as possible. Of the more seriously hurt, some suffered long hours, as in many instances succor was late in coming. Yet there were scores of brave and humane persons who gave what aid they could to unfortunate fellow beings. Many were removed to hospitals and improvised places where attention was given the injured.

AMERICANS NOT PERTURBED.

"When we left the City of Mexico the Americans there were not in great fear. A better word I believe to use would be 'perturbed,' and that because of the doubtful outcome in a country pretty well accustomed to revolt. It is therefore difficult to forecast what the result is going to be. Every person in the republic not seeking to profit by the revolution, and especially all of the interests that give life to Mexico, want a stable, constitutional government."

Millionaire Capitalist of Seattle Charged With Causing Separation of Brother-in-Law and His Wife.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SEATTLE, Feb. 12.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Thomas S. Lippy, millionaire capitalist, large realty owner in Seattle and prominent church worker, is defendant in a suit brought in the Superior Court by his brother-in-law, Bert D. Rose, foreman of street lights in the city lighting department, for $50,000 damages. Rose claims that Lippy alienated the affections of his wife and his children.

Mrs. Rose is the sister of Lippy and obtained a divorce June 17, last, on the ground of incompatibility. The court directed Rose to pay her $15 a month alimony.

Rose asserts that Lippy's lavish expenditure of money upon Mrs. Rose and the children was directly responsible for the estrangement and finally the decree of divorce. They were married December 16, 1888.

In a second action for an additional $25,000, Rose alleges Lippy has frequently declared that there is no excuse for a man to be poor and that by promises of higher education and other benefits only to be derived from the possession of wealth, together with lavish gifts, weaned away the affections of his children.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 12.—With elaborate ceremony, the Senate and House of Representatives in joint session canvassed today the electoral votes of the various States of the Union and officially declared Woodrow Wilson of New Jersey and Thomas R. Marshall of Indiana elected President and Vice-President of the United States for the term beginning March 4, and there were cheers and handclapping and yells as the canvass proceeded.

The announcement of the California vote drew applause from the Roosevelt supporters. The recapitulation gave Wilson and Marshall 435 votes; Roosevelt and Johnson eighty-eight votes, and Taft and Butler eight votes. The certificates of all of the States were received and counted and there was no response to the formal demand of Senator Bacon as to whether there was objection to the recording of the vote.

GERMAN ENVOY LAUDS LINCOLN.

Welded America's Friendship With the Empire.

Declares Fatherland Aided in Preserving Union.

Influence of His Countrymen Saved Missouri.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SPRINGFIELD (Ill.) Feb. 12.—Count von Bernstorff, German Ambassador to the United States, was guest of honor at the banquet given by the Lincoln Centennial Association tonight.

"Abraham Lincoln as the Germans Regarded Him" was the subject of his address. In addition to showing that the Germans were keenly sympathetic with the character and purpose of Lincoln, the Ambassador quoted a number of eminent authorities to show what a strong bond of sincere friendship welded together the common interests of Germany and the United States in Lincoln's day. He closed with the fervent wish that "such relations of friendship between our two countries may always continue."

Count Bernstorff declared that Lincoln's courage and his "big heart," whose every throb was for the whole people, strongly appealed to the German sentiment. He was born a leader, in truth the "savior of your country."

GERMANS SAVED MISSOURI.

The Ambassador quoted records to show that 187,187 Germans, born in Germany, enlisted in the different regiments of the northern States. He declared the strength and influence of the Germans saved Missouri for the Union.

"Germany," he continued, "gave not only her sympathy, but her gold, in defense of the Union, and the purchase of United States bonds in German financial centers contributed very largely toward sustaining the union."

Referring to Lincoln's courage when war drew near, the speaker said:

"He did not indulge in the delusion that the Union could be maintained or restored with out a conflict of arms. Although he abhorred war for any purpose, moral character enabled him to take the great responsibility of leading the nation into a war for union and for freedom and through weary years of alternating success and disaster. He did not waver for a moment when many anti-coercion meetings were held and the cry for peace at any price arose on all sides."

QUOTES FROM LINCOLN.

Count Bernstorff quoted Lincoln to emphasize his argument that the fate of civilization in this country was involved in the issue of the contest.

"The craving of the soul of the German nation for unity," he declared, "is the last but not the least reason I should mention which influenced our people in their sympathy with Abraham Lincoln and his policy."

The Count referred to the days when the United States was represented in Berlin by George Bancroft, "whose attitude assured him a cordial acceptance in Berlin. He was received into the inner circles of scholarly, social and political life and formed habits of friendship with Bismarck and Moltke. The political situation of Europe was such that Bancroft regarded the unitarian tendencies in both countries as co-relating."

He then quoted Bancroft as declaring:

"But for the triumphs of the Union in America it could never have succeeded in Germany."

RECALLS GRANT DINNER.

Moltke was quoted to show the friendship between the Germans and Americans. The Count then recalled a dinner given by Bancroft in Berlin the day of the [illegible] dent Grant.

"Bismarck was among the guests," related the Ambassador, "and after a short speech. After recalling the times of Frederick the Great, Bismarck continued, 'as a result of subsequent relations between the two countries, it gives me the greatest pleasure to be able to state to you not only from my personal knowledge as a Minister of Prussia, but from the archives of its history, that the cordial understanding, so happily inaugurated by Washington and Frederick, has never suffered even the slightest jar. Not only has no difference ever arisen between the two countries but nothing has ever occurred between them which we need blush to for an explanation.'

After this quotation from Bismarck Count Bernstorff concluded with a hope that this bond of friendship would remain unbroken.

BRINGS BACK RECORDS.

The Terra Nova brought every scrap of record of the southern party, including the private diaries, which will be handed to the relatives of the explorers.

Capt. Scott kept a daily record up to March 24, and spent the last days writing his message to the public. A bedder could have been found, according to Commander Evans, but all agreed it was better to have him in their white mantle where he had worked and died.

MRS. SCOTT OUT OF RANGE.

IGNORANT OF TRAGEDY.

[BY CABLE AND A. P. TO THE TIMES.]
HONOLULU, Feb. 12.—All efforts to communicate by wireless with the steamship Aorangi, on which Mrs. Kathleen Scott of Capt. Scott sailed from San Francisco February 5, in the expectation of meeting her husband in Australia, and, were abandoned this morning after twenty-four hours of calling. By 3 o'clock it was considered certain that the Aorangi had passed beyond the range of the powerful apparatus of the station here.

A great stack of messages for Mrs. Scott, received from all parts of the world, had to be forwarded at once, as she remained unsent.

GREEKS ASK ACCOUNTING.

Demand That Court Enjoin Pan-Hellenic Union From Collecting Funds for Balkan War.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]
BOSTON, Feb. 12.—An accounting of the $200,000 collected by the Pan-Hellenic union from the Greeks of New England to aid in the war against Turkey is asked in a bill of equity filed with the Supreme Court today by Greek residents of Boston. It is also sought to have the respondent enjoined from making further collections.

The Pan-Hellenic union was organized in Massachusetts under the direction of Lamba Cosomilas, the present Greek Secretary of State. It is alleged that the general manager of the union, Constantinos N. Papamihalouis, failed to render an accounting as demanded before he left recently for Greece.

TAFT INVITES DESERTERS BACK.

SAYS LINCOLN TODAY WOULD BE REGULAR REPUBLICAN.

Declares He Understood and Loved the Constitution, and Knew More of Practical Government Than Any Man Who Ever Lived. Declares Party Will Recover.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]
PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 12.—President Taft, five members of his Cabinet, two Governors and a score of distinguished men were guests tonight at the fiftieth anniversary dinner of the Union League Club at a banquet given in honor of Abraham Lincoln.

The President, the first speaker, praised Lincoln, declared bluntly that if he were alive today he would be joined in line with the Republican party and said that he hoped to see that element of the party which deserted the standard last fall swing back into line again to insure the continuation for fifty years more of policies of that party.

The President made no reference in his speech to conditions in Mexico. He planned to leave for Washington early tomorrow.

TRIBUTE TO LINCOLN.

The President began his speech with a tribute to Lincoln. He finished with an attack upon the Progressives, but hoped, he said, that looking with keen eye upon the efforts of the incoming administration they would find their way back into the Republican fold and line up once again with the "grand old party."

"What of the future of the Republican party?" asked the President.

"We have had a division and we had a beating.

"We're great, strong people and we can stand a great deal. It may be that this defeat will benefit us this time. One of the characteristics of the Republican party is that it has shown in the last fifty years an ability to get together and organize and carry into effect the great principles for which it stands. Therefore all we ought to do is to make the declaration that our basic principles cannot be surrendered—liberty regulated by law—these restrictions imposed by the people on themselves—cannot be overcome by the nostrums of demagogues. Those principles we cannot depart from.

WOULD BE REGULAR.

"Would Lincoln be with us if he were alive?

"Well, of course he would.

"Why?

"Because Lincoln understood popular government as few men have understood it. Because he understood the Constitution and loved it as few men have loved it. He understood practical government better than any man who ever lived. I differ from those who claim him as a 'trademark' for the claims they make differ radically from what we know his ideas were.

"Shall we re-enact the role of the dog in the manger in Aesop's fables? We have a government of strength, of permanence, of power and of force. Shall we throw that away and take a step backward?

"I hope not."

Five Men Who Had Known Him During the War Speak Before New York Society.

[BY FEDERAL (WIRELESS) LINE TO THE TIMES.]
NEW YORK BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Feb. 12.—[Special Dispatch.] The New York Genealogical and Biographical Society held a commemorative Lincoln's Birthday meeting at its clubhouse today at which five men spoke who had known Lincoln during his administration as President. Clarence Winthrop Bowen, president of the society, presided.

Gen. James Grant Wilson, Henry Clews, Col. Albert B. Chandler, David Homer Bates and Charles A. Tinker, the last three having been telegraph operators in the War Department at Washington during the Civil War, were the speakers. An oil painting of Lincoln was exhibited at the meeting which is a replica made in 1867 of the original study painted in the White House in 1861 by Frank B. Carpenter, for the portrait of Lincoln in the large painting "Emancipation Proclamation," now in the Capitol at Washington.

Gen. Wilson related some touching reminiscences of his acquaintance and association with Lincoln in Washington during the Civil War.

The garment she wore at the funeral was her wedding gown.

Scott, the Antarctic explorer, President Taft today received the following cable from King George of Great Britain: "My countrymen join with me in sincerely thanking you and the people of the United States of America for your message of sympathy in the loss of Capt. Scott and his brave companions, for whom we deeply mourn."

Revivalist Wed in San Francisco Asks Divorce.

Says His Wife Once Tried to Poison Him.

Declares She Drove Him Out of Church in Tampa.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]
JACKSONVILLE (Fla.) Feb. 12.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The Rev. R. L. Kirkland, well-known revivalist, has instituted suit for divorce from Addie Kirkland, alleging a series of indignities and misrepresentations. In the complaint Kirkland avers that his wife accused him of infidelity and on one occasion endeavored to poison him and as the result of her constant nagging he became addicted to the use of narcotic drugs and was only cured with difficulty.

Kirkland was formerly pastor of a Congregational church in Tampa, but was compelled to give up the charge to engage in evangelistic work and since that time Mrs. Kirkland has followed him about the country seeking to ruin his reputation and hold him up to ridicule, he says.

The couple were married in San Francisco, June 27, 1901.

Another serious allegation is that after Kirkland had been married some time his wife told him that on different occasions before her marriage she had registered at various hotels. Mrs. Kirkland's present address is given as Barry, Ill.

Neal Drink Habit Treatment a Success

The Neal Institute of Los Angeles Successfully Treating Drink and Drug Habit.

Several years ago Dr. Neal made the statement that chronic alcoholism—drink habit—was neither a disease nor a wilful habit, but a general poisoning of the drinker's system with alcohol. That men who required alcoholic stimulation to make them comfortable and enable them to transact business needed medical treatment—the Neal Treatment, which is a harmless vegetable remedy that removes the craving and necessity for drink in three days without the use of painful, dangerous hypodermic injections.

The statement has been proved at fifty-eight Neal Institutes, where thousands of drink and drug-wrecked men and women have been restored to happy, useful lives by the Neal Treatment.

Labor.

SAYS MERE TOTS WORK IN SHEDS.

New York Commission Scores Canning Factories.

Declares Babes Three Years Old Are Employed.

Charge Wilful Violation of Child Labor Laws.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]
ALBANY (N. Y.) Feb. 12.—How children of tender years slave for hours in canning sheds, with their blistered fingers wrapped in rags, and likewise in tenements, making toys, flowers and plumes, and how women work in industrial establishments in this State, sometimes for mere pittances, is graphically described in the report of the State Factory Investigating Commission, which was submitted to the Legislature today.

The report says that canners operating in the rural districts never have obeyed the State child-labor law, "because they never have had to."

MERE BABIES AT WORK.

"Employment of mere babies," the commission holds, has been the result, and it adds that of 1259 children found at work in thirty-three sheds the eldest was 14 years old and the youngest was 3.

"Many of the canners," the report explains, "are opposed to the employment of children, and half of them do not resort to it, but as the canning industry largely is devoted to the exploitation of foreigners the parents of the children make them work."

THE WOMEN WORKERS.

Of women workers the report says: "No woman can work from sixteen to twenty-one hours a day for weeks, in some cases even months, without permanent injury to her health. Yet women are doing just this thing in the up-State canneries, in binderies and other factories, and in the shops during the six weeks' Christmas rush. In the large canneries the work keeps up pretty regularly for a season of four or five months. A week of 85.99 —in some cases 119¼ —working hours is not followed by a week of comparative rest, but by another almost as bad. And the pay averages 10 cents an hour."

The commission recommends the creation of an industrial board with power to make regulations to fit every industry.

THESE LANDS are in the northern part of Madera County, on the Santa Fe road, and just two miles from the town of Minturn, on the Southern Pacific railroad.

This tract of 3032 acres lies to the south of the Le Grand subdivision lands—to the west of the Sharon Lands, which are being subdivided by the Erckenbrecher Syndicate—to the north of the Fairmead Colonies, subdivided by the Co-Operative Land and Investment Co.—and to the east of the Chowchilla Lands, subdivided by the U. S. Farm Lands Co. All of these well known tracts sell for $150 per acre, and upward.

Every Acre You Buy for $57.50 Can Be Sold Readily for $150 and Upward

An Abundance of Water Every Day In the Year

There are no crop failures here from lack of water—the supply is fully adequate and can be depended upon the year 'round. Water for irrigation is obtained from a large river which borders the tract on the north and also from Ash Slough, on the south.

Additional water can be had from wells any place on this land, with a lift of only 20 feet.

Alfalfa and Seedless Vines Grow Here to Perfection

The soil in this district is of the San Joaquin sandy loam variety and is particularly adapted to the growing of alfalfa and seedless vines.

Here are two of the best paying farm products, and they both do extremely well in this section. The fertility of the soil—the ample water supply—the climatic conditions conduce to make farming profitable here.

Pitfalls

You can avoid all investment pitfalls by asking questions—by the use of good common sense and by refusing to put your money into any proposition that is new, untried and made up of promises. What you want is facts and results—make them prove their claims. Because some one else has built up a large, profitable and safe business in Los Angeles or elsewhere, or because a big demand or market exists for anything, is no guarantee that a new company can duplicate their success. Every new business is a speculation, and a new company is easily started for there are always plenty of men willing to experiment if others will furnish the money.

Large Salaries to Officials

One of the easiest and surest ways to loot a company is the voting of large salaries to the officers. This is a pitfall that every investor must guard against if he would protect his money.

The Men Behind Commonwealth

Are well known, representative men who are interested in various lines of business, and give what time is necessary to the company without receiving a salary or other compensation. They have paid the full price for every share of stock they own. It is a real co-operative company and every dollar has the same earning capacity.

Wasteful Advertising Excessive Selling Cost

Another pitfall that the investor should beware of is the stock jobbing methods employed by some concern—whose main object is to unload their stock. All they can give the investor in return for his money is an attractive certificate and plenty of promises of large future profits. It stands to reason that when a company pays 20 to 30 per cent. commission and spends at the rate of $50,000 to $75,000 a year to advertise its stock, that it has a selling expense of at least 50% or half the total money received and that it can hardly hope to make good. Therefore another question you should ask is "What have you spent to advertise your stock to date? What is your selling cost?"

Very Conservative in Everything

Everyone who reads the papers can't fail to realize that the "Commonwealth" is a very conservative advertiser. All our stock advertising is done in small space. The results produced prove conclusively that our judgment is correct and that the use of a moderate amount of advertising space is sufficient to advertise a high grade security, for we have sold two and one-half million shares (half of our total issue) in less than two years, to over 4250 shareholders, and we have our selling cost down to the minimum. Through the sincere co-operation of our many shareholders we have sold a large amount of shares at practically no cost and although our shareholders reside in every State of the union, Germany, England, Panama Canal Zone, Hawaiian Islands, etc., we advertise in three Los Angeles papers only.

With the exception of the opening of a new tract, for which occasion we use large space for a week or ten days, we sell our houses and lots through the classified columns almost exclusively. This is possible because every tract is located in best residential sections where there is always a big demand for choice lots and beautiful homes.

TO MARCH IN CHAINS.
CINCINNATI WOMAN'S PLAN.

[BY FEDERAL (WIRELESS) LINE TO THE TIMES.]

CINCINNATI, Feb. 12.—[Special Dispatch.] Miss Anna Hall, a prominent Cincinnati suffragist, will march in chains in the suffragette parade in Washington on Inaugural Day.

This information was made public today at a meeting of the Susan B. Anthony Club, which will march in the parade along with the Twentieth Century Club of this city.

Miss Hall at present is in Columbus and a letter from her read at the club meeting this afternoon disclosed her intention to march in the parade.

"I shall represent a prisoner weighed down with a ball and chain because that is the way Ohio women are shackled by the inadequacy of Ohio laws, which do not permit women to vote," Miss Hall wrote.

Madero Strengthens.

buildings. Reports came to the cable office that many women and girls had been attacked by these bloodthirsty fiends. It seemed impossible that any hand could stay their work of rapine and murder.

DIAZ IN COMMAND.

Diaz's one purpose was to get within range of the palace. Seeing prisoners pouring from Belem, Diaz at once assumed command there, and, placing two small field pieces on the roof of the prison, opened fire on the Palace. As near as could be judged, seven shells struck the building, and later reports came that five persons there had been killed. It was also said that in the fire across the American buildings that two women, named Griffiths, and Holmes, had been killed. I cannot verify these reports at this time.

NOONDAY CONFERENCE.

At noon firing suddenly ceased, and a conference was said to have been arranged between Gen. Huerta, commanding the Federals, and Col. Diaz, but no conference was held as firing was resumed within ten minutes. The first shell sent down Ayuntamiente street struck a building occupied by Americans. Another hit the American hospital, and a small building across the street was set on fire.

A small building adoining the cable office was hit by a shell, and a great hole torn through it, though the cable office was not damaged. One venturesome correspondent, a British subject, arrived at the cable office shortly after noon, and reported that the British embassy had been hit three times, but no one was injured. He said the Porter Hotel, where many Americans were quartered, had part of the portico torn away by a shell. The Federals, evidently in a move to draw the rebels from the great Alameda Park, shifted their fire. Shells screeched over the skyscrapers and many of these buildings were hit. The Y.M.C.A. building was wrecked. It was hit hard in yesterday's fighting. This move of the government caused several of the foreign ministers, including the American, German and British, to call upon President Madero and demand a cessation of hostilities. Their demand, however, went unheeded. One of the American women killed, Mrs. Griffiths, had both legs torn off by a bursting shell.

FIRING CEASES.

Shortly after 1 o'clock all heavy firing ceased, and from then until darkness began to settle nothing but an occasional rifle shot was heard.

Col. Diaz and his officers at once set about to strengthen their positions at the arsenal and the Alameda Park. Reports were received that 2500 Zapatistas were on their way into the city, and would arrive during the night. They would, it was believed, assist Diaz in what is generally believed will be the final struggle tomorrow.

As to the dead and injured, I can give nothing but conjecture. Many streets were blocked by bodies, while great numbers were also killed while seeking refuge in buildings that were struck and destroyed by shells.

The rioting and looting of the convicts ceased, as soldiers on both sides began to patrol their respective districts.

GEN. MAUS HURRIED TO HIS COMMAND.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

VANCOUVER BARRACKS (Wash.) Feb. 12.—Brig.-Gen. Marion P. Maus received tonight orders from the War Department to proceed to Albany, N. Y., at once, there to take command of the first brigade of the first division of the United States army.

Under the reorganization plan of the War Department Gen. Maus had previously been ordered to assume command at Albany after the abolishing of the Department of Columbia February 15, and he expected to leave Vancouver about March 1. It is understood here that the first brigade will be one of the first to be ordered to Mexico should occasion necessitate the sending of troops to that country.

MARE ISLAND READY TO SHIP WAR MATERIAL.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

VALLEJO (Cal.) Feb. 12.—Fourteen field guns and a large quantity of ammunition and other supplies are being held at Mare Island Navy Yard for immediate shipment to ships bounds for the Mexican Coast. The shipment was prepared upon a telegraphic request from Rear-Admiral W. H. H. Southerland, Commander-in-chief of the Pacific Fleet. It is probable the shipment will be made on the collier Justin, which is due here Sunday.

A rumor was current here today that the cruisers California and Maryland had received rush orders to proceed to Mexico. The report, according to officials, is without foundation, as both vessels are undergoing repairs.

Consul General Arnold and His Staff Break Down Two Doors in Exit From Building.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

MEXICO CITY, Feb. 12.—The escape of Consul-General Arnold Shanklin and his staff from the American Consul building during the seven-hour battle between the Federal troops and the rebels in the streets of Mexico City yesterday, was a sensational one.

Mr. Shanklin broke down two doors and was thus enabled to pass into and through an adjoining building and to make his exit on a cross street.

The Consul-General and his staff carried with them a wounded man who had been brought into the Consulate building for temporary treatment.

MEXICAN SHELLS SLAY TWO AMERICAN WOMEN

Terrific Bombardment Sweeps Streets of the Capital; Both Diaz and Madero Disregarding Protests of Diplomats—Heavier Guns to Be Used Today in Effort to Reduce Arsenal to Ruins.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

MEXICO CITY, Feb. 13.—The bombardment, which was terrible yesterday, reached a climax this morning when Diaz shelled the very center of the business districts in an effort to silence the cannon of the government and drive from the roofs of the Taylor building the Federal sharpshooters and the men serving the machine guns.

This terrific action directed from the arsenal continued for more than two hours. Shrapnel fell like hail and occasionally bursting shells tore holes in the sides of building.

Meanwhile the fire from the opposite direction rendered the far out residence district uninhabitable, as well as the big apartment building known as Gore Court, on Third Roma street.

The Federal guns replied occasionally, but without serious damage to the rebel positions. It was this action which decided the diplomats, after communicating with their governments, to protest against the continuation of such operations, which they characterized as unsanctioned by the laws of warfare of civilized nations.

President Madero and his ministers agreed that the bombardment of cities was barbarous, and especially such a struggle as now was going on between forces of artillery, and the Minister of War, acting in accord with the President and the Cabinet, sent to Gen. Diaz a protest, declaring that if he persisted the government would regard all those occupying the arsenal as beyond the pale of the law.

HEAVIER GUNS TODAY.

Immediately after the dispatch of this message, the Finance Minister, Ernesto Madero, speaking for the President, said that it had been determined to crush the rebels by a concerted attack, the government using the heaviest guns available and bringing to a swift end the next big action, when the fighting was resumed. He declared that the government would bring into play heavier guns than they had yet employed and would force the attack from all sides.

The text of the note sent by the War Minister, Gen. Garcia Pena, to the rebel commander, is as follows:

"The artillery fire coming from you is causing danger to the life and interests of non-combatants and to the lives of the foreign residents and diplomatic ministers.

"As this is in flagrant violation of the laws of war of civilized nations, I notify you that if you do not limit your fire to the zone of combatants we will consider outside the law all those who occupy the arsenal when that position is taken by our forces.

"The government will be inflexible in complying with the duty toward compelling you to keep the peace, but upon you will rest the responsibility in history and before the Mexican nation, if by your anti-patriotic attitude, you cause grave injury to the country."

FOREIGNERS SEEK REFUGE.

Not doubting the intentions of the government to resume the action on an augmented scale and reminded from moment to moment by the desultory and scattered firing from both sides that the homes in almost every quarter of the city would be rendered unsafe, the foreigners, particularly the Americans, British and Germans, sent automobiles under white flags this afternoon to collect the women and children and transfer them to the section around the American embassy, which is considered relatively free from danger. An American guard is on duty at the embassy, and foreign residents without visible arms patrol this quarter, because of the total absence of police.

AMERICAN WOMEN SHOT.

Americans again suffered today during the height of the battle. Mrs. H. W. Holmes, the wife of an employee of Dun's agency, and Mrs. Percy Grimths, the wife of an employee of the street railway company, were killed. Allie Bland, a printer, was shot through the arm.

Mrs. Holmes and Mrs. Grimths were preparing dinner in their kitchens in an apartment building close to the arsenal when a shell from the Federal lines burst through the walls, instantly killing Mrs. Holmes and leaving Mrs. Grimths in a dying condition. Bland was walking along Independencia avenue when he was struck by a rifle ball, apparently from the Federal lines.

The Americans wounded in yesterday's action are improving.

MADERO AND DIAZ EVASIVE.

The protest of the diplomats took the form of a demand that the firing zone should be limited, but it accomplished nothing. Both Madero and Diaz evaded responsibility, each placing the blame on the other and characterizing the attitude of the opposing side as barbarous and in violation of the rules of civilized warfare.

To President Madero the diplomats recited the great damage done, and that the American Consulate had been demolished by government shells and pointed out that the American embassy was filled with Americans driven from their homes by a bombardment of which no notice had been given. All the governments, they added, were deeply concerned for their subjects and citizens.

MADERO EMBARRASSED.

Ambassador Wilson later, speaking for the diplomats, said that President Madero was visibly embarrassed and confused, but attempted to place the responsibility on Diaz. The President had given some glowing accounts of the measures which were to be taken and expressed the opinion that the rebellion would be quelled by tomorrow night.

Ambassador Wilson declared that Madero's words had not made a favorable impression on the diplomatic representatives.

To Gen. Diaz the ministers, after urging the establishment of a neutral zone, said that much damage had been done by indiscriminate and reckless firing, which seemingly was directed over parts mainly occupied by foreigners, regardless of the danger to the foreign inhabitants.

Ambassador Wilson told him that war vessels had been ordered to both Gulf and Pacific ports, and transports had been prepared to convey marines, who if necessary would be brought to the capital for the purpose only of maintaining order and affording protection to the lives and property of the foreign residents.

DIAZ ON DEFENSIVE.

Gen. Diaz replied that he regretted what had happened to the city, its inhabitants; that his artillery the beginning was one of defense instead of attacking the enemy at a distance as the government troops ing, he had gone directly to the and taken it in twenty-four

In so doing, he explained, he heart the desire to cause the harm, which was shown from that, while it was in his power refrained from going to the Palace, which he now full will be able to take if the fails to yield, without to that expedient.

Gen. Diaz declared that a matter of personal ambition part to overthrow the government a desire to voice the sentiment the whole nation. If he would allow the people to choose representative; he would private life.

Referring to the firing, that the government had cannon disregarding the many were in position in the populated sections. Most age done by these shots which fell short.

GERMAN KAISER ONCE A FARMER.

Tells How He Raised Value of His Meadow Land.

Produced Superior Cattle by System of Breeding.

All Food Supplies Can Be Grown in Empire.

[BY CABLE AND A. P. TO THE TIMES.]

BERLIN, Feb. 12.—Emperor Wilhelm gave an interesting account of his experiences as a farmer in an informal speech delivered today before the German Agricultural Council. He went into details in regard to the improvements he had made on his estate at Kadinen.

Since 1907 he has increased the value of the land from $500 to $650 an acre, because reclaiming 400 acres of meadow land which previously had produced practically nothing. It gave 216 tons of hay, besides pasturing twenty to eighty cattle in 1910. In 1911 it yielded 450 tons of hay and pastured 120 cattle and ninety horses.

TO CONTINUE EXPERIMENTS.

The Emperor said: "I intend continuing these experiments on another tract of land from which I have discharged the tenant because he was 'no good.' The Emperor then narrated the results he had obtained by introducing a variety of rye hitherto unknown in East Prussia. He said:

"The neighboring farmers, whose rye had been badly treated, saw with astonishment my rye standing with erect like the lances of my Uhlans. When in the autumn the grain was hauled in, the farmers congregated before my barn and fairly cackled each other to get seed. I did excellent business with that rye. Before the reclamation was undertaken this land produced 600 loads, but afterward it yielded a larger amount."

NEW BREED OF CATTLE.

The Emperor then referred to his experiments in crossing Zebu with German cattle, saying the crossbreeds produced remarkably strong oxen. He explained that he hoped to develop a faster breed of oxen "which will get home the harvest wagon in quicker time."

The Emperor concluded:

"After my experience, it is beyond all doubt that the German farmers are able to supply Germany's entire need, not only now, but when we have an increased population in the future."

what had happened to the city and its inhabitants; that his attitude from the beginning was one of defense; that instead of attacking the arsenal from a distance as the government was doing, he had gone directly to the place and taken it in twenty-five minutes.

In so doing, he explained, he had at heart the desire to cause the city as little harm, which was shown from the fact that, while it was in his power, he had refrained from going to the National Palace, which he now felt certain he will be able to take if the government fails to yield, without his resorting to that expedient.

Gen. Diaz declared that it was not a matter of personal ambition on his part to overthrow the government, but a desire to voice the sentiment of the whole nation. If he succeeded he would allow the people to choose their representative; he would withdraw to private life.

Referring to the firing, Diaz said that the government had placed the cannon disregarding the fact that many were in position in the thickly populated sections. Most of the damage done by these guns was from shots which fell short.

LOOTING BY MOB.

Stories of occasional robbery and looting by small mobs were reported today, but for the most part the criminal as well as the law-abiding element were too terrified by the incidents of the last two days to do anything but seek places of safety. Business houses, banks and restaurants are closed and not even a railway ticket is to be bought in the city town offices.

OPERATORS AS HEROES.

The offices of the cable companies have been kept open throughout the fighting, however, even when shrapnel was beating in on all sides. When a shell tore a gaping hole in the iron shutters over the windows the force of Mexican operators continued without interruption the work of receiving and sending tables not five feet away.

The residents of Gore Court evacuated only after two shells had burst into the big apartment house.

TERRIBLE BOMBARDMENT.

Dozens of buildings show great jagged holes, broken cornices and torn-off corners, while hundreds bear more insignificant marks of what has been the most terrible bombardment any city in North America has been subjected to since the advent of modern high power cannon. In the streets the overhead wires dangle from posts, the fire from one side to the other having sheared off many of the supports. In the Alameda, the great wooded park in the center of the city, the trees were mowed down by the vicious fire; small twigs and limbs cover the ground in places, evidence of the heaviness of the musketry fire.

Among the buildings damaged is that of the Mutual Life Insurance Company, in the side of which a great hole was torn. Over the building during the battle the British and American flags were flying. Most of the buildings suffering the greatest damage are owned by Mexicans, but many offices in them are occupied by Americans and other foreigners.

NATIONAL THEATER DAMAGED.

Considerable damage was done to the National Theater, now under construction. It was at this point that the rebels dismounted a Federal cannon. Another, five squares beyond, so was dismounted, as were others in the northwest. This evidence of expert marksmanship on the part of the gunners in the rebel ranks further was demonstrated in the case of the shrapnel fire over the higher buildings in the center of the city. The operations were intended to free the district from troublesome snipers and machine guns. One section of these were in the tower of the central police station, a few blocks from the Gore office building was used for the same purpose, while other structures within the same area bored little quick-firers.

Government Makes Sensational Charges Against Cleveland Company, Declaring That It Induces Architects in Preparing Plans to Specify Product of Its Quarries.

CLEVELAND (O.) Feb. 12.—Sensational charges are contained in a civil anti-trust suit for the dissolution of the Cleveland Stone Company, and its subsidiaries, filed here today by order of Atty.-Gen. Wickersham.

The Cleveland Stone Company, organized in 1886, is capitalized at $4,000,000. George H. Worthington is president, J. H. Wade, vice-president, and Edward W. Merritt, secretary-treasurer.

It is charged that the Cleveland Stone Company is accustomed "by a money consideration or by conferring favors in different ways," to induce architects preparing plans and specifications for contemplated buildings to specify stone quarries by the company thereby excluding competitors from bidding, although they may have quarries in the same stratum of stone of precisely the same quality as that specified. Under this influence, it is alleged, these architects pretended to act solely for the benefit of the contractor or builder.

MONOPOLY IN STONE.

The so-called trust, the government charges, is also declared to have a practical monopoly of the business in sandstone and limestone for building purposes in some sections of Illinois, Indiana, Kentucky, Michigan, Missouri, Ohio and Pennsylvania, although it does not quarry and sell as much as 50 per cent. in that territory as a whole.

Beware of Imitations

While substitution is not a part of modern merchandising, it is still practiced to a greater or less degree by a few merchants who haven't the courage to compete with their fellows along legitimate, fair, lines, or who do not care for their customers' health, but their own profits only.

Substitutes Are Dangerous

And any merchant who practices substitution is unworthy of the public's confidence.

When a remedy has been before the public for more than half a century, has been prescribed and used by the best doctors and in prominent hospitals, when it has carried the blessings of health into as many thousands of homes of the sick as Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey has, imitations are bound to arise. Be sure you get the genuine.

Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey

Made for Medicinal Purposes Only.

It is free from injurious substances usually found in beverage whiskies. It has given remarkable results in the prevention and relief of all throat, lung and stomach troubles and all wasting and diseased conditions for over 50 years.

Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey is the only whiskey that was taxed by the Government as a medicine during the Spanish War.

INSIST ON GETTING DUFFY'S. The genuine is sold in sealed bottles only. The "Old Chemist's Head" is on the label and over the cork is an engraved seal. Be certain seal is unbroken. Sold by druggists, grocers and dealers, $1.00 a large bottle.

The Duffy Malt Whiskey Co., Rochester, N. Y.

MONDAY -- NIGHT

SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA HOME BUILDERS

Next Monday is the last day you can buy our shares at 27½ cents.

On Tuesday these shares will be 30 cents.

The reason for this advance is the proving of the water conditions on the 7200 acres this Company owns in the Coachella Valley.

Our first well has been completed, and its capacity is greater than had been estimated.

The location of this well determines the water supply for the entire tract, and shows that ample water is there at a shallow depth.

It is estimated that the value of this body of land, which was bought at a low price, has been increased by at least $25 per acre.

As the purpose is to place this land on the market in small tracts, with water, the profits should be very good, even at a moderate selling price.

In purchasing this land, little consideration was given to its value for date cultivation, but competent authorities say it is the best in the Southwest for that purpose.

Should this prove true, as seems entirely probable, the increase in value will be much more than estimated above.

We are frank about this as we have been in every statement from the beginning.

We believe there is great strength for a Company of this character in having a large number of shareholders, whose influence can be properly and rightly used for the benefit of the business.

This is our reason for preferring to distribute our shares in small amounts among thousands of investors, and the actual business progress made in the past eleven months bears out the soundness of this policy.

$1.25 with subscription, and $1.25 monthly pays for each 100 shares. Take more, or pay cash if you prefer.

Kindly do not wait until the last minute. Only subscriptions that are in our office, or in the mails before midnight, Monday, Feb. 17, can be accepted at 27½c.

FOR SALE—
Diversified Crops, Money-Making Crops on the Orosi Farms.
We are pleased to advise our clients and friends that the orange trees planted last June on our demonstration farm were not hurt by the "worst freeze in 20 years" and even in many cases have become escaped injury. This experience emphasizes the advantage of the Orosi district in Tulare county as a Naval orange territory, because our oranges will be ripe weeks earlier than in Southern California and are shipped by Dec. 15.
The freeze also teaches the advantage of diversified crops. The Orosi Farms soil is choice for oranges, and it is also adapted to the growing of peaches, olives, figs, Thompson's seedless grapes, melons, berries, Turkish tobacco, alfalfa, etc. We will be glad to quote specific instances showing that the above crops yield $100 to $200 an acre.
With such returns possible, our lands cannot long remain at $125-$200 an acre. We offer choice inducements as to location. We will accept ¼ cash and wait six years for the balance.
Don't get scared. Grow oranges, but grow other crops as well. Twenty acres well tilled means luxury.

BUSINESS INVESTMENTS—

MY PARTNER AND MYSELF ARE BUILDERS in Los Angeles on a large scale. We have now 45 neat, modern, artistic bungalows, either just completed or under course of construction, which are selling at big profits as soon as built, and when all finished will net more than $40,000 profit. We are not spending all our profits in big offices and fine display, but are saving at every turn and have very moderate expenses. In order to handle the detail of this business, we must incorporate and need to associate with us a good, honest, industrious man or woman to help either at the tract or in the office, who can invest $5000 or more, and to whom we will give a fine salary and an interest in the business. The money will be fully secured. There is absolutely no risk, with big profits. A plain, ordinary man or woman can attend to all the necessary duties, only common sense needed. We are both honest and straightforward, and desire to deal with the same kind of a person. For personal interview, address V, box 427, TIMES BRANCH OFFICE.

SEVEN CROPS OF ALFALFA ARE CUT HERE EVERY YEAR.

Do you wonder that one man is now plowing and planting 600 acres to alfalfa at LAKE ELSINORE FARMS with alfalfa now bringing between $23 and $25 a ton? There are just four requirements that establish the preeminence of an ALFALFA TERRITORY:

Rich, responsive soil. Abundance of water.
Level lay of the land. And Availability of Water.

The ALFALFA TERRITORY of Lake Elsinore Farms answers EVERY requirement.

Its SOIL is not only rich and responsive; but it costs the very minimum to prepare and plant to ALFALFA.

Its surface is as smooth as any rancher could desire—requiring no leveling.

Its WATER is not only ABUNDANT, but it is carried through an underground pipe to every portion of the land.

The battleships Wyoming, Utah, Florida, Arkansas, North Dakota, Michigan, South Carolina, Minnesota, Idaho and Ohio, seventeen torpedo-boat destroyers and many auxiliary craft of the Atlantic fleet, remain with Rear-Admiral Badger, commanding the Atlantic fleet at Guantanamo.

ZONES OF SAFETY.

It is the feeling of the administration that these plans embody all that can be done at this time, and that a sufficient number of warships have been dispatched, not only to observe developments, but practically to create neutral zones at ports where they lie, in which Americans and other foreigners in Mexico may find safety.

NICARAGUAN PRECEDENT.

It has been suggested in some quarters that to land troops in Mexico would be such an act of war as could be justified only with the approval of Congress. Many military officers fail to see any distinction between such landing of troops on foreign soil in case of anarchy and the employment of marines for the same purpose as was done in Nicaragua recently.

UP TO CONGRESS.

To meet the constitutional objection, in case the transports were sent to Vera Cruz, it is understood that the commanding officers would be instructed not to land troops except on Congressional authorization. Their presence on the coast, it is felt, doubtless would have a strong moral effect upon the contending factions in Mexico, and more than a week's time would be saved in placing the soldiers just where they would be needed in case danger to foreign lives and property should become more imminent.

Unless one side or the other achieve a decisive victory in the City of Mexico within the next day or two, it is probable that Ambassador Wilson will be instructed to try to induce the American residents of the capital to go to the ports or other places of safety and the representatives of other foreign nations are expected to do the same. One great element of danger in the situation arises from the presence in the City of Mexico of about 17,000 foreigners whose home governments are known to be in receipt of many heart-rending appeals for assistance. Recognizing the disposition of the United States government to extend the same protection to these Europeans and Asiatics as to its own citizens, so far none of the diplomatic representatives of the foreign powers in Washington have done more than make a few inquiries at the State Department as to the actual situation in the Mexican capital.

NON-INTERVENTION DIFFICULT.

A wholesale evacuation of the city by the foreign element would involve an enormous financial loss, and looking to the precedents established in the Civil War, it is doubtful whether any compensation could be exacted from the government that exists after the close of hostilities in Mexico. Altogether, it is apparent, that the administration is likely to find it very difficult to adhere strictly to this declared policy of non-intervention, if the situation in the City of Mexico is not materially changed for the better in a very short time.

To add to the difficulty in keeping in close touch with the situation, word came to the State Department late today from Consul Garrett at Laredo, Tex., that all wires were down south of Monterey and that communication between Laredo and that point could be had only by way of Mior. A complete severance of telegraphic communication between the United States and its Embassy in the City of Mexico at this critical juncture easily might bring about a change in policy on the part of the administration, at least to the extent of opening up a line of communication between the Mexican capital and Admiral Fletcher's ships at Vera Cruz by a naval expedition, if necessary.

MAY HIRE TRANSPORTS.

Galveston, Tex., would be the port of departure of the artillery forces and some cavalry in the event that it were necessary to follow up the first brigade. The original intention was to employ four army transports for that purpose, after they had discharged the first brigade on foreign shores, but this would be done only in case it is found impossible to secure the merchant marine ships to carry the artillery and cavalry. By orders issued by the General Staff this morning, the senior military officers near Galveston began immediately to get in touch with merchant ship owners to see what could be gotten on short notice.

Soncuis at Laredo and Ensenada report all quiet in their sections. Under instructions from the State Department, Consul Guyant at Ensenada secured the release by the Mexican authorities at Tia Juana of the American, Rankin, who was wounded by a sentry, and he has been sent across the border to the hospital in San Diego, Cal.

WHITE HOUSE CONFERENCE.

Secretary Stimson had an early conference with President Taft in the White House during which he advised the President of the preparedness of the army to carry out the plans formulated last night.

"There is nothing new to be said," he declared, "at the end of his talk with the President. "The situation is the same as last night."

Secretary Knox and Secretary Stimson went into conference wurther with President Taft after luncheon at the White House. It was announced that Secretary Stimson, who had planned to accompany the President to Philadelphia, would remain in Washington, to be in close touch with the situation and keep the President informed.

At the close of the conference they said they had reviewed the situation to President Taft and that there was nothing new to announce.

Secretary Knox also decided to forego the Philadelphia dinner to be at his office and consult with Secretary Stimson throughout the day and night.

HOPE FOR TRUCE.

Fighting in the heart of Mexico City endangering thousands of lives is looked upon with apprehension, but army men and students of international law declare this condition may be justifiable if the Madero government finds it necessary to fight for its own existence.

Although Ambassador Wilson was joined yesterday by the entire diplomatic body in the City of Mexico in his protest against the conduct of hostilities in the streets, it is said here that the only immediate step that can be taken in the interest of the safety of the foreign element would be the issue of an appeal by Mr. Wilson and the other diplomatic representatives to the citizens of the various powers, to withdraw to Vera Cruz, where they would be under the protection of the various ships. The military commanders on both sides undoubtedly would interpose no obstacle to the departure of the foreign population and would give them safe conduct to the coast.

It is hoped in official circles here that such a precaution may be made unnecessary, either by the arrangement of a truce between the combatants through the offices of such men as Senor de la Barra or by a conclusive victory by one side or the other that would leave the city in the absolute possession of a faction strong enough to maintain order.

ALERT FOR MUTINY AT AGUA PRIETA.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

DOUGLAS (Ariz.) Feb. 12.—Troops on border patrol here are on the alert, as a mutiny of the Federal garrison at Agua Prieta, the Mexican town opposite Douglas, is predicted.

Four troops of the Ninth Cavalry at Nogales, were ordered today to mobilize with the regiment here. The Fifth Cavalry is to relieve them at Nogales.

ASK CONGRESSIONAD INQUIRY.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 12.—A Congressional investigation as to conditions prevailing in the strike zone of the West Virginia coal fields is asked for in a telegram received by the Senate today. The telegram was signed by H. S. Piegel of Avery, Iowa, secretary of Local No. 242, United Mineworkers of America. It was referred to the Senate Committee on Education and Labor.

DIAZ TO UNITE WITH OROZCO?

Salazar Directs Assistance to the Uprising.

Surging Mob Fills Streets of Chihuahua.

Moctezuma Rebels Attempt to Dynamite Train.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

EL PASO (Tex.) Feb. 12.—Local rebel agents rejoiced today in the receipt of two letters indicating a union of action between the Diaz revolt in the national capital and the revolution in the north. One came from an agent at Mexico City, who said the Diaz element was in sympathy with the Orozco revolution and called on the northern revolutionists to send delegates at once to the national capital.

In the event of Madero's downfall, the letter said, a congress would be held at Mexico City of delegates from all revolutionary parties.

The other letter, which was signed by Pascual Orozco, Jr., the missing commander-in-chief of the northern revolution, was directed to Gen. Inez Salazar, acting leader, and asked that all moral assistance be offered to the Diaz uprising, recommending that all hostilities toward the Federal troops be abandoned unless the rebel positions were contested. Orozco is said to be located below the New Mexico line, but his exact whereabouts are not made known.

AMMUNITION IS SEIZED.

That rebel activity is not altogether passive, however, was evidenced today when Gen. E. Z. Steever received a report of confiscation of ammunition near Presidio, Tex. United States troops of the border patrol seized 14,000 cartridges hidden in an old house near the border and evidently destined for rebels at Ojinaga, Chihuahua, just across the line.

Juarez, where the Federal garrison impatiently awaits developments at Mexico City, is again cut off from all communication with the interior by rebels who attempted to dynamite today's arriving passenger train, cut the railway and commercial telegraph wires not far below the border town. The result of the riots at Chihuahua City is not known here, as attempts have failed to secure communication by indirect routes.

RIOTING IN CHIHUAHUA.

Rioting broke out last night in Chihuahua City, the rioters shouting "vivas" for Felix Diaz's revolution, say passengers who arrived here early today from the State capital. It was not learned whether the Federal garrison had revolted.

Passengers reported that as the train passed through Chihuahua, a surging mob filled the streets. Volleys of shots were heard from the direction of the interior of the town.

Chihuahua is the headquarters of Gen. Antonio Rabago, Federal commander of the northern military zone, and 2000 Federal troops are stationed there.

No account of the Chihuahua outbreak has been conveyed over the telegraph lines, which are strictly censored, and the Federal commander at Juarez denies all knowledge of the affair.

REFUGEES POUR IN.

The passenger train arriving here today brought 200 American refugees, most of them from the Casas Grandes district. The passengers report that near Moctezuma on the Mexican Central, an attempt was made by 100 rebels to dynamite the train. The dynamite was discovered on the track, however, by the small body of troops guarding the train. A skirmish between the troops and the would-be dynamiters resulted in the capture of eight rebels, one of whom is a Swede from the United States. The rest of the revolutionists fled.

BANDITS PLAN HOLD-UP.

But Several Bite the Dust After Killing Five Rurales Before Arrival of the Train.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

LAREDO (Tex.) Feb. 12.—An express messenger, who arrived here tonight aboard a train from the south, reported that five rurales and several bandits were killed in a pitched battle at the town of Charcos, in the State of San Luis Potosi, just before the arrival of his train, which the outlaws had planned to hold up. When the train left Charcos, according to the messenger, the fight still was in progress, but the bandits were being driven toward the hills.

Cop Laughs.

AUTO BANDIT HOLDS UP FIFTEENTH STREET CAR.

ONE gasping old runabout bounding along the street, one masked bandit with a playful revolver, and one street car brought about the fifteenth and most sensational street car hold-up of the season last night.

Through the antics of the gay villain who frequents street car terminals, the art of banditry is developing into a hilarious but successful burlesque, say the police.

When car No. 703 of the West Adams street line was hurrying along to the end of the line about 10 o'clock last night, a roadster auto went bumping along Crenshaw boulevard, steering in the same direction as the car. The machine was so distinctive it aroused the attention of Motorcycle Policeman Ed LaNiece. Only one auto lung was going, but that sputtered and roared until it chipped the welkins, while its bearings rattled and groaned like influenza done into chains and ball bearings. One crazy light was leering in the rear. LaNiece though it was so funny, he stopped to laugh.

A few minutes later, the West Adams car moored at the end of the line. Conductor S. Warren went to the telephone to call his dispatcher. The telephone was plugged. It was the bandit's work. He appeared a minute later Warren started to turn his trolley pole.

The bandit "persuaded" Warren out of his watch and $20, all the change in the money belt. Then he told Warren to accompany him while he interviewed the motorman, J. M. Grazes.

When the bandit approached Grazes he told him tog et off the seat. Grazes was already off, being uncomfortable under the conditions. The bandit started to seat himself at the controller. He ordered the two men of the crew to get off the car.

Warren asked him what he intended to do. The bandit replied that he intended to take the car down the track for a few blocks—to where his auto was in waiting! He spoke of his auto as though he had a "regular" car in attendance.

Warren and Grazes begged him not to take the car. The bandit persisted. Then the two men told him that if the car was taken from them they would lose their jobs.

"You don't want to get us fired do you?" asked Warren. Grazes mentioned something about "a baby at home."

"Aw well," the bandit interrupted, "if you fellows are going to pull all this melodrama, you can have your car."

Warren and Grazes thanked him, and the bandit stretched his arms, yawned, and said: "Well, I guess I'll go down to my machine and run along."

A few minutes later Patrolman LaNiece, still smiling over the quaint auto with one weak eye, thought he heard it coming back down the road. Its noise was unmistakable, being more frantic than ever. Rocking like a rattlebox, it passed. Three minutes later LaNiece heard of the hold-up.

COMMISSION SUGGESTED.

The Building Ordinance Revision Commission is making slow progress on the task of revising the 217 ordinances now on the books and the drafting of new ordinances that will include various desirable features suggested by building ordinances of twenty or more of the largest cities of the United States. About fifty ordinances have been completed so far, and the work of the commission began last May. A suggestion which the commission is considering is that a permanent commission be created, composed of two or three architects and builders, whose duty it shall be to act in an advisory capacity on all petitions presented to the City Council for amendments or new features after the present revision is completed.

PERSONALS.

W. D. Long, one of the financial giants of Canada, known particularly for his extensive wool interests, is registered at the Lankershim with his sister, his nephew and niece. He is owner of a large shoe factory at Hamilton, principal owner of several other large commercial enterprises in various Canadian cities, of an iron foundry at Niagara Falls and a chemical manufacturing concern at Syracuse. Above any and all of these things, I was born in Missouri," said Long, a gray-haired, gray-bearded and good-natured giant who takes great pride in the fact that the "got-to-show-me" State is the one of his birth. "My grandmother started the first Sunday-school west of the Mississippi in the great Louisiana Purchase territory way back in 1803 and so I have reasonable right for my love for Missouri," he said. He is here on a pleasure trip and will remain over the winter months.

Hugh McKean, Philadelphia stock and bond broker, is visiting his uncle, George von Ache, president of the Southern California Hotel Men's Association and proprietor of the Occidental Hotel. "My best impression of Los Angeles is the spirit of cohesive boosting among the business men no matter what their political creeds or animosities," said the "Sleepy City" financier. "In eastern cities this spirit is in the majority of cases sadly lacking and gives answer to the question of retrogression instead of progression. It is the answer to the present growth of this city and the magnificent outlook for development in the future."

David Joyce and Mrs. David Joyce are occupying one of the most sumptuous suites at the Alexandria. Joyce is the son of a multi-millionaire lumberman of Chicago and was married only a few months ago and is still on his honeymoon. He is traveling with his machine, his chauffeur, valet and a pair of maids for his wife and is not overlooking any possible bets in the way of seeing all there is to be seen in Southern California. Another wealthy young man who is staying at the same hotel is Percy Wrayton, head of Wrayton & Co., jewelers of Malden Lane, New York.

William Stoppard is registered at the Hollenbeck from River Point, R. I., where he owns a large oyster farm. He is here to look into the West Coast oyster industry and ascertain the feasibility of planting some of the bivalves in local waters. John Rudin of Kansas City is at the same hotel. He operates one of the largest duck and goose feather factories in the world and many a head owes its soft pillow at the end of a day's labor to the industry of Rudin.

George Moerlein arrived at the Angelus yesterday and with his wife registered from Cincinnati. He is president of the Moerlein Brewing Company, which distributes its products throughout the civilized world. He has just returned from a hunting and fishing trip in Northern Mexico and in the waters around San Diego, and has brought back a number of valuable trophies of his skill with the rifle, rod and reel.

A party of prominent Chicago people registered at the Alexandria yesterday and are occupying several suites. At the head of the party is Judge Joseph Sabath, accompanied by his wife and other members are Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Schwetzer, Mr. and Mrs. James Kramer and Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph Libler. William Jones, a millionaire of Seattle, accompanied by Mrs. Jones, with his machine, arrived at the Alexandria yesterday for an extended stay. He is visiting his brother, Charles M. Jones, president of the Southern California Editorial Association.

W. M. Ridpath, proprietor of the Ridpath Hotel at Spokane, registered at the Hayward yesterday for a few days' visit in this city with old friends. Ridpath achieved considerable distinction in Washington by his refusal to use sheets exceeding nine feet in length and fighting his case into the highest courts when the State endeavored to enforce the law demanding an extra length sheet on all hotel beds. He has come here also to secure boosters among the tourists to bring them through the Northwest on their return from California in order to show them what that portion of the Pacific Coast is doing.

John W. Phillips of Oakland is making his home at the Angelus. He is one of the pioneers of California, having crossed the plains in memorable '49 and never lived for any length of time in any other State since his first arrival. He is owner of the Oakland stockyards and has other valuable property interests in the central portion of the State.

L. T. Elliott and J. A. McDowell are registered at the Westminster from Winnipeg. They are real estate operators who are investigating Los Angeles methods of subdivision, land values and other phases of the real estate business. "Land is cheaper in California today than it is around the Canadian cities, which to us seems surprising," said Elliott.

HALF-MILLION FOR CARS.

Hundred and Fifty Center-Entrance Variety Ordered by Los Angeles Railway—Innovations.

One hundred and fifty center-entrance cars, to cost approximately $500,000, have been ordered by the Los Angeles Railway from the St. Louis Car Company. Delivery is to begin in October. In addition the railway plans to convert 295 of its cars to center-entrance cars.

The car that serves as a model for the new class is to be placed in service today on the University and Central-avenue line. It seats ten persons more than the center-entrance car that has been in use the past two months and embodies some new ideas in car construction. One is the seating of the motorman in a box-like arrangement in the front right-hand corner, with a mirror on the side of the car set at an angle that enables him to see persons on the steps behind him. The steps from the entrance platform to the interior of the car are also eliminated, while the floors slope slightly toward either end, thus encouraging passengers to fill the ends first. The car steps are also lower than in the first center-entrance model.

When the rebuilding of the old cars is begun it is believed a car can be turned out every day.

SCENT EASY TO FOLLOW.

OXNARD, Feb. 12.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Thieves broke into the warehouse of the Lima Bean Growers' Association at El Rio between 12 and 3 o'clock last night and stole 108 bags of lima beans valued at over $400. The beans were taken to Montalvo to be shipped to Los Angles, the thieves making several trips. The late hauling attracted the attention of a bridge watchman who notified the officers. One of the men was caught with the beans at Montalvo and two more in a livery stable here. The horses they had fitted the description of the horses used last night in hauling the beans. A pinch bar in their possession fits the impression in the window of the warehouse.

DIRECTORS OUST THEIR MANAGER.

MEET, FIRE PRESIDENT, AND PASS RESOLUTION.

Although Holiday Sign Is Displayed, Offices of Conservative Investment Company Are Open and Rush of Investors Continues All Day—Receivership.

Three of the four directors of the Conservative Investment Company met last night, ousted Theodore Wiesendanger as president and general manager of the concern, and passed a resolution to file suit against Wiesendanger to recover such of his 5,500,000 of the 10,000,000 shares of the company, as represent excessive valuation on property turned over by him to the corporation. It was also decided to file a plea for a receivership. Wiesendanger is expected to return today from Arizona.

It was women's day yesterday at the office of the company, No. 408 West Sixth street. All day persons singly and in groups, passed into the office of the concern under the gently swinging sign, "Shares 45 cents"—the full insinuating significance of which may only be understood when it is remembered that these figures represent a 125 per cent advance over the par value of the company's stock—to conduct private investigations regarding the company's condition. There were men in the intermittent procession, but it was the women, seemingly, who were most anxious, outnumbering the men three to one.

In spite of the sign, conspicuously displayed, "Closed, Legal Holiday," the place was open. The rush of investors began early and continued well through the day. No money was received—none was offered, so far as known—the directors taking the stand that the company is legally insolvent.

GREAT PAVING PLANS.

EL CENTRO, Feb. 12.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Five miles of paved streets in El Centro will be constructed within the next ninety days. The City Trustees held a meeting last night and adopted plans and specifications and advertisements were authorized for bids which will insure the construction of pavement and sidewalks. El Centro has grown wonderfully during the past three years. Today the "Box Car City" of three or four years ago leads all Imperial Valley by a safe margin, and a very few cities in Southern California exceed it from a commercial standpoint. About 5000 persons reside within the city limits and the number is only limited to this number because there are not sufficient buildings to house the new arrivals.

Perfectly Charming Are the New Chiffon Waists at $6.50

For afternoon wear, or semi-dress occasions the New Waist styles are indeed most likeable. And, were they the original French models, instead of exact copies, two or three times the price we ask would not buy them.

The Chiffon is accordion plaited over a net foundation with trimmings of shadow lace. A touch of wide, bright colored ribbon shows half way down the front and extends around on either side under the chiffon, simulating a band for girdle. Colors are grays, blues, also white and black.

OVER TWO THOUSAND WOMEN VICTIMIZED?

Clothing Clubbers Get Lot of Money, Then Get Nervous.

Amazing Collections Covering Practically Entire City Disclosed by Disappearance of South Broadway Establishment's Operators—Investigation Under Way by Police and Arrests Expected Today.

STORMING the offices of the Great Eastern Suit Company, on the second floor at No. 627 South Broadway, 300 angry women sought Louis Treaner and Charles Launer, proprietors, and caused an expose last night, the police say, of a conspiracy which has no known parallel here. More than 2000 women are asserted to have been victimized to the extent of many thousand dollars within a few months.

Detectives last night scoured the city for trace of the missing men, and a clew as to the whereabouts of one of them is supposed to have been found. While the two men named are declared to be the principals the authorities say others are known to have been involved, and a number of arrests are expected.

It developed also that the City Prosecutor's office, investigating the concern for the past six weeks—with women detectives acting as "dupes"—had procured the books of the company, but later returned these on solicitation of Treaner & Launer's counsel, permitted the firm to continue business and then allowed the men to disappear.

Policewoman Gilbert is handling the case with several assistants. For some unexplained reason the City Prosecutor's office has thrown great mystery about the whole affair, although it was acknowledged last night that at least 600 complaints have been received from women who say they have been defrauded, and that officers seek the missing men.

The suffragettes' raid on London—to use the modern phrasing—had nothing on the wild scramble of the skirted and noisy militants who stormed the citadel of the suit company.

Treaner & Launer, as a firm, according to complaints lodged with the City Prosecutor, opened a "spacious and palatial" establishment to cater, sartorially, to women—man-tailored suits at $2 down and $1 a week. The number of weeks depended.

THROWING OUT BAIT.

According to Attorney Miles of Sparks & Miles, who, until the attack on the citadel, were legal representatives of the firm, solicitors were sent broadcast over the residence districts of the city, door-to-door canvassing.

"We have a suit club here," explained he of the glib tongue, spats and cane. "You come in for two bones. Each week we have a drawing and one member of the club wins a suit. If you don't win the first week you pay $1 the second week, another $1 the third week, and so on until you do win or have paid in $20. If you have paid in this sum without having won one of our $50 man-tailored, made-to-fit-you-like-a-glove suits we give you one. Can you resist it?"

Few could. The shekels rolled in. Business boomed. A few suits were handed out here and there and when some suspicious husband began asking questions the talkative young man of the spats would say,

"Mrs. So and So of No. such-and-such won the suit last week. Call her up. Ask her what she thinks of it."

One of the best tailors in town having made the suit referred to, Mrs. So-and-So, not knowing wat a part she played in the comedy of finance, until she had been besieged by a few hundred telephone calls, would talk earnestly and enthusiastically.

Finally after many women had paid in the full double eagle and the coveted man-made broadcloth didn't seem any nearer, they grew suspicious. Revolt threatened. Hatpins were sharpened. The march of the militants began.

The citadel was reached. Arms steeled by kitchen scrubbing, baby spanking and hubby greeting forced the door. There was a shriek.

Empty show rooms.

From a cupboard peeped a pair of frightened, feminine eyes. From the cupboard came a timid voice.

"COMPANY'S GONE."

"The company's gone—both Treaner and Launer. I'm here alone—just the office girl. May I come out without fear?"

Treaner and Launer had evacuated the stronghold.

Just where they went is a matter of broad conjecture. If their tastes are esthetic they could indulge in a jaunt to Europe in search of antiques—they certainly are not short of funds.

Or, they might be found indulging Little Bohemia in a few cold bottles and a few warm birds along the Barbary Coast, across the Tehachepi.

That will be one of the first places the police of San Francisco will look for them, notice having been sent there with descriptions which would indicate they are one of Bohemian dispositions.

Attorney Miles, who says he got a fat retainer from the "boys," and that they are not only fastidious, but liberal, wishes to make it plain that so far as his firm is concerned, Treaner & Launer are now without legal representation.

Also it is he who brings out the fact that the City Prosecutor's office weeks ago was "tipped" to the operations of the Great Eastern Suit Company and that the books of the house were confiscated by that office.

PROSECUTOR "WORKED?"

"But!" says miles, "after we got the retainer we went to the City Prosecutor, asked him to give the boys a chance, told him of their thriving business and informed him that they were even willing to give $500 bond. They got the books back. The bond was not required. They did business a while longer.

"Then they skipped.

"Where they have gone is as much mystery to us as it is to the women. There's one particular woman would

Did You Think Oranges Were Scarce?

For the San Bernardino Orange Show.

In the center are some of the pretty girls who bombarded the city with fresh-picked oranges from the vicinity of the Gate City. Above is John Anderson, president of the National Orange Show, and below is Mayor Bright of San Bernardino.

Yellow Rain.

QUEENS OF THE DESERT GATE IN GOLDEN REIGN.

Pretty Girls from San Bernardino Bombard Los Angeles With Oranges—City Promptly Capitulates to Half a Thousand Boosters for a Citrus Show and Industry That Are Bigger and Better Than Ever.

FIVE HUNDRED boosters from San Bernardino, fifty of them lovely girls, invaded Los Angeles yesterday and pelted the city with oranges fresh-plucked in the citrus belt. Nearly 100 automobiles decked in orange and white and, carrying bright streamers advertising the National Orange Show passed through the downtown streets.

Pretty girls and stately matrons tossed handfuls of the golden fruit into the crowd as the machines passed along. Altogether 100 boxes were thus disposed of. After the parade, the San Bernardino boosters were the guests of Manager John S. Mitchell at the Hollenbeck. Following a dainty luncheon there were speeches.

The influx of the gala-garbed residents of the Gate City was due to two reasons. The first was to duly advertise the fact that the National Orange Show is to be held in the Gate City all next week and the second to give visual demonstration that frost neither killed enthusiasm nor accomplished anything like the damage that was first reported.

GREEN AND YELLOW.

The visitors wore yellow dusters with green collars. The ladies added a touch of coquetry by donning dainty little caps of golden hue. One of the features of the parade was a large vehicle filled with little girls who hurled oranges into the crowds with great zest.

Besides Mayor Bright and city officials of San Bernardino, representatives from Cucamonga, Rialto, Bloomington, Fontana and Etiwanda were among the active participants. Chief of Police Mespelt was in the automobile with Superior Judge Bledsoe.

"In case of any disturbance on the way we could have made arrests and tried the prisoners," observed Judge Bledsoe as he alighted at the Hollenbeck.

A stop was made at Pasadena and from there the line of machines speeded up, reaching First and Broadway exactly at noon. The parade lasted about half an hour. Lunch was served at 1 o'clock at the Hollenbeck.

"We have come here to pay our respects to the city of Los Angeles," said Judge Bledsoe, who officiated as toastmaster. "Incidentally we want to pat ourselves on the back. If anybody thinks that San Bernardino is not on the map look at our boosters and watch the papers tomorrow morning.

"It is true that some of the automobiles fell by the wayside, but it was not the fault of the owners. I passed a friend this morning who was stretched at full length under his car. I said: 'What is the matter? Isn't your power strong enough for the hill?' My friend replied with some emphasis: 'I have thirty-horse-power and the whole darn thirty are balking.'

"DEAD? NOT MUCH."

"Seriously speaking we want the world to know that our citrus industry is by no means dead. We have suffered a loss, but we will show that same spirit that helped rebuild San Francisco after her fire and the same spirit that has made Los Angeles what she is today. [Applause.]

"We are also here to boost for our annual Orange Show, which will be better and bigger this year than ever before."

Judge Anderson, who weighs 250 pounds, was introduced as the 1913 president of the national orange show. The toastmaster stated it might be worthy of note that all the dusters were made to fit Anderson upon the theory that they would be large enough for everyone else.

"I hope Los Angeles will be well represented at our show," said Anderson. "It will be one of the best exhibitions of its kind ever given in the country. The floor space equals Madison Square Garden, New York, and our canvas covers as much ground as the Ringling circus tents joined together.

"The show will be interesting to the tourist. We will have 900 feet of fruit racks and will use 3,000,000 oranges in making up the displays and special features. We realize how much we owe to Los Angeles and we hope her citizens will patronize our exhibit which represents the greatest fruit industry of the State."

THE BIGGEST SHOW.

H. Z. Osborne, president of the local Chamber of Commerce, told how he boosted for the citrus industry when he was North a short time ago. "Some of the persons I met seemed to think we would be weeping," said he. "I told them no tears were being shed in Southern California and that the temporary setback made the growers work all the harder. I told them that San Bernardino would give its best show this year. (applause.)

"I enjoyed being present at last

CHARTER PLANS UP TO COUNCIL.

Committee Completes Task of Many Weeks.

Would Abolish "Municipal News" Publication.

Eight Amendments Are to Be Considered.

Drafts of eight proposed charter amendments to be submitted this afternoon to the City Council, embody six weeks' effort on the part of the Harbor Investigating Committee and the Charter Revision Committee. The work of the two committees chosen from the Citizens' Committee of One Thousand and the Executive Committee of Fifty was completed last night and the proposed amendments contain the essence of the combined wisdom of a majority of these committees.

General denunciation of the charter provision authorizing the printing and publication of a Municipal Newspaper preceded the action of the joint committee in recommending an amendment prohibiting the City Council from appropriating public money for this purpose.

JUST IN TIME.

The work was finished only a few hours before the proposed amendments must be submitted to the City Council in order to insure an election which must be held next month if the amendments adopted are to go before the March session of the Legislature. When disagreements between the two committees threatened to block the wheels of charter revision they were consolidated by the Executive Committee and empowered to act so that it is not necessary to report back to the Citizens' Committee of One Thousand or the Executive Committee for approval. Instead the proposed amendments will go direct to the City Council.

The proposed amendments relating to the powers of the Harbor Commission provide among other things that the three members of the commission shall be elected for terms of two years each and that the salary shall be $300 per month. Protection of the harbor rights so no corporation can secure control of the harbor front for any purpose whatsoever is provided for in the clause relating to the granting of leases by the proper authorities. Alternate frontages of 2000 feet each are reserved for public municipal use.

WOULD PROVIDE FOR PENSIONS.

Other changes in the charter as advocated by proposed amendments relate to the police and fire pension funds. This amendment as recommended requires that not less than 2½ per cent. of the total pay roll of the respective departments be set aside for the purpose of providing pensions for employees. It is provided that none of the money thus reserved is to be deducted from the salaries of the men.

The Board of Park Commissioners is removed from the figurehead class by a proposed amendment and made an effective executive body having full control of and handling the park funds. The salaries of the Mayor and City Attorney, by the terms of another amendment, will be increased to $6000 a year.

The district plan for the election of the Council, as explained in the amendment to be offered for adoption, provides for the apportionment of the city into fifteen districts with a Councilman for each and six at large.

An amendment proposed to article 19 of the charter provides an additional section wherein it is set forth that it shall be unlawful for persons to sign a petition for nomination of any candidate for office unless he be a qualified elector for the district or subdivision of the city within which such prospective officer is to be elected. It also provides that recall petitions of officers elected from districts or subdivisions of the city shall be signed only by electors of such districts or subdivisions.

Wharf for Scows?

TWO BIRDS, ONE STONE; CITY THE SUFFERER?

SAN PEDRO, Feb. 12.—How to compel the Standard-American Dredging Company to stop making the Huntington fill where municipal dock No. 1 is to be built, with material taken from government outer harbor project, instead of from the channel alongside the wharf is a problem the harbor engineers would like to see solved.

It is alleged the dredging company is making the fill contrary to the provisions of the contract with the city. Under the contract as interpreted by the harbor engineers the company is to dredge the channel and make the fill at 14 cents a yard. As the work is being done the company has been getting its price for making the fill without doing the dredging, and thus getting two prices, it is asserted—one from the government and one from the city.

What the harbor engineers fear is that the fill will be completed and the city will find that it will have a modern concrete wharf in water so shallow that only scows can approach it when the tide is high. How to prevent this they do not know.

At the last meeting of the Harbor Advisory Board the engineers were instructed to hold up the warrants due the company for the work in hopes of bringing the dredging company to time. The board even went further. "Arrest the employees of the company," members of the board told the engineers.

This was easier said than done. When the engineers went to the local police they found that warrants would have to be procured. Then the Prosecuting Attorney's office passed the "buck" back to the Harbor Advisory Board with the opinion that the question is a civil matter involving only breach of contract, and that as no law has been violated no arrests can be made. An injunction, the engineers were informed, will have to be procured.

Meanwhile the dredging company is making hay while the sun shines, and the work of making the Huntington fill, using material for which the government is paying the freight, is going merrily on, and the room for dirt from the channel, which the city expects to have dredged, is growing smaller each day.

A HELPFUL WORK.

Secretary of Society for Prevention of Tuberculosis Reports on Work Accomplished During Past Year.

Dr. George E. Malsbary, secretary of the Los Angeles Society for the Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis, has made a report to the society for the year just closed, in which he states that a fine tuberculosis exhibit has been placed in the Museum at Exposition Park. In the clinic he reports 2292 old patients treated and 250 new ones. In addition to the nurse of the society in attendance at the clinic, another is furnished by the City Health Department who visits the home of every patient applying for treatment. Red Cross seals were sold at the holidays to the amount of $3500, and the society now has on hand a fund of $1000, with all debts paid. Secretary Malsbary also made a detailed report of the educational work done in literature distributed and picture demonstrations given.

DARROW TRIAL'S MUTE EVIDENCE.

FEDERATION OF LABOR CHECKS TO BE SHOWN.

Jury Will Be Allowed Fifteen Minutes to Examine Cancelled Book, Defendant Is Expected to Make Statement This Morning—Character Depositions.

When the Darrow trial is resumed this morning the jury will be given fifteen minutes to inspect the book of cancelled checks given the defendant by Frank Morrison, secretary of the American Federation of Labor, for part of the expenses in the McNamara case. The total amount is $200,000.

Assistant District Attorney Ford introduced the checks in evidence Tuesday afternoon, but Judge Conley would not permit the proceedings to be halted while each juror scanned the numerous checks, all made payable to Darrow and indorsed by him. As no evidence was introduced showing for what purpose the checks were used, it is thought probable the State will merely refer to them in arguing to the jury.

Unless the prosecution decides to put on one more witness, the defense will be ready to proceed after the check book is scanned by the jury. Darrow will probably make the opening statement.

Depositions by Chicago men, attesting to the alleged good character of the defendant, will next be read. This will take considerable time.

Job Harriman and LeCompte Davis will be the first witnesses. It is believed the two lawyers will testify there was considerable discussion over the retention of Juror Bain and that the defendant in particular did not believe Bain would be a good juror from the defense standpoint.

The defense will undoubtedly conclude next week. Rebuttal may consume two days. It is believed the case will go to the jury by the 28th inst., at the latest, unless the unforseen occurs.

CLOTHING STOLEN.

Benjamin Hess reported to the police yesterday that while he and Mrs. Helen Thayer, known as the "spite bride" were in jail, someone entered his room, No. 326 South Main street, and stole almost all his clothing and many things belonging to the woman entrusted to his care. Mrs. Thayer and Hess were arrested about a week ago, she on suspicion of being a delinquent, and he on suspicion of having contributed to her delinquency.

Without Bail.

AUTOIST JAILED; MANSLAUGHTER.

RUNS DOWN AND KILLS A SIX-YEAR-OLD BOY.

Although He Asserts He Was Driving Not More Than Fifteen Miles an Hour, Detective Declares Speed Nearer Forty—Unnerved by Accident—Wealthy Mother.

Ralph S. Ferris, 21 years old, son of a wealthy Rawlins (Wyo.) widow, whose automobile ran over and killed 6-year-old George W. Wiczerek, son of Martin Wiczerek, No. 775 Gladys avenue, shortly before 11 o'clock yesterday morning, near Ninth street and Stanford avenue, is held without bail on a manslaughter charge at the City Jail.

The body was removed to the Pierce mortuary. Ferris was arrested by Detectives Beaumont and Ingram.

"Ferris was running between twenty-five and forty miles an hour," declares Beaumont. "He was following another machine, which turned out for the Wiczerek boy when the lad ran across the street. The little fellow was dragged about thirty-five feet by Ferris's machine. When Ferris brought his car to a standstill the boy's neck was resting against the left rear tire. Someone called to Ferris to back up. In his excitement Ferris ran his auto forward, and the wheel passed over the boy's neck."

Ingram says Ferris's machine skidded ninety-nine feet after he applied the brakes.

"The burned rubber marks on the dry pavement," the latter detective asserts, "tends to corroborate the statement of witnesses that Ferris was greatly exceeding the speed limit when he struck the boy. Had Ferris been making fifteen miles an hour, as he says he was, he could have stopped his car almost within its length."

Ferris seems crushed by the accident. He was so agitated yesterday afternoon he could hardly control himself. He said:

"I wasn't going more than fifteen miles an hour. The machine I was following turned wide to the left to avoid striking the boy. I tried to do the same. When I found I could not pass in front of the lad I swerved to the right. Just as I did so he stopped, and my left fender knocked him down."

In the auto with Ferris was Hugh Clark of Cheyenne, Rodeo rider. Ferris is passing the winter at Venice Beach, but with Clark is staying at the Alexandria during the Rodeo.

FROM ARCTIC TO EQUATOR.

Salvador Link Added to Wells Fargo Service Makes Long Express Shipments Possible.

With the signing of a contract in London Tuesday by E. R. Jones of this city, vice-president of Wells Fargo & Co. of Mexico, and officials of the Salvador Railway and Steamship Company, the express company adds another link to its long chain of lines and makes probable the invasion of South America at no distant date.

Wells Fargo & Co. has long had its eye on the increasing fruit shipments from San Salvador. As a result, Jones, who is the operating head of the Mexican company, was dispatched to London recently to enter into negotiations with the English owners of the Salvador Railway and Steamship Company for the establishment of express service on its line. The successful completion of these negotiations is announced in a cable received yesterday by Jones.

The Salvador Railway and Steamship Company has a narrow-gauge railway line, 185 miles long, connecting the interior with the important ports of Acajutla, La Libertad and La Union. Steamer service between these ports and the Mexican port of Casalapa is also maintained, thus making it possible for Wells Fargo & Co. of Mexico to give direct service to all points in the Central American republic.

As service was established in Alaska several years ago, it will be possible for Wells Fargo & Co. to handle shipments from the Arctic to the equator.

W. C. T. U. of Tulare and Kings Counties Up in Arms—Valley Convention Planned.

VISALIA, Feb. 11.—Officials of the bi-county organization of the W.C.T.U., which includes the locals of Tulare and Kings counties, announced following an executive gathering which was held here yesterday that they will start active work against the redlight districts which still exist in Visalia, Hanford and other cities of this section of the valley. Mrs. D. C. Washburn, an offical of the State organization and a social worker of State-wide prominence, will be asked to assist the bi-county officials.

At the executive conference yesterday plans were discussed for a valley convention to be held in Lindsay in April. Miss Luella Schwab, State superintendent of medal contests, arranged for a medal competition, to be held in connection with the convention sessions.

Mrs. Edith Little,
Who has been missing since Monday, and the baby she left.

SHE LEAVES NO TRACKS.

Search for Woman Who Abandons Child Thus Far Unfruitful—Leaves Baby With Father-in-Law.

Mrs. Edith Little, who abandoned an 18-month-old baby when she disappeared under mysterious circumstances Monday morning, had not returned to her home, No. 1406 East Forty-third street, up to a late hour last night, and today redoubled efforts will be made by relatives and the police to find her.

The last seen of Mrs. Little was about 10 o'clock in the morning, when she called at the home of her father-in-law, No. 1009 East Thirty-sixth street. She left her infant with him, saying she was going shopping. She said she would not be gone long, and on her way home would call for her child.

The woman's disappearance was not reported to the police until the next day, the husband and her relatives thinking she would return. When morning came grave fears arose as to her safety, and the police were asked to assist in finding her.

Mrs. Little celebrated her twenty-first birthday Sunday. She is about five feet, three inches in height, weighs 120 pounds, has brown eyes and light brown hair. She was dressed in a two-piece tailored suit of light brown material, black velvet hat with black feather and white laundered shirtwaist. She carried a silver mesh handbag and wore a heavy gold wedding ring and several set rings. Around her neck Mrs. Little wore a gold chain, to which was attached an oval gold locket set with several small stones. On the inside of the locket was a picture of Little. On the other side was a group photo of several friends.

DEATH IN EXPLOSION.

Acetylene Gas Tank Explodes From Unknown Cause in Yard of Scrap Iron Concern and Kills a Laborer.

A wicked acetylene tank exploded at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon in the yard of the Pendleton Iron and Metal Company, at Fifty-fifth and Alameda streets, with such force as to shake the houses within many blocks and was distinctly felt and heard in the residence section on the hills as far north as Fourth street. One man, named Tom Worrall, a workman in the yard, was so seriously injured that he died at the Angelus Hospital without having returned to consciousness.

The acetylene gas is used to cut old iron by directing a thin jet against it, thus burning the iron asunder, but it was not in use at the time the explosion occurred and so far as known Worrall was not in the flimsy shed that housed the tanks. The shed was composed of sheet iron fastened to uprights and the iron was torn apart and thrown in every direction, the body of Worrall being found about twenty feet from the tank, lying bleeding on a piece of roof. Five or six men were at work about the yard but none of them knew anything about what happened until they heard the awful explosion and saw the body of the dying man. He was unmarried and his father lives in Arizona.

SUB-PREFECTO MAN SOUGHT

Startling Discoveries in Tia Juana Shooting.

Facts Will Be Laid Before State Department.

Indications of Plot to Kill Americans.

Dist.-Atty. Fredericks returned last evening from San Diego, where he went to personally investigate the shooting of Detective Rankin and the events leading up to the assault. Fredericks was accompanied to Los Angeles by Detective Rockwell, who was with Rankin when he was shot, and narrowly escaped a similar fate. Rankin's condition is improving, and his physicians now say he has a fair chance for recovery.

The District Attorney passed only a few hours in the south, but they were busy ones in which sleep played no part. He confirmed last night the Times' account of the case which set the Los Angeles detectives in the Mexican town, and added some interesting history which is to be laid before the State Department at Washington with a request for action.

A check for $830 in favor of the Sansidio Ranch Company issued by the Llewellyn Iron Works was sent by mistake to Tia Juana, near where the ranch is, instead of to the office of the company here. This was December 30, and for more than a month nothing was heard of it.

The paper turned up at the Citizens' National Bank on the 31st, indorsed by the company, "per McDonald," together with a letter stating that the money be forwarded to Tia Juana by registered mail, as it was needed to pay off the hands at the ranch.

The transaction struck the bank officials as irregular and the check and letter were turned over to Fredericks, who detailed Rockwell and Rankin on the case.

The detectives went to Tia Juana armed with a letter of introduction to Sub-Prefecto Guerro from the Mexican Consul here, explaining their mission. When this was presented to Guerro the man is said to have displayed unusual emotion.

Arrangements had been made with the bank to forward a dummy package the following day and it was the intention of Rockwell and Rankin to watch the postoffice and discover who called for it.

After disclosing their errand to the Tia Juana sub-prefecto he is said to have remained with the officers rather closely, and late Saturday night they had supper together, after which the Los Angeles men left Guerro to go to their hotel.

Then came the challenge in the dark and the shot. Almost immediately three policemen jumped on the Americans and hustled them off. This circumstance (Fredericks says his mind indicates a premeditated plot, for it is highly improbable that three policemen in the little town would happen to be immediately available for the "capture" of men fired on from ambush.

Rockwell was locked up, and for a time he heard the groans and cries of his associate for aid. Finally these ceased and he was told that Rankin was dead. Then a statement written in Spanish was presented to Rockwell for his signature, setting forth that the Americans had been drinking and were responsible for what had occurred. This Rockwell refused to sign, and, believing that he would be killed if he refused, did so, but added beneath his signature the word, "invalid." He was released and hurried to where Rankin was guarded.

In the meantime the American consul of a Tia Juana saloonkeeper had heard the disturbance and telephoned to Dr. Compton of San Diego, who reached the scene a few minutes before Rockwell was released. Dr. Compton ordered the immediate removal of Rankin to a hospital for treatment, an order which the officers refused to permit being carried out, saying they must hold the wounded man as a "witness."

The next day Rockwell entered the office of the sub-prefecto, and with a typewriter, asked permission to have his secretary to write a letter. This was granted, and Capt. Fredericks said last night that in this letter the same peculiarities of expression are noted as appear in the one received with the Llewellyn check on the Citizens' National bank. The typewriter paper is also said to be of the same brand and bond.

The soldier arrested in connection with the shooting should have been on sentry duty a long distance from the scene, it is asserted, and beyond the town limits. His presence there has not been satisfactorily explained, any more than has the curious coincidence of three policemen being within a few yards of one another when the shot was fired.

"There is no such person as Mr. McDonald," Fredericks said.

After the order was finally received from Ensenada authorizing the release of Rankin, the Tia Juana authorities were unwilling to let the men go, and for one reason or another delayed the departure for hours, it is said, the taking of depositions and the unravelling of red tape by Justice Rodrigues.

"Perhaps they thought the Consul would die," suggested the Deputy District Attorney, "before he could leave."

Rockwell, at the conclusion of arrangements, refused last evening to discuss the case.

"Those are my orders," he said.

He admits, however, that it was a "narrow squeak," and that he is glad to be back in "God's country" again. He thinks the chance favorable for Rankin's ultimate recovery, although his wound is serious.

Capt. Fredericks is convinced that the men had not been drinking and had given nothing to provoke the assault. Dr. Compton asserts that Rankin showed no evidence of having had even a single drink. In spite of the strong circumstantial evidence subsequently developed, Rockwell and the Captain conducted a conducted tour of inspection of the San Diego District Attorney's office, the Sheriff's office and the Chief of Police's office in San Diego, in search of the man who had made that fatal shot. Fredericks says he is convinced that Rankin was not responsible for the shooting, and that the assailant, or assailants, were Mexicans, who have since been spirited across the line into Mexico.

THOUSANDS DO LINCOLN HONOR.

Martyr President's Birthday Generally Kept.

State Societies Gather in the City's Parks.

Business Suspended; Schools Hold Exercises.

Words of reverence for the martyred Lincoln, fond reminiscences of the old home State and praise of the more abundant life in Southern California were happily mingled yesterday by speakers at the exceptionally well-attended gatherings of the Minnesota and Wisconsin State societies, one at Eastlake Park and the other at Sycamore Park. The number of Gophers was estimated at 7000, the largest attendance since the annual picnic was established, and of the Badgers at 3000.

The picnickers gathered at both parks in the forenoon, had the all-important basket lunch at noon and listened to the orators in the afternoon.

Eastlake Park was none too large to accommodate the throng of excursionists that gathered there from various parts of Los Angeles county. The registers showed that aside from Los Angeles the cities of Long Beach, Santa Monica, Pasadena, and other nearby places sent delegations.

FROM MINNESOTA.

Edward Winterer presided on the Minnesotans' stand at the Gophers' gathering. The speakers were S. H. Franklin, a Minneapolis business man and a guest in the city; W. E. Lee of Long Prairie, Minn.; A. L. Ward of Fairmont, Minn.; Judge John D. Smith of Minneapolis; James Hunter of Parlbault, and C. D. Lewis of Worthington. Mrs. Fannie Collins gave a reading and F. E. Stahl a cornet solo.

"Let it be remembered," said Franklin in his address, "that Minnesota has such men as J. J. Hill, the empire builder, who has utilized Minnesota iron, stretching it from the Twin Cities to the Pacific. Not only this, but Minnesota iron has been threaded six times across the continent. What makes great cities are rivers and abundant resources. The Twin Cities are not short in either. Six cross-continent railroads are unloading thousands of cars of golden grain daily on the Twin Cities marvels."

"If Minnesota is the greatest bread state in the world," Attorney Winter said at the conclusion of Franklin's speech, "and the greatest butter state in the Union, when it comes to cream and butter the State ought to be quite a spread."

WISCONSIN'S PICNIC.

Mrs. T. W. Eckert's oil portrait of Abraham Lincoln adorned the platform at the Wisconsin Society's picnic. J. E. True, outgoing president of the club, was director of the program.

A feature of the exercises was the reading of the Emancipation Proclamation by James M. Alexander, a descendant of one of the negroes freed by the famous edict. The music was furnished by the Pomona College quartette, composed of H. Berg, A. Eustis, Hugh Jones and H. R. Jones. The invocation was given by Rev. W. H. Hannaford.

The principal address was given by President James A. Blaisdell of Pomona College, newly-elected president of the Wisconsin Society. He spoke of the pleasures and benefits of such get-together meetings. The other speakers were J. D. Radford, Ingle Chester and T. D. Kanouse.

"Our society is rapidly gaining in numbers and in importance," True said at the conclusion of the exercises. "We are forging ahead of some of the other State organizations and even the Iowa Society had better watch out for us."

With the closing of the banks, markets, stock exchange and the suspension of business to a considerable extent, the exodus to the mountains and beaches and to the various patriotic and semi-patriotic celebrations, the latter factor of the holiday spirit. The anniversary was observed in the public schools with special exercises. In some of the schools each grade had its own programme and in others there was a general meeting of the whole school in the assembly rooms for the day.

LETTERS TO "THE TIMES."

Featuring Orange Crops.

ALHAMBRA, Feb. 10.—[To the Editor of The Times:] While we hope and believe that we will experience another such a severe storm as we had this winter for years to come, there is no telling how soon in the future we may again experience such a calamity.

As long as human ingenuity has not discovered a positive defence against frost there is but one way left to reduce the damage to orange and lemon growers, and that way is insurance. For many years insurance against frost has proven a perfect success in Europe. No longer need the European farmer view every rising cloud during a sultry summer day with anxiety and gloom. His crop is insured and should it be destroyed by a hailstorm that it is destroyed by a hailstorm the damage is repaired.

Why not insure their grain and hay against fire. Why not insure oranges and lemon crops against frost? It would not only be a great boon to the orchardist at a very moderate expense, but may also offer a paying business to insurance companies.

An orchardist could, after insuring his crop, go to bed of a winter's night during a heavy frost, assured that he would not be the only one to bear a loss.

SMOOTHES OUT LINES O' CARE.

Good News from Mexico Is Welcomed Here.

Angelenos Safe in Turbulent Republic's Capital.

But Tennis Tidings Cut Off Wires by War News.

Reassuring news concerning the safety of Angelenos in Mexico brought joy into homes here yesterday, where there has been anxiety ever since the outbreak of the newest revolution.

William J. Neale, president of the Neale Printing Company, received a brief telegram from Mrs. Neale's father, Edwin Murray, who left Los Angeles two weeks ago and has since been in the City of Mexico with Donald Murray, his brother; Mrs. Nellie Rettag, his daughter, and William D. Mitchell, Neale's uncle. The wire says that all are well and was sent through in twenty-four hours by way of Galveston.

The Murrays are officers of one of the largest printing firms of the City of Mexico, Bouligny & Schmidt, whose place of business is directly in the district where the fighting is taking place. It is Neale's belief that they have abandoned work entirely and retired outside the zone of danger.

FINANCIAL SLUMP.

A letter from Edwin Murray, written a week ago, says that gilt-edged securities have dropped to almost nothing, but that people are holding onto them in the hope that they will rise again. A few, of the gambling instinct, are buying what they can, to profit by rehabilitation, or go down to loss if they make the wrong guess. Murray says in his letter that conditions then, just before Diaz made his terms with both the Diaz and Madero administrations, since he does not do any dabbling in politics. Mrs. Sepulveda was godmother to a grandchild of Porfirio Diaz, and the families were intimate for years. Mrs. Sepulveda was a member of the old De la Guerra family of Ventura and Santa Barbara.

"It has been hard to get telegraph messages through, so I am not surprised not to have heard from them that way. To reach the telegraph office might carry them through the fighting lines. We received a letter from the judge just before the outbreak, in which he said the whole American colony was bewailing the death of a young engineer, killed up in the mining country."

Relatives of Miss Mary Brown of Glendale, who went early this month from Boston to play in a tennis tournament at the City of Mexico, said yesterday that they had not even heard the result of the matches, much less any news of the revolution. Miss Brown left Boston in company of a Mrs. Williams, who is chaperoning a party of young people.

Among them are Gerald Young and Will Bacon of Duarte, also entrants in the tourney. Bacon's people received a telegram, sent Sunday, saying that all the party are safe and well.

LIEN LAW CONSTITUTIONAL.

San Francisco Attorney Declares There Are No Rulings in This State to the Contrary.

Lloyd S. Ackerman, attorney for the Nelson Manufacturing Company of San Francisco, which instituted proceedings against W. J. Brown and others in the Superior Court of San Francisco county, declares in an open letter to trade journals that as far as his knowledge goes, the present mechanics' lien law has never been declared unconstitutional. The matter is of considerable local interest because of the number of times it has been in litigation here.

When the case first came up before Judge Graham, the lawyer states, the court sustained the demurrer of the defendant, thus temporarily holding the present law unconstitutional, that point being urged by defendant's counsel. But subsequently, upon the request of Attorney Ackerman, the court reopened the case and allowed briefs to be filed by each side.

After considering the law points embodied in the briefs, Judge Graham withdrew his former ruling and overruled the demurrer. Later the suit was compromised.

"As far as I know, and I have watched the decisions carefully, there has been no ruling in this State declaring the present mechanics' lien law unconstitutional," states the lawyer.

MAY BUY STEAM SHOVELS.

City Engineer Hamlin and Harbor Commissioners Gordon and Woodman have returned from their trip up the route of the Los Angeles aqueduct, where they went for the purpose of inspecting the steam shovels in use there and which will soon be released. They favor the purchase of two of these shovels for use on harbor work at San Pedro, and believe it will be a matter of economy for the city to use them for razing Nob Hill and Timms Point. It is estimated that with these two shovels the hills could be cut away in ninety days.

POTATOES STAY CHEAP.

Little Advance in Prices Is Expected Until Late in Season—Northern Supply Still Large.

Continued low potato prices should prove a boon to housewives. Despite the advanced season the market still remains at about the same level which has been maintained for the greater part of the season. During the past week northern river potatoes have hung around 75 cents to $1 a sack wholesale, and dealers have given up predicting a permanent advance in the market.

Estimates were recently that the stocks remaining in California range all the way from 1,000,000 to 2,000,000 sacks, and it is also believed that if there is even a small advance in prices large quantities will be received from Oregon and the northwestern sections. Dealers in the North say that they do not see how the 1912 crop can possibly be used up before the 1913 crop is ready.

Overproduction in all sections of the country last season left a bountiful supply of spuds on hand, and California growers were unable to unload on any outside market. It is difficult at the present time to conjecture what will be the outcome this season, but frequently a bumper crop is followed by a short one, as many of the growers fear to plant because of the low prices they received during the heavy crop year.

Since the recent rains planting in the local districts has begun, and this crop will probably be available in a month or two. It can hardly be expected to be as large as that of last year because of the low prices, but it is apparent that with the big northern supply in addition to this new potato crop prices may not advance materially until late in the season, and perhaps not then, unless the East is forced to draw heavily on this State for its supply.

Last year at this time potatoes were selling at nearly $2 a sack, or over 100 per cent. more than this year.

Useful Knowledge.

HOW TO COOK AS THE SPANISH DO.

MRS. GINGER WILL TELL AT THE LECTURE TODAY.

Second Gathering of the "Times" Cooking School to Be Devoted to a Demonstration of Manner of Preparing All Kinds of Latin Dishes—Come at Half-past Two.

The enthusiastic and spectacular manner in which the women of Los Angeles responded to the invitation to attend the opening session of The Times lecture course on cooking, well nigh swamped the management, but the recovery was prompt and perfect, and this afternoon another lecture will be given by Mrs. Haffner-Ginger at the same place and the same hour.

There will be three of these public lectures and demonstrations each week, and the cooking classes for the school kitchen will be formed as soon as a sufficient number have indicated their intention of joining. These lessons will be given as often as required, morning, afternoon and evening. Printed matter bearing on the subject will presently be issued and distributed at the public lectures.

This afternoon Mrs. Haffner-Ginger will give a demonstration of Spanish dishes. At these public lectures the most popular dishes will be demonstrated, while in the special cooking classes such dishes as desired by the pupils will be demonstrated. The full course of ten lessons will take up in order a full variety of dishes, beginning with soups and ending with dessert—running the gauntlet of dishes served morning, noon and night. A graduate from this course of lessons may feel herself fully qualified to concoct any dish that any reasonable household could demand—from the plain, substantial food for father, to the whipped syllabub and sunshine cakes for daughter, or the satisfying loaf or nourishing soup for the delicate member of the family.

It is interesting to know, in connection with that planked steak that Mrs. Haffner-Ginger so deftly prepared at the demonstration on Tuesday afternoon, that the Indians were the first people to utilize the plank for cooking purposes. With them it was simply a rough board—any board that happened to be handy—for cooking utensils were unknown. It was the French, however, who discovered that vegetables could also be cooked with the planked meat. They took the method to France, whence it returned to us with a Parisian accent and a French stamp on it. Nevertheless, the planked steak is an original American production.

"When a plank is new," says Mrs. Haffner-Ginger, "it is well to grease it with lard. It is very important that you place it in the oven when you light the gas, so that it will heat slowly. If you place it in a hot oven, the plank will crack or split. You cannot plank anything on a coal range because you must have the meat or fish under the fire, which should be very hot in order to sear and close the pores of the steak."

FORMAL DIVORCE PROCEEDINGS BY MRS. PERKINS.

Mental Cruelty Grounds for the Separation Sought Between Clubman and Wealthy Bride of but Little More Than a Year—Great Surprise to Their Many Friends.

As exclusively told in The Times yesterday, divorce proceedings are pending from Mrs. Emily S. Keating Whiting-Barrow-French Perkins. Attorney Meserve, counsel for Mrs. Perkins, sent the divorce complaint to the County Clerk's office late Monday afternoon. It was his intention to file the papers Saturday morning, but he delayed it on account of the poor health of the mother of the clubman-defendant, Gregory Perkins, Jr.

Mrs. Perkins alleges mental cruelty which resulted in her becoming ill. This cruelty began, she alleges, soon after her marriage and due apparently to temperamental incompatability. She expects to prove the various acts of cruelty by corroborative evidence.

The legal proceedings taken by Mrs. Perkins and the allegations of cruelty come as a tremendous surprise to the many socially prominent friends of the parties, as heretofore no hint of domestic infelicity had reached the public.

RAILWAY OR ELEVATOR?

Perplexing Question for State Railroad Commission to Determine Regarding Angels Flight.

Is the Angels Flight a railroad or an elevator?

This knotty question was presented to State Railroad Commissioner Edgerton yesterday in the hearing of the application of the Angels Flight Company, a subsidiary of the Funding Company of California, to purchase the property and franchise from Col. J. W. Eddy and to issue $60,000 bonds to double-track the line, for which a private right-of-way must be condemned.

The question was raised by Attorney Young, representing the funding company, who pointed out that while the line is operated under a railway franchise, it is also inspected by the city's elevator inspector. Until this question is answered the Angels Flight Railway Company, now operating the line under lease, is in status quo, though incorporated for $100,000. But three shares of this capital stock have been issued, however.

Edgerton will conduct a further hearing today in the Pacific Electric's application to issue approximately $7,000,000 bonds for extension and betterment.

P. A. Sinsheimer, bond expert for the commission, is here with Edgerton.

SOCIETY

Mrs. J. A. Merrill

Of Miles City, Mont., who is a winter visitor in this city. Mrs. [illegible] daughter of Senator O. C. Cato of Montana.

MISS MILDRED WHITNAH was the first bride-elect to plight her troth during Lent, and her wedding last evening to Monro Dane Montgomery, solemnized at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Chester L. Whitnah, of West Adams street, was a notable event.

The bride-elect entered in a handsome gown of white charmeuse, elaborated with quantities of Duchesse lace and pearls. Over this fell a long tulle veil caught with orange blossoms and she carried a shower of lily-of-the-valley. Her young sister, Miss Dorothea Whitnah, who assisted as maid of honor, and the Misses Margaret Gould and Ellen Skinner, the bridesmaids, were attired alike in lavender charmeuse trimmed with lavender beads. They carried arm showers of bride roses.

Richard Montgomery of Maricopa was best man and the groomsmen were Messrs. Vilas Hubbard of Pasadena and Willard Fishburn of San Diego. Rev. Jesse P. McKnight, pastor of the Magnolia-avenue Christian Church, performed the ceremony in the presence of eighty-five guests, and music was given by a string orchestra.

A radiant arrangement of asparagus plumosus and Mexican ivy decorated the home, together with white blossoms and yards of lavender tulle. The bride's table held a centerpiece of white roses and gold horns filled with rice and bisque Cupids marked covers. Bags of rose leaf confetti were given as favors.

Mr. and Mrs. Montgomery left immediately after the service for a honeymoon trip, at the conclusion of which they will reside on West Thirtieth street, where they will receive their friends after March 1.

The bride was educated at the Girls' Collegiate and later attended Smith, while Mr. Montgomery was graduated from the University of California.

Have Returned.

Dr. Fredericka Keep and Miss Annabel Keep have returned from the East and for the remaining winter months will be guests at the home of Mrs. W. W. Stilson of Kensington road. Mrs. Samuel Shaw Arents, formerly Miss Harriet Keep, of Salt Lake City, accompanied her sisters to this city and will enjoy a visit of several weeks.

Into New Home.

Former Judge and Mrs. Wheaton A. Gray, with their daughter, Miss Evangeline Gray, have returned from a brief visit in the north and are at home to friends in their new residence at No. 431 Kingsley drive.

Miss Boettcher Entertains.

Complimentary to Miss Lois Wilson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Warren Wilson, of Venice, who is betrothed to Sherwood Kinney, son of Abbot Kinney, of Venice, Miss Cora Boettcher of this city entertained with a reception and miscellaneous shower yesterday afternoon. The hostess, who will be one of the bridal attendants, decorated her home prettily for the occasion. In the living-room, where the guests were received, three huge white wedding bells were suspended from ropes of smilax—the den was done in a lavender and pink scheme, yards and yards of tulle having been employed. Violets predominated in the dining-room, while potted palms and ferns in the hall were attractive. The young hostess assisted in receiving the [illegible] Mrs. Herman Boettcher, Mrs. Wilson, Mrs. Lelley [illegible] Florence Wilson, Miss Cora [illegible] Mrs. Roger McLean, Miss [illegible] lin, Mrs. Allington G. FACTS FEAT and FA for WOM and ME by Olive DAILY BEAUTY HINT: There [illegible] health and good looks as pure air, [illegible] ing you should stand before the ope[illegible] haling slowly and expelling still mor[illegible] enable you to breathe not only in [illegible] mos. There are girls and women who [illegible] always carry briars for their especial [illegible] friends.

It is somewhat remarkable that such people have friends, but they always do. The briary girl usually searches for her most frequent associate of quite the opposite to her in disposition. Possibly this may be because she can vent her spleen upon the innocent victim without receiving snubbings in return.

I recently overheard a conversation on the street car which illustrated this. There are two girls who always seem to meet to go home together. "I bought a party dress today," said the sweet, good-natured one. "Where did you buy it?" asked one of the upward curling lip. "At the New Hampshire Store." "One of those at $9.25?" "No, I paid $19 for it, and oh, I think it very pretty! It is of rose chiffon, trimmed in pink and blue rosebuds and leaves—" "O, now, I saw that"—in a half scornful tone. "Didn't you think it pretty?" "Oh, yes—what in the world do you think of a party dress?" "Well, I suppose I might be invited somewhere and—" "Well, I think everybody ought to have one good dress."

This conversation was audible to the entire car and although the sweet-faced innocent girl seemed utterly oblivious to the briars in her friend's remarks, knowing glances and half-suppressed smiles passed between those who overheard and who have since there met the briary girl and her [illegible] present kind.

The briary disposition has usually [illegible] ugly lines around her mouth [illegible] eyes which beautiful features [illegible] complexion and even a graceful [illegible] and form cannot overshadow.

Exclusive Tailoring.

In an exclusive ladies' tailoring [illegible] which this week holds an opening to the unusually early [illegible] for the season's suits, I was interested in seeing the new materials for early spring and summer. [illegible] checks, and stripes again! [illegible] with white pin stripes, white [illegible] black pin stripes, blue either [illegible] or light relieved with stripes of [illegible] all shades of gray with hair-[illegible] in dainty colors or with stripes [illegible] by the herring-bone weave of [illegible] material itself—in fact, it seems [illegible] though the tailoring world had [illegible] mad over stripes. This will be [illegible] news for the women who are [illegible] least bit over-plus, since stripes [illegible] ing up and down tend to make [illegible] look much taller and less wide. [illegible] materials seen at this early open-[illegible] were exceptionally fine and the [illegible] was large and varied. This [illegible] one of the best in town, has [illegible] ured an especial opening price up-[illegible] suits ordered during this, his [illegible] ing display.

Household Give-Away.

"That is almost like giving them away," said a lady with an armful of [illegible] which she was carrying to-[illegible] her waiting motor-car. She had just emerged from that big china [illegible] which is hurriedly closing out [illegible] entire stock. Everything is first-[illegible] in that house and when this [illegible] "vacating" sale was first announced, every housekeeper felt that [illegible] was face to face with opportunity. Some brought huge market-baskets, some carried twine bags in which to carry home their bargains [illegible] and others brought their [illegible] with them. "Will any of [illegible] things break?" I heard one lat-[illegible] as he deftly balanced an arm-[illegible] of bulging packages, extending [illegible] Normandale, Will Gilbert, [illegible] Henry Mallmann, R. G. FACTS FEATURES and FANCIES for WOMEN and MEN

by Olive Gray

DAILY BEAUTY HINT: There is no one thing so vital to good health and good looks as pure air, deeply breathed. Morning and evening you should stand before the open window, taking long breaths, inhaling slowly and expelling still more slowly. Continuous practice will enable you to breathe not only in the lungs, but deep into the abdomen. Inhale, first through one nostril, then through the other, obstructing each in turn with the finger; this practice, persevered in, will follow the long, slow inhalation which will gradually expand the lungs and chest. Good health and a symmetrical form will result.

Tell the Knitting Lady.

If some dear old lady whom you know, would like to revive her knowledge of knitted quilts, tell her about the articles in a recent magazine giving full directions for novel knitted blocks and edgings to correspond. A knitted cotton bedspread will be something both durable and handsome, to be handed down for several generations, and will perpetuate the name and proclaim the industry of the grandma of today.

Fashion's Tracery.

The brassieres, with adjustable shoulder straps for wear with evening gowns, are among the new things.

White batiste embroidery will be much used for this season's summer gowns made of plain white batiste.

Very popular are the negligees of white brocaded crepe de chine, with broad collars of pale colored satin.

Beautiful cotton crepes are in bordered dress patterns. Bulgarian embroidery is mostly used on these.

Rich brocaded silk blouses in Russian style are being worn with skirts of black velvet, moire or satin.

This is surely a year of embroidery. Among the novelties are embroidered mulls and cotton crepes.

The attractive combinations for wearing under or over the corset are made in softer materials than ever.

Separate jabots in novel cut and of conservative dimensions, flatly pleated and fluffy, are still in good style.

Remarkable Action of a Remedy That Drives Every Speck of Poison From Body.

There is a strange, mysterious power in a remarkable blood medicine that finds its way through the circulation by what is known as Divine selection. The remedy is Swift's Sure Specific, or S. S. S.

Science cannot explain just why certain elements in the blood feed the bones, others nourish the hair roots, and so on. And it is this same mysterious action of S. S. S. that attacks all diseased spots, drives away all germs, heals all sores and supplants the activity of disease germs with the powerful healing action of leucocytes. Remarkable testimonials have been written that prove beyond question there is no blood disease but what can be cured by S. S. S. And in all those cases that were treated with mercury, iodides, arsenic, copper and other minerals with no permanent effect, the most astonishing recoveries have been made by S. S. S.

There is not a blood taint of any nature that can remain in a system fortified by this most wonderful remedy, for it is absolutely pure and contains only those elements that the blood naturally assimilates, and which the tissues gratefully accept. It agrees with the most delicate stomach, even in those cases where the use of strong drugs has so weakened the digestive system that medicine cannot be given. Get a $1.00 bottle of S. S. S. at any drug store and thus be assured of a complete cure of any eruptive blood disease. If your case is peculiar and you desire special advice write to The Swift Specific Co., Medical Dept., 127 Swift Bldg., Atlanta, Ga.

Accusing Fingers Point to Coffee

Last year the Government Health Office, by authority of the District of Columbia, issued an appeal to parents, asking them not to allow their children to drink coffee or tea.

They noticed that the children who drank coffee were nervous and didn't get along in their studies, and were not healthy looking—

And those who did not drink coffee or tea, were, as a rule, strong and vigorous and got along well in their studies.

It isn't so much what Doctors, Government, Nurses or the School Teachers of the country are saying about coffee, as

How Does Coffee Treat You?

Every coffee drinker who is afflicted with nervousness, sleeplessness, heart irritation, indigestion or biliousness (and most of them are) should consider that is taking the place of coffee in thousands of homes where health is valued.

A cup of coffee contains about 2½ grains of caffeine—a poison. Hence the various troubles from coffee drinking.

This new food-drink, made of prime Northern Wheat and the juice of Southern Sugar Cane, tastes much like high-grade Java, but is absolutely pure and free from caffeine.

Requires No Boiling

Place a spoonful of the powder in a cup, pour on boiling water, stir and add sugar and cream to taste; and instantly you have a delightful drink of charming flavor.

Grocers sell Instant Postum—45 to 50-cup Tin 30c; 90 to 100-cup Tin 50c.

MAKING HIM SPEAK.

A beggar pretending to be deaf and dumb found his voice quickly when placed upon an operating table. He is a wise man if he knows just when to speak.

A WISE PEOPLE.

Ventura county bean growers are forming a corporation for the manufacture of their own bags. At least we have a people who know beans when the bag is open.

A FAIR NEIGHBOR.

We are pleased to note that Huntington Park has voted bonds for a pleasant park in the center of that fast-growing suburb. It will soon demonstrate to others the appropriateness of its name. Undoubtedly this is one of the loveliest and most busy of our many busy neighbors.

A SONG OF SONGS.

If you have never heard Melba's "Waltz Song" there is much in store for you. It is supposed to be the triumph of barbarism, but in reality it is the soul exultant with a plea for all things that suffer. It requires a superb voice to shake out these exquisite carols of life and of death, but the artist who can render this song gives something precious to the world.

COMING ON.

So Russia has lynched two horse thieves. Now that she has arrived, we have a confession to make. We were always a little doubtful of Russia. We thought she punished the wrong people and lacked in discrimination generally. But the hanging of rustlers is a step in advance. We defer to the new civilization of darkest Russia.

ON GUARD.

It is perfectly right for the public to watch its road building closely. We do not know what there is in the charge that some of the work done on the State highways will not last ninety days, but we do know that good roads are one of California's great assets and that the people are entitled to all they pay for.

REMARKABLE PICTURES.

The Auditorium this week is showing motion pictures posed by excellent artists at Jerusalem and entitled "From the Manger to the Cross." The subject is treated with reverence as well as realism. The man who undertakes the wonderful role of the Christ is not objectionable and the man cast for Judas is remarkable in his portrayal of that most tragic character in history. Beautiful and appropriate music both by human voices and the grand organ at the Auditorium add to the inspiration of the sublime drama. Since the moving picture is what it is in the public eye we are glad to see it placed upon this high plane.

TEXAS LANDS.

Texas claims to have made a trifling mistake of one million acres in a land deal. She contracted in 1876 with the Farwell syndicate of Chicago to give it 3,000,000 acres of land in the Panhandle to erect the Capitol building. The land was appraised at 50 cents per acre, and the Capitol building cost $1,500,000. Now it is claimed that "through mistake or fraud" 4,000,000 acres were deeded to the syndicate. The land is now worth $2 to $20 per acre. Texas wants that 1,000,000 acres back. Thirty-seven years have elapsed since the "mistake" was committed, but the statute of limitation never runs against a State.

UNWISE WORKERS.

Aside from dynamiting, and picketing, and boycotting, and other unlawful methods of establishing and maintaining the closed shop the basic principle of the American Federation of Labor is wrong. It is a class organization to procure for its members as large a remuneration for their services as possible, without regard to the effect of such increase upon non-members or upon the country generally.

Undeterred by the conviction and sentence of Samuel Gompers and John Mitchell and Frank Morrison, the American Federation of Labor is preparing for a vigorous campaign for enlargement. It is appealing to the 173,000 employees of the steel trust and 30,000 employees of independent steel companies, employees of the textile industries, packing-houses, the rubber trust and the sugar trust to join the organization and assist in paying the salaries of Gompers and his associate grafters. Five hundred thousand pamphlets printed in thirteen languages will be distributed among foreigners as well as Americans, and foreign workmen are cautioned to remain abroad for a year or two until conditions in this country become "more settled."

The campaign at Washington will begin with the organization of the new Congress. An effort will be made to legalize boycotting and picketing by prohibiting the issue by the Federal courts of writs of injunction in cases involving labor disputes. That now is the psychological moment to start such a campaign is claimed at the headquarters of the American Federation in Washington.

There is one thing the I.W.W.'s cannot do. They cannot compel the owner of a factory or a furnace to run his plant at a loss. He can close down and, if the Democrats pursue their promised policy of lowering tariff duties, goods now manufactured here can be brought in from Europe and the American Federation of Labor can change its name to the American Federation of Idleness.

AGAINST INTERVENTION.

Some gentlemen whose political views and business success are disapproved of by our steamed and superheated Progressive contemporaries have invested money, honestly-acquired money, which they did not steal from orange growers, in Mexican lands and cattle. The continuance of the revolution in that country has a tendency to lessen the market value of the lands, diminish the number of cattle and drive away the workmen of the loathsome capitalists who are disliked by our steamed and overheated Progressive contemporaries.

Intervention in Mexico by the United States would put a stop to brigandage. Putting a stop to brigandage would be a benefit to those who are hated by the proprietor of the Los Angelenos Progressive press. Therefore the press aforesaid outcries for non-intervention.

And if intervention is forced upon us then our steamed and parboiled contemporaries demand, as a measure of justice, that the plutocrats whom it does not like shall face Mexican rifles, or send their sons to do so, and compel their daughters "to serve as nurses amid the blood and disease of war hospitals." Rather than suffer the anguish of having the Mexican property of Americans who are obnoxious to him protected by the United States government, the proprietor of our steamed and fricaseed Progressive contemporary would prefer that Mexico should remain a seething mass of disorder from the Rio Grande to the Pacific. But President Taft does not agree with this view of the case, and it is not at all probable that President-elect Wilson agrees with it.

CONCERNING "SISSIES."

Considerable public discussion has been taking place lately as to the status of the male school-teacher, and during that discussion the word "sissy" has been used with rather uncomplimentary freedom. Sissy is as objectionable a term applied to a member of the dominant masculine as the word "scold" is applied to a representative of the predominant feminine. No one would allow the contention that the bright and capable women working in our public schools, because they insist on maintaining discipline, should be branded as scolds. It is just as unfair to condemn the men who have devoted their talents to educational pursuits, as sissies.

No good purpose is ever served by a general application of uncomplimentary epithets. Men teachers for boys and women teachers for girls sounds logical enough in theory. Yet the fact is generally admitted that the American system of education has proved itself wonderfully efficient. So much so, indeed, that educational experts from Europe are constantly visiting the United States to gather information for the improving of their own schools and colleges. And in America the ratio of women to men teachers is out of all proportion.

Are we producing "sissies" as a result of this preponderance of the feminine element in our scheme of public education? Speaking for California at least, we say emphatically, "No." The average of our high school boys, as far as manliness, pluck, stout-heartedness and stamina are concerned, is unequaled in any European country. Is England, on account of the excess of male over female teachers, producing a womanhood of scolds? The outbursts of the militant suffragettes there certainly lend some color to the contention. Just as women teachers in our own public schools seem to be rearing manly boys.

Yet we may be wrong in assigning these effects to this particular cause. The building up of character depends on a great deal more than the quality of knowledge absorbed in a schoolroom. Perhaps the sex of the teacher has very little to do with it. Environment, heredity, the general spirit of the community, climate, example, necessity, all of these are leading factors in forging and tempering the steel or gold in a man or a woman. The matured brain employed to impart a necessary tuition to the developing intellect of the young may belong to either sex. All that is necessary is that this brain be capable of imparting useful knowledge. The learning of the multiplication table or of the rules of grammar does not make or mar character. The sword with which the youngster must cut his path to success is chiefly fashioned in out-of-schoolroom hours; by rubs and hard knocks, by contact with his fellows, on the baseball and football fields as a start—afterwards in the city office, the market, the farm or the profession.

In fact character develops more after the school and college have been left behind and the serious work of life has been taken up. The school and college are the birth of character formation but the process only ceases with the grave.

So it is as invidious to call our men teachers "sissies" as to call our women teachers "scolds." There is no logic in arguing that an effeminate race will be developed under our present school system. Perhaps a sissy, like a poet, is born, not made; always remembering that a gentle and a brave heart make the poet and the soldier. Our few men school-teachers will average up in manliness with those of any other profession. Has not an ex-schoolmaster just risen to the proudest and most powerful position the honors of this world can confer on any living man?

UNIFORM DIVORCE LAWS.

The agitation for one uniform divorce law for the whole of the United States is no new thing, yet our statesmen shun handling this subject as if it were a bed of stinging nettles. So the crusade has had to be carried on chiefly by the Christian churches. Time after time the sometimes ridiculous, sometimes tragic, and always tangled results of our present hodge-podge divorce laws (different in every State) have been brought before the public. Any newspaper reader can find them without an interpreter.

Surely if centralized legislation were ever in order it should be here, where the home, the greatest institution in America, is so vitally concerned. Surely the duty imposed by marriage is as national as the duty imposed on imported goods. Protection of our general industries is not left to the regulation of each State; why should the protection of our wives and children be so relegated?

One binding law for marriage and divorce, ratified by Congress and approved by the President, would go far to reduce the mass of unsavory divorce cases and to hinder premature or ill-considered marriages. When the mothers in Reno made their voices heard in Nevada it did not take long for the State Legislature to condemn the six months' residence, which has made Reno the fashionable divorce mill of the world. If all our wives, mothers and daughters will make their voices heard from Maine to California it would not take long for Congress to stop, look and listen awhile.

It is absurd—almost immoral—that a man and woman should be still legally married in South Carolina and yet free to marry again in North Dakota. It is unfair that a man can be held for alimony in one State and be practically freed from the obligation by crossing over into another. Morality should not be a matter of State boundaries or of marriage lines identified with lines upon a map.

REGENERATING TOOPIOUS.

Toopious, in speaking of another culprit than himself, says: "He had sinned. More to the point he had been caught. Stern justice sent him to prison. This taught him the vanity and wrong of his former life." The incident, Toopious confesses, "stimulated his own reflective faculties and causes him to plead for an opportunity to regenerate the divine spark within him."

The Times would not refuse Tobias the opportunity for regeneration of his alleged divine spark that he seeks. On the contrary it would bespeak for him from the public the largest charity while the process of regeneration is going on. It ventures to suggest to him, however, that regeneration cannot be achieved by one who

"Compounds the sins he is inclined to
By damning those he has no mind to."

MILITANT SUFFRAGISTS.

It is the duty of a high-class editorial writer to know everything in the world, from the height above the sea level of Mount Ararat to the depth below sea level of the morality and intelligence of its unscrupulous steamed contemporaries. The Times has on its staff scientists, scholars, poets, philosophers and political economists who can, without batting an eye, solve any problem on earth save one. The insoluble puzzle is how the cause of woman suffrage can be promoted in England by smashing windows, pouring acids into letter boxes, or putting a head on Asquith?

The Times assures the lady suffrage seekers of Great Britain that it sympathizes with them; that it does not care how many bricks they throw at windows in government buildings; that it does not censure them for pouring oil of vitriol into government mail boxes, and that it looks with composure, if not with satisfaction, at the swatting of David Lloyd George, and the rending and disutilization of his clothing.

And still it asks how can these demonstrations of members of the Equal Suffrage League of England help the women of England to the ballot?

Mrs. Despard, who is a sister of the famous cavalry general, Sir John French, resisted the London police when they dispersed a suffrage meeting in Trafalgar Square in London. For this offense she was sentenced to fourteen days' imprisonment or a fine of $10. She had the money, but she preferred the martyrdom. She assured the judge who inflicted the punishment that when her term of imprisonment expired she would perform a cobblestone staccato on the windows of government buildings and assist in preparing for the hospital any myrmidon of power who attempted to interfere with her.

In Dublin Mrs. Hopkins, Mrs. Cousin and Mrs. Conroy, who had smashed the windows of Dublin Castle because the government had dropped a woman's suffrage bill, were sentenced by the police magistrate to a month's hard labor each.

California, Washington, Arizona, Idaho, Wyoming, Utah and Colorado have given women the right to vote. Nevada, Montana and South Dakota are making arrangements to do likewise. This result was reached without smashing a window, without acidizing a letter, without throwing pepper in anybody's eyes, or taking anybody's breeches away from him.

On what hypotheses do our British sisters assume that assault and battery will prove a more effective weapon than reason to achieve their end? The Times pauses for a reply.

UNCLE WALT.

The Poet Philosopher.

Though cheerful the world and pleasant, and azure the skies o'er all, he cannot enjoy the present for dreading what may befall. He's tortured by dire forebodings of what may occur next week; new wrinkles in griefs and goadings he goes to much pains to seek. It's useless to say, "Be cheerful, exult in this gorgeous day!" His face will be always tearful, because he is built that way. I see many way-worn cripples around in the haunts of men; and over each face there ripples a smile every now and then. A man may be shy a shoulder or minus a collarbone, and find that his lot's no colder than that of the friends he's known; a man may be forced to scamper along on a basswood limb, nor let it a moment hamper the joy that abides in him. I know an old man who's twisted and bent, but he doesn't scream; and always he has insisted that life is a bully scheme. Alas! If your twist is mental, the world will be cold and gray; you'll need much assistance dental, or you'll gnash all your teeth away.

SCIENCE PROGRESS.

To Purify Water.

[New York Tribune:] The important discovery that drinking water can be completely sterilized by being placed in a vessel containing a small piece of zinc and occasionally stirred is announced by M. Dienert, a French scientist. He has placed water in test tubes, with a small piece of zinc in each, and the added cultures of various microbes. After a time the microscope shows the microbes gathered about the zinc and all dead. Zinc and zinc oxide are practically insoluble in water, but the bacteria cause slight quantities of them to be dissolved, probably because they secrete a small amount of some acid; the amount of zinc dissolved is so small as to be absolutely harmless when taken in with the water.

The extended use made of zinc and galvanized iron (sheet iron coated with zinc) vessels as receptacles for water shows that the zinc will last a very long time. This use of zinc or zinc-lined containers works thus automatically to sterilize the water placed in them. Experiments in which cultures were made from water that had been kept in zinc vessels for various lengths of time will tell us before long whether this principle can be utilized on a large scale for sterilising drinking water intended for domestic or community consumption.

AMERICAN BUILDING IN 1912.

BY WALTER J. BALLARD.

The total building expenditure in 1912 by all cities in the United States was $908,589,403, a gain of 6.8 per cent. over 1911.

Our wonderful progress in building can be best realized by comparing the totals of such expenditure by sixty-five identical cities in each of the past seven years.

Those totals are:

1905	$595,859,414
1907	554,948,260
1908	509,899,409
1909	723,547,019
1912	680,551,650

It speaks well for the permanency of the building trades, after the wonderful progress in city building during the past few years, that the expenditures of 1912 by these sixty-five cities should be 14 per cent. larger than in 1905, only seven years ago, and some idea of the recuperative power of the trades may be had from the fact that the expenditures in 1912 were one-third larger than they were in 1908, only four years previously.

A Tip.

[Toledo Blade:] Many a boy who was regarded as of no account in his own town has gone from home and developed into a shining light.

A ONE-MAN JOB.

In Which Unum Is Greater Than Pluribus. Burdette at the Panama Canal.

A man whose reputation for superior wisdom has endured the test of the ages, King Solomon, once said:

"In the multitude of counsellors purposes are established."

Which accounts, among other things, for the monotonous unanimity with which the Democratic party has disestablished itself at the polls until recently by a lucky accident, it slid into the White House when the door was opened by somebody else.

A multitude of counsellors is an "assurance of safety," as the same authority asserts elsewhere, but it depends rather more on the kind of counsellors than on the multitude. Now, Mr. Bryan, for instance, speaking of the Democratic party, was singly rather more of a multitude than the entire New York delegation. But, then, it isn't fair to apply the wisdom of Solomon to the proceedings of the Democratic party in convention assembled. That would puzzle a greater than Solomon.

Where the Crowd Went Loco.

Still, Solomon had before him, in the archives, the story of the multitude of counsellors at Babel in that historic near-achievement out of which the only enduring result was the invention of the Welsh language which united all the tongues in the human race into an archipelago of vowels entirely surrounded by double consonants.

There are some things that can be accomplished by co-operation better than by the individual efforts. Twins, for instance. A mob or a wedding is incomplete with less than two persons. It requires twelve men to organize a jury, usually with less than the common sense of one.

But there are "one-man jobs" in which even a six-fingered man would be a mob. Tasks that call for the rare common sense of the normal man—the quality which we call genius—uncommon common sense.

The Panama Canal is a one-man job. The Los Angeles harbor is a commission job. And the canal will be finished first. It will be finished long before the Pasadena High School. Long before the State Highway Commission will have its improved roads ready for traffic. Long, long, long before Congress gets the tariff half-soled and heeled, so that it can devote its cobbling abilities to natural conservation legislation; long before the investigating committees can investigate the charges upon which they have already made their reports. The Panama Canal will have passed into history while the commissions and committees and boards are still making mystery.

The Man.

George Washington Goethals was born in Brooklyn June 29, 1858. He studied in the College of the City of New York and after graduation entered the military academy at West Point, graduating in 1880. He was appointed second lieutenant of engineers, U.S.A., June 12, 1880; first lieutenant June 15, 1882; captain December 14, 1891; lieutenant-colonel and chief engineer of volunteers May 9, 1898; major, engineer corps, U.S.A. February 7, 1900, graduate of Army War College 1905; lieutenant-colonel, engineers, March 2, 1907; colonel of engineers December 3, 1909; instructor in civil and military engineering in West Point Academy for a number of years; engineer in charge of the Mussell Shoals Canal construction on the Tennessee River; chief of engineers during the Spanish War; member of the Board of Fortifications, coast and harbor defense, and on February 25, 1907, chief engineer in charge of the Panama Canal construction. His present address is Culebra Canal Zone, Panama.

Not a bad record for a youth of 54. And such a plain one.

It's mighty easy to keep track of a man climbing a ladder. So long as he keeps straight, he goes up.

That's one difference between the ladder-way and the grape-vine route. A corkscrew is not the shortest line between two points.

The Open Door.

One of the greatest acts of President Roosevelt's life was his selection of Col. Goethals as the one man in the world to dig the Panama Canal. The colonel looks like the man he is. He isn't the kind of a man who brackets (applause) (laughter) (loud and long-continued applause) in his manuscript, like a Congressman. He cares as little for applause as a dog after a rabbit. He is a big man without padding. Tall and broad-shouldered, a soldier's bronzed face and a soldier's figure, which stands erect more easily than a rag doll flops, his snow-white hair and mustache mark the time when he quit growing old, at about 40.

One morning every week, Sunday morning, his office door stands wide open to every man who wants to see him. The humblest workman on the canal, and none of them are very humble—the occupation makes them aristocratic—walks in on the chief, with complaint, suggestion, or report. Every man receives a cordial and ready hearing. The workman's self-respect is gratified, the chief's dignity is not impaired. A small man could not afford to give half a day to listen to a thousand petty details of suggestion and complaint and application for this and that. It takes a man built on the Goethals model to do that without losing any time.

Delving Into Mysterious Secrets.

Once upon many times a Congressional delegation, several members of which had once seen the drainage canal at Chicago and were therefore considered by their fellow-statesmen as canal experts in canal construction, came down to Panama to investigate, that they might know whether Col. Goethals was doing the thing correctly or no. They made a special investigation of the construction of the Gatun Dam. One statesman questioned the stability of the dam.

"Can you tell me," he asked the engineer, "how it is possible that so small a body of earth can hold in check such an enormous body of water? It seems impossible to me."

But Col. Goethals explained that it was on the well-known principle of hydrostatics under which the pressure of a body of water is determined entirely by its height and not by its volume.

The statesman, unconvinced, shook his head. The dam must be made higher.

Then the colonel asked the Senator if he couldn't understand how the low, thick dikes of Holland held in check the entire Atlantic Ocean?

And one Senator went back to Washington knowing more than he did when he set out from thence.

TITIAN WILLIAMS BEATS CAMPI IN FIERCE FIGHT.

Two Bantams Battle Twenty Cyclonic Rounds With Honors Leading in Aggressiveness and Punching Power—Great Crowd Sees Fine Contest of Boxing and Slugging.

BY HARRY A. WILLIAMS.

[illegible] greatest little fighter of the decade—a combination of Ike Weir, the Belfast Spider, and Terry McGovern.

This was the stamp of approval placed on Kid Williams, the Baltimore marvel, when Referee Charles Eyton had raised the Dane's hand in token of victory over Eddie Campi, after the greatest twenty-round battle ever seen in the West at Vernon yesterday.

Both men were on their feet and strong at the end of the twentieth round. It was a grand, a superb battle, but the aggressiveness of Williams, coupled with a cleverness that almost equaled that of Campi, won him the decision.

Williams's victory is doubly notable because of the wonderful showing made by Campi, the newsboy, who sprang from the preliminary ranks to fight the main event. Campi's showing was almost equivalent to a victory.

In the estimation of those who witnessed the encounter, he ranks second to the bantamweights of today, and there are those who believe that he could turn the tables on Williams should the men be rematched. Williams's victory, however, was sufficiently decisive to entitle him to precedence.

TITANS' BATTLE.

It was a battle of miniature Titans, and cyclonic in every round. Neither man allowed the other an instant's respite. It seemed that flesh and blood could surely be consumed in the pace that each man set, but the final gong found them toe to toe, and flailing away as willingly as when they opened fire in the first round.

Twenty furious rounds, and neither man showing a mark, hardly an ounce, at the finish. That much for the sport of boxing, when really clever men don the gloves.

CAMPI SURPRISES.

Campi was a revelation to those who had predicted that he would be a set-up for fifteen rounds. Williams has a punch that would handicap a welterweight, and he played it ceaselessly to the body, but Campi was there at the finish and pining for more.

Campi also was in superb condition. No man not absolutely perfect phy-

Yesterday's Winner.

Kid Williams,

Who won the decision from Eddie Campi yesterday in one of the most brilliant fights ever seen in California.

FROM A CARR WINDOW.

ALMOST from the beginning, the French have been experts in the use of the rapier. The old Norsemen swept through the world with the battle ax.

And that was the story of yesterday's fight between Eddie Campi, the little French boy, and the Dane who calls himself Kid Williams.

Campi fought with almost bewildering brilliancy. But the rapier has never gone very far against the battle ax.

One extraordinary feature of Campi's boxing must have been noticed by every one at the ringside; he never countered. He led with wonderful straight jabs, or he was on the defensive. He never seemed to attempt to beat Williams to a blow.

Sammy Harris, the manager of Williams, said last night that Williams did not fight as well as in several other contests of his career.

"He complained," said Harris, "that he couldn't get started. He kept telling me between rounds until the tenth round that he felt heavy and lazy and his arms felt heavy. He couldn't get into action. After that, he breezed up and told me that he was feeling strong again."

Harris said that Campi's height was a severe handicap for the diminutive Dane.

"He told me when he came back to the corner," said Harris," that he could not reach Campi's face. The other boy was so tall that the kid had to jump up in the air. After a few rounds he stopped trying and contented himself with slamming into Campi's body."

Harris stated that one of the hardest blows Campi received during the fight was in the second round. Williams landed a straight left in his face that slowed him up perceptibly.

The worst for Williams were the twelfth and thirteenth, according to Harris, who denied, however, that Williams was hurt at any time during the fight.

"Campi is a much harder fighter than he appears to be," said Harris, "and he has a fine future before him. I believe that Williams could beat him every time if they fought a hundred times; but I feel sure that Campi can easily beat any other boy on the bantamweight division."

Williams expressed great surprise after the fight at the treatment he received during the fight.

"We had heard that a boy from the outside never got any kind of a deal against a native son; but I never saw such a fair-minded crowd. They cheered every blow I landed, the same as they did Campi's.

"Mr. Eyton is the best referee I ever was in the ring with. And I don't say this because he gave me the decision. Some referees try to attract attention to themselves by tearing the boxers apart. Sometimes they bear down on you with all their weight and bawl you out at the tops of their voices. Mr. Eyton just tapped us on the arms when he wanted us to break and spoke to us in a quiet voice, no one else could hear."

The last bell had hardly rung last night when one Frankie Burns began hurling telegrams over the wire, asking for Williams' next fight date.

Campi also asks for a return match. Le Doux, the French champion, is coming to America this spring again and also wants Williams.

Williams will not give any one of them a definite answer until he finds out whether or not Johnny Coulon is well enough to give him a crack at the championship.

Williams has decided to come out to California to live. He will probably go into vaudeville for a few weeks, after which he intends to buy a place at Venice and send for the remainder of the Gutonko family, there being eleven of the same.

BIG BOXING CARD ON FOR TONIGHT.

Boxing fans will tonight trek to Jack Doyle's gymnasium in Vernon for the monthly boxing card of the Columbia Athletic Club.

There will be fifteen three-round bouts between members of the club, which has enrolled some of the best amateurs in the southern part of the State.

The headliner will be between Tim Welsh, the "Cleveland Wildcat," and George Peterson, the "Peoria Baby." Welsh weighs 280 pounds, while Peterson tips the beam at 228, making it a bona-fide heavyweight attraction. The Metropolitan Kidding Club, headed by Judge Pontious (280 pounds) will attend in a body.

Clarence Hall will be the third man in the ring in all the events. The full card follows: Leo Duffin, vs. J. Crossman, Ray Lincoln vs. Harry Monroe, Buster Miller vs. Young Hart, Harry Tenbrook vs. Al Torres, Charley Carrilu vs. Buck Lahey, Eddy Gary vs. Joe Nieto, Joe Smead vs. Bill Malone, Texas Kid vs. Jimmy Lastro, Eddie Rothe vs. Motorman Percy, Joe Mendoza vs. Eddie Kenniston, Harry Hammer vs. Young Schuler, Jess Blancarte vs. Kid Rush, Arnold Masuch vs. Chip Moran, Vic Barsante vs. Kid Troncale, Tim Welsh vs. George Peterson, heavyweights.

ATHLETIC CLUB MEN EXPECT A VICTORY.

Advance sale of seats indicates that nearly a thousand persons will witness the big basketball game between the Los Angeles Athletic Club five and the boys from Whittier College, in the club gymnasium Thursday night.

The game will decide which team will meet Riverside Y.M.C.A., for the championship of Southern California. Thursday night will be the second regular mid-weekly ladies' night held in the club.

CAMPI WANTS ANOTHER FIGHT.

Tim McGrath, manager of Eddie Campi, will today challenge Kid Williams for a return battle, and back the den with a side bet of $2500.

"Williams took the decision over Campi, but did not whip him decisively," said McGrath. "If he couldn't whip him yesterday, he never will whip him.

"Campi made a wonderful fight—all will admit that—and is entitled to further consideration. Had I allowed him to cut loose sooner with his right he undoubtedly would have won. Because he had never been tested over the twenty-round route I held him back so as to avoid a possible "blow up." His strong finish convinced me that this was unnecessary.

"I will be on hand with $2500 tomorrow, and hope that Sam Harris will see fit to meet me."

FIGHT BY ROUNDS.

VAN COURT DECLARES DECISION WAS FAIR ONE.

Draw in Williams-Campi Contest Would Have Pleased Fight Bugs—Little Kid Is Very Strong in Countering—The Battle One of the Best Ever Seen in the South.

BY DE WITT VAN COURT.

KID WILLIAMS won a twenty-round decision over Eddie Campi in one of the fastest and most sensational fights ever pulled off in the South.

It was speed from start to finish and had the boxing fans on their feet most of the time. It was anybody's contest up to the fifteenth round.

For the first ten rounds Campi easily outpointed Williams, and in the twelfth it looked like Eddie would win by a knockout.

In that round Williams looked tired and Eddie was going great guns.

The decision was anything but a satisfactory one, and will call for another match between these boys before it will be definitely settled.

There has never been a contest in this southern country that has caused as many arguments. Many think Campi should have been given the decision, many think Williams won, and as many more think a draw would have been the perfect decision.

CAMPI BEST BOXER.

On boxing points alone, Campi won. But he did several things that no doubt caused Charlie Eyton to take credits from him. These principally were Eddie's constant holding in the clinches and hitting at times with his open gloves.

Both of these are strictly against the rules of boxing contests. Campi had a decided advantage in reach and height and put it all to good advantage. He also made good use of his straight left hand at all times.

As the contest progressed it was quite plain that Williams was easy to hit with a right-hand punch, but strange to say, Campi did not take advantage of his chance until the last three rounds, and then it appeared to be too late.

WEAK AT COUNTERING.

Eddie was also lacking in his countering and this was Williams's strong point. After the fifteenth round, Williams would wait for Campi to lead and counter strongly with a left-hand swing to the body. While these blows are never spectacular, they are always very effective and count greatly in a long contest.

Eddie hit too much with his open glove, and until he learns to hit better, will have a slim chance to be a champion.

SMITHSON IS BOUNCED OUT.

Southern Branch of A.A.U. Casts Him to One Side.

Northerners Reinstate Him Against the Rules.

Matter Is Placed Before the Eastern Authorities.

BY OWEN R. BIRD.

The case of Forrest Smithson, formerly Olympic hurdle champion, who was suspended last May by the local Registration Committee of the A.A.U. for taking the expense money of the L.A.A.C. and then running unattached in the Olympic tryout meet, and never accounting for the funds that he used for transportation and living while in San Francisco, was settled last night.

He was indefinitely suspended last spring by the local commission under article XI, section 13 of the A.A.U. rules. At the present time Smithson is in San Francisco and is trying to get back in the amateur ranks for the spring meets at the Olympic Club.

The northern officials ask the southern committee to reinstate Smithson at once. The local branch asks for further time to secure data on Smithson's actions since leaving the local district.

Not satisfied with this decision the northern officials at once reinstated the former Olympic champion against the wishes and advice of the southern branch. The National Committee in New York left the matter in the hands of the southern branch last spring. Now the San Francisco branch has overridden all authority and is trying to make a joke out of the S.P. A.A.U.

Yesterday a telegram was received stating that Smithson had been reinstated and that the local branch had better drop all further discussion.

The Southern Registration Committee met last night and decided to put the matter before the eastern authorities, but also voted to absolutely throw Smithson out of the A.A.U. for all time to come.

Under present conditions if he runs in the coming meets he will professionalize all the other contestants.

CORBETT PRAISES BOB M'ALLISTER.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 12.—"Bobby, you're a great natural fighter. I'm anxious to see you in action again."

So spoke veteran James J. Corbett today to Bobby McAllister, a boy of 19, who boxed three exhibition rounds with Joe Herrick of Chicago, professional, in the Olympic Club ring.

"This boy," said Corbett, "would make a good showing against any man in the ring today of the same weight."

It is planned to put on another short trial bout next Friday. McAllister weighed about 160 today and Herrick the same.

BERRY TO GO.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 12.—[By A. P. Night Wire to The Times.] Ed Spencer, formerly with the Boston Americans, has been signed by Cal Ewing of the San Francisco club as catcher for the 1915 season. The signing of Spencer means that Claude Berry will not be with the San Francisco club this season. Ewing has closed a deal by which Berry will go to the Spokane club of the Northwestern league.

AGNEW SIGNS FOR ST. LOUIS TEAM.

Sam Agnew, drafted by the St. Louis Americans from the Venice club, is no longer a hold-out.

A ten minutes' conference between Agnew and George Stovall, manager of the Browns, yesterday served to set things right. They met in Hogan's pool emporium, said "Howdy," retired to Hap's private office, and when they emerged a few minutes later both of them were all smiles, and Stovall had Agnew's signed contract.

This was the first time that Stovall and Agnew had met. When they got together and threshed the thing out it was found that there was not as great a salary difference between them as has been reported.

Stovall believes that he has a prize in Agnew, and the latter welcomes the chance to break into big league company under satisfactory conditions.

WELLS IS PEEVISH.

NEW YORK BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Feb. 13.—[Special Dispatch to Line.] Bombardier Wells said today if Luther McCarty continues dodging a meeting he will claim the heavyweight title by default. Now he is looking to meet Gunboat Smith at an early date, probably March 7. Eddie McGoorty's trip to Paris is off for the present. The bout between McGoorty and Frank Klaus, which was to have been staged in Paris, will probably be in this city.

The Tread that makes the Brake Effective

Goodrich Safety Tread Tires

Best in the Short Stop

Your brake will stop your wheels, but Goodrich Safety Treads stop the car,

They work where the real stopping is done.

The five thick, tough rubber fingers are always on duty, whether you're in an emergency situation or not. They are always making the path safe for the wheels.

They stop the slide that means the skid. In other words, they take the word "skid" out of your thoughts.

They help you to steer confidently, just as they help you to stop when you have to.

At this time of the year you must get into and out of a good many difficult places within every few blocks you travel. Skids are dangerous. Now that you can get Goodrich Safety Treads, skids are worse than dangerous, they are unnecessary.

Goodrich Safety Treads keep your car on the right path. They stop any slide, forward, backward, sidewise or diagonally.

The five thick, tough rubber fingers, the thick, tough tread and the strong, resilient body are all one piece—a unit. Goodrich Safety Tread Tires are made just as all Goodrich Tires are made—unit molded. The Goodrich single vulcanization actually molds the whole tire into one live, durable, safe structure. The tread being of the tire and not merely on it, does not strip or peel, and you are free from the danger caused by weak spots and dead places which result from over-vulcanization.

Make yourself, your family and your car safe by using Goodrich Safety Treads.

Williams Beats Campi.

WHIRLWIND FINISH.

Campi was there with a whirlwind finish. He slugged with Williams in the twentieth and fully held his own. Had he opened up sooner there could have been one of two results—he would have won or he would have been knocked out. Campi made a brave, a heroic finish, but I am inclined to think that the final gong was more welcome music to him than to Williams. Eddie's showing in the final round was due in no small measure to the admirable seconding of Tim McGrath.

REAL GAMENESS.

Not a gamer or more clever man than Campi ever stepped in a ring. It was his first main event. He simply met a man who is a greater marvel than himself.

Williams is a Colossus crammed into a capsule. He combines the strength and hitting power of a welterweight, with the speed and agility of a bantam. Those who saw him in action yesterday, are no longer at a loss to understand how he came to take a decision over Johnny Coulon, and why the latter does not seem to be particularly eager to meet him.

LATE APPEARANCE.

The men entered the ring late. The last preliminary was over by 2:55. The main event men did not appear for thirty-five minutes. This was due to a squabble in the dressing-rooms. Sam Harris would not permit Williams to enter the ring first, and Campi then took his time about taping his hands and other boudoir formalities. This was the only stalling of which either man was guilty.

Harry Burns whiled away the interim by introducing every boxer, past and present, who happened to be in the house. Bud Anderson, Willie Meehan, Manuel Vierra, Solly Burns, Spike Robson, Bull Young, Denver Jack Reyer, Jack White, "K. O." Brown, Jimmy Fox and Joe Rivers are just a few of those who made their bow to the arena under the melting eloquence of Mr. Burns.

EDDIE IS NERVOUS.

Campi crawled through the ropes, closely followed by Tim McGrath and Charley Cline. He appeared to be nervous. There was no trace of fear—rather he appeared to dread the ordeal of his first main event. There is no relation between fear and dread. Eddie was togged out in green trunks and a gray sweater, chopped off just above the elbows.

Williams wormed his way into the ring not more than twenty feet behind Campi. The Kid wore a black semi-skull cap, the like of which has never been seen in these parts. He was mantled in a bathrobe, which was more vari-colored than the coat which Joseph's brothers coveted.

PINK AND YELLOW.

The perfection of Campi's condition could be seen at a glance. Williams was as yellow as a carrot. That is his natural complexion, and deceived many into believing that he was a victim of yellow jaundice. When he got "het up," this saffron effect gave way to a bright pink.

At the gong, Williams advanced to the center confident; the trained soldier, who has been under fire. McGrath and Cline clung to Campi, whispered words of encouragement into his ear, and then sent him to the center with a friendly slap on each shoulder.

FIERCE INTRODUCTION.

Campi towered a full head over the dwarfed Hercules, who met him in the center of the ring. Eddie jabbed his left to Williams's "beezer" by way of introduction, and the Kid responded by sinking his right into Campi's ribs.

Campi danced around his sticky opponent, blocking the latter's leads, outpointing him and easily taking the round on points.

In the first three minutes Eddie made his opponent look slow, but Williams never lost his poise or his balance, and every time he landed it was with a solid thud that presaged ultimate victory.

Williams warmed to his work in the second, and began the relentless rushing that won for him in the end.

TIDE SHIFTS.

The tide of battle was vacillating. At no time did either man seem in imminent peril from a knockout. Campis blows had no appreciable effect on Williams. He shed them like a raincoat turns raindrops. Williams weakened himself through his own efforts once or twice, but Campi was unable to do anything decisive in these fleeting times of stress.

Campi came up strong in the third, and with more confidence. He was entitled to the round.

The fourth was fast. Campi boxed brilliantly. Williams would force him to the ropes, only to see him glide away wraith-like into safety. Williams was there with a strong finish, and earned an even break.

KILLING PACE.

All this time the men had been setting a killing pace, but the fifth was more furious than its predecessors. Honors were about even.

Campi seemed to tire in the sixth. He acted largely on the defensive. The round belonged to Williams. Campi was wild in the seventh and missed frequently. This was one of the several rounds in which Williams actually outboxed him. The ninth, the slowest round of the battle, belonged to Williams.

WHIRLWIND ROUND.

Campi was a revelation at the halfway mark, many having figured that he would have shot his bolt by that time. He came up strong in the tenth, and made it a whirlwind affair, with Williams wild and missing.

Campi also showed to advantage in the eleventh, but he seemed a bit tired in the twelfth, and Williams easily took that round and the next. Williams changed his tactics in the thirteenth. He rushed and played to the head and body at close quarters. Near the close of the round Campi stood toe-to-toe with him at close quarters, but Williams had him hugging at the bell. Campi's body was aglow with the marks of Williams's gloves.

WILLIAMS BEGINS.

Williams went out to settle the thing in the fourteenth. He shot out of his corner 116 pounds of tri-vitalized humanity. Nothing more irresistible for the weight has ever been turned loose in the ring. Eddie, superlatively skillful, not only stayed off disaster, but made almost an even thing of the round.

Campi began protecting himself by pinioning Williams's gloves under his arms in the fifteenth. But there was nothing crab-like about his defense. He continued to give blow for blow, but these did not carry as much steam as those of his opponent.

The sixteenth, when by all the recognized laws of nature, each man should have been spent, was the fastest unreeled. It was an even thing.

LITTLE FELLOW GAUNT.

Campi came up gaunt and worn for the seventeenth. He was forced to the extremity of human endeavor—forced by the feeling that the tide was turning against him. He fought as he had not fought before up to that time, and held his own with the fully-awakened Williams.

Williams opened the eighteenth with the first of a series of rushes that gave him the round. His assault was relentless. The crafty Campi began to bend, slowly crumple, but he boxed back courageously, and protected himself with consummate skill in the clinches.

Eddie appeared tired in the nineteenth, and boxed largely on the defensive. He was husbanding his strength for the final sortie.

Campi opened up in the twentieth, and converted the round into a give-and-take affair. He boxed with the desperation born of the knowledge that nothing short of a would win him the battle. But Williams was not to be denied. Campi's right found his head time and again. Those which were not glancing he shook off, and charged in with left and right to the body.

Both men were going at top speed when the bell terminated the battle, which deserves to go down in the records as one of the classics of the ring—a battle that was Homeric without being brutal.

NELSON WINS AGAIN.

TAMAQUA (Pa.) Feb. 12.—[Special Dispatch to The Times by Federal (Wireless) Line.] Battling Nelson knocked out Harry Dillon of New York in the tenth round of their bout here last night. Dillon was down four times and when hitting the canvas flat on his face for the fifth time, the club physician stopped the battle fearing a fatality. Nelson was in great condition and fought the entire ten rounds at lightning speed.

BASKETBALL GAME.

Hollywood High School and Manual Arts basketball teams will meet tonight for the second time this season, in the gymnasium of the Los Angeles Athletic Club.

CHICAGO BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Feb. 12.—[Special] Ed McKeown, a prominent lumber man and for many a follower of fighters, the sport Chicago from the Pacific coast, declares his willingness to put up $10,000 or any part of that sum that Luther McCarty can whip Jack Johnson in the world.

"I don't know much about Willard. Some one has credited with beating Moran in New York last year. However, I think he could repeat and so retain title to his $100,000 championship open. I will put up a certified check any time and any place to bind the end and let the man get the money or a ring and decide the issue.

[BY FEDERAL (WIRELESS) LINE TO THE TIMES.]

INDIANAPOLIS, Feb. 12.—[Special Dispatch.] Willie Ritchie has received an offer for three months on the English stage, two in Paris and two in Berlin.

The lightweight champion is considering his eleventh week of training with nineteen more to go. He will accept the offer if terms are granted.

"We will sail the first week in June if our business can be settled," Nolan said today. "There is no place in Europe and then we will be the best man in the lightweight class. To me three of them are dead beat out by themselves or by Ritchie. They are Welgast, Moran and Rivers."

NEW YORK, Feb. 12.—[Special Night Wire.] Hannes Kolehmainen of Finland, the Olympic 10-mile champion, today clipped 11 1-5 seconds off the American indoor record for the three-mile indoor run in the Armory of Brooklyn in the mile race in the Millrose games. The previous record was held by G. V. Bonhag.

COUNTRY CLUB GOSSIP

BY ALMA WHITTAKER.

THE San Gabriel Country Club celebrated Lincoln's Birthday with no less than two golf events—handicap match play in the morning and four-ball foursomes in the afternoon.

H. N. H. Woodcock was the hero of the morning event—a twice-told hero—winning both the best gross and the best net prizes with a score of 2 down to par on 1 handicap. He had a medal score of 78, after being 4 down at the seventh—a homeward half of 37 and the long hole in a most recherche 5.

His card will be interesting. Out, 4, 5, 4, 6, 3, 7, 4, 3, 5—41; home, 5, 4, 5, 4, 4, 5, 3, 4, 5—37. All of which means that he is playing a good deal better than last week and will cut no end of a dash when he marshals his team into Long Beach for the Virginia attack on Saturday.

The cup for this event is a handsome one in the series subscribed for by the club. It will now take on added value by being inscribed with the hero's name, while said hero must find room on his trophy shelf at home for a small replica thereof. He will not claim the gross prize, however, as it is unseemly that one pair of shoulders should carry all the honors in such very tangible form, so this will be played for again.

But the most jubilant person in San Gabriel today is Jim Parker—your pardon, monsieur, James, of course. He it is who takes second place in the handicap event with a net score of 3 down to par! For weeks he had been looking so dejected that his marriage seemed imminent but today all his old bachelor debonair is back again. Second only to Woodcock, my dear fellow! And let us hope no one will think it necessary to mention handicaps. Certainly not.

The Best Ball Foursomes.

The best ball foursomes in the afternoon were won by George Cline and Frank Dillon, who had a best ball of 74—all square with par on 3 handicap.

The humans officers "crabbed" the pony express race for him, the judges disqualified him in the Roman event, Johnny Baldwin pulled a putrid number on him in the relay race and he was left out of the trick riding contest. "Happy Jack" Hawn of Fresno won the cattle-cutting event, the other contestants being disqualified for running over the time limit.

Tillie Baldwin won the cowgirl relay again. Marme Saunders of Boulder, Colo., was second, and Lolita Moberly of Fresno, third. The cowboy quick change race was won by W. Davis, with Bill Anderson second.

"Doc" Stanley won the cowboy pony express event and Ben Corbett was second. The rules require that a rider must be standing on the backs of his horses before they have traveled 100 feet beyond the starting post. Jay Stanley's horses were not running together and he failed to get up.

CLUB GOSSIP.

A WHITTAKER.

They played round with Wood and March, and Cline in practice showed excellent form.

The second prize fell to J. S. Talcott and Atkinson with 1 down. Hamilton, Howard and Stanley ran them close with a net 2 down on 5 handicap.

The course was in splendid condition and there was a large and very amiable attendance.

The Los Angeles Country Club, Beverly, too, was in splendid condition and never had a Wednesday afternoon so large an attendance. There were 110 golfers out playing matches and ninety-eight of them sat down to lunch.

The interest of the afternoon centered in the Los Angeles-Virginia match, which was postponed a week ago last Saturday. Seven to seven was the result of the Virginia team.

Capt. Goodhue must be rather wishing he had brought them to a match yesterday after all—it would have been some solace to blame the loss on. Oh well, such things have happened much older and more experienced teams than Long Beach.

The Long Beach men were A. W. Goodhue, W. W. Campbell, Dr. A. Llewellyn Mixby, T. A. Cooper, F. Browning and J. S. Talcott.

Mr. Campbell played for Capt. Mr. Goodhue played Dr. Foote, Dr. Mixby played L. T. Brodrick, Mr. Talcott played Edward B. Fox, Mr. Browning played J. S. Hellman and Mr. Cooper played J. S. Talcott. Some of the scores are appended that you know such things mean to a (more or less) fussy golfer.

Next Saturday the qualifying round will play the qualifying heat of the winter handicap, which had to be postponed last week. The best of the Virginia team will go to Long Beach over the Virginia course on Saturday for Sunday. The one match the Virginia losers. On Saturday also the Redondo team will visit Riverside for the return league match with the latter club.

Sacramento Girl Gets Hard Fall from Bucker.

How to Tackle the Black Terror at Rodeo.

Cowgirl Rider Is Modern Ben Hur in Relay.

BY AL. G. WADDELL.

Bucky was the picked-out kid at the Rodeo yesterday. The humans who "rodeoed" the pony express out for him, the judges disqualified in the Roman event, Johnny Baldwin pulled a putrid number on Shorty in the relay race and he was left out of the trick riding contest. Bronco Jack" Dixon of Fresno won the bronk-outing event, the other contestants being disqualified for running over the time limit.

Mrs. Baldwin won the cowgirl relay race. Berna Saunders of Boulder, Colo., was second, and Lolita Avery of Fresno, third.

The cowboy quick change race was won by W. Davis, with Bill Anderson second.

Jack Stanley, "the cowboy with the iron jaw," and Ben Corbett was thrown. The rules require that a rider must be standing on the backs of his horses before they have traveled beyond the starting post. Stanley's horses were not running fast enough and he failed to get up.

ONE GIRL DUMPED.

Miss Dukes of Sacramento was the only girl to suffer injury yesterday. She drew Brandy, a wild bronk, and after a hard fight was pitched full on the fence and the ground. At first it was believed she would be killed, but in a few minutes managed to get clear of the horse's hoofs and escaped with a few bruises on the track.

Bucky Shorty rode Magpie. "Prairie Rose" rode Black Bear. Hazel Walker rode Jackie.

Jack Stanley came out with a string of horses for the pony express relay, but the humane officers interfered and he had to take the horses out. It is said that his trained horse was so badly crippled that he had to be pulled off the track by his trainer. Some of the horse's leg was broken, it is reported, possess rather than ponies.

Efforts were of no avail, however, to induce Stanley to take the horse out. This weakened his mile race in the Thirteenth Regiment Armory at Brooklyn in 14m. 31 2-5s. The previous record was held by G. V. Bembag.

Smythe Addison,

riders were cut down to six. Those who still have a chance to win the world's championship in this event are Johnny Agee, Scout Maish, Johnny Baldwin, Art Acord and Jack Hoxie. For some reason, Jay Stanley, Vester Pegg and the Seale brothers were among the culls. Stanley took the "can" with a smile, but believed that he should have been a member of the upper half-dozen chosen for the finals.

Two game lads tried to ride Sharkey, the bucking bull, but the $10 offered by the management to anyone who will ride the bull for ten seconds still is in the Rodeo till.

The cowboy bucking contest was better yesterday than on any of the previous days of the broncho convention.

John Spain, who came all the way from Oregon to ride Cyclone, lasted but a second on the horse's back and is nursing a sprained ankle as the result of his encounter with the great bucker.

PHOTOPLAYER SLATED.

Today Smythe Addison, leading man with the Ocean-to-Ocean Highway motion picture company, is to tackle Cyclone. He promises an interesting comedy for the spectators, but many of his friends have advised him to have a hearse near at hand, as the horse act may develop tragic proportions.

Ben Corbett of Union, Or., was thrown hard by Circle Dot, but the other horses were conquered by the daring cowmen. R. W. Allison rode Corkscrew, C. Burrell rode Blue Blazes, T. F. Henderson rode High Ball, Harry Knight rode Sky Rocket and White Pelican. Harvey McCrea rode Red Cross, Jay McAruchia rode the fierce Gaviota, Jesse Briscoe rode Moonshine, Jim Kiehr tamed Speed Ball.

Round 12—This was the fastest round of the fight so far. It was all Campi and he landed his blows so fast and often that it was impossible to keep track of them. He smothered Williams all through the round and it looked for a few seconds as though he might win by a knockout, but he did not have the punch.

Round 14—They rushed to a clinch. When they broke Williams landed a left swing to the body. Kid missed a left swing to the face and they went into another clinch. Eddie put a left to the face and they clinch. Both landed hard with rights to the body. Eddie put two lefts to the face without a return. Williams put a left and right to the body. Campi placed several lefts to the face and Kid landed several good body blows and they clinched.

Round 19—Williams landed a left to the body and Eddie a left to the same place. Clinch. Campi put a right to the body and two lefts to the face and they clinch. Kid put a right to the body, Campi a right to the body and there was another clinch. Eddie put a left and right to the face and another left to the face and then clinched. Williams is roughing it hard again. Campi puts a right to the ear and they slug hard to a clinch. Eddie puts a left swing to the body and a left to the ear. Williams put a hard right to the body and they slug each other hard after the bell rings until separated by Eyton.

Round 20—They both mix it fast and hard, after shaking hands. Eddie is using his right hand often and if he had started in sooner, might have won the decision. He put two hard rights to the Kid's ear and they clinch. When they broke, Eddie put a good hard right left and right to the Kid's face. Eddie put another left to the face and they clinch. Williams put a left to Eddie's face and they clinch. Eddie put a left to the face and a left to the body. Kid landed a left to the ear and clinched. Campi put another right to the ear and Williams a left to the face. Campi put a left and right hard to the Kid's face and clinched. Williams put a left to Eddie's ear and Eddie landed a hard right to Williams's ear again. This was Campi's round by a big margin. Williams is given the decision.

FAIR PRELIMS.

The first preliminary was won by Sam Morris, one of Eddie Campi's sparring partners after four rounds of comedy with Eddie Fitzgerald. They boxed at 132 pounds. Fitz looked like a slat, but had a punch for a skinny guy. Near the end of the first round, Morris hit the slat so hard on the jaw that he knocked a bunch of chewing gum out of his own mouth. Fitz insisted on holding his face down near the floor and the only place Sammy could hit him was on the back between his shoulders.

Where in the name of heavens did Harry Burns dig up this boob? It is needless to say that Morris was given the decision.

The second preliminary between Solly Burns and Babe Picato was called off, much to the disappointment of the fans, owing to the death of Picato's sister Tuesday.

Curley O'Neil and Buster Miller were substituted instead and were scheduled for six rounds. They boxed at 122 pounds. Curley nearly dropped Miller near the end of the first round with a right to the jaw. In the second round Buster turned the tables on O'Neil and dropped him with the same kind of a punch.

The third round was all O'Neil. He jabbed the buster boy all over the ring with his left hand.

The fourth round was a repetition of the preceding one and was all Curley's.

The fifth found Buster nearly out near the end, but Curley could not finish him.

Near the end of the sixth, Bill Huddy, who was seconding Miller, threw the towel into the ring to save Miller from further punishment. Miller was game and protested Huddy's action. But in justice to Miller, he was given only a few hours' notice and did not have time to train. In condition, he would put up a much better contest.

WITH THE PHOTOPLAYERS.

BY AL G. WADDELL.

TICKETS for the Photoplayer's Ball, which is to be held at the Shrine Auditorium tomorrow evening, will be on sale today at the Hinman Hotel and the Bartlett Music Company. Tickets may also be procured at the different studios during the day. This evening, all unsold tickets are to be turned in at the Selig studio in Edendale. At a late hour last night, it was reported that out of the 10,000 tickets issued, there were less than 200 unsold.

An attractive delegation from the Universal spent the early hours of last evening in the city selling tickets to the ball. Members of the party were Louise Glaum, Nestor Comedy Company; Edna Maison, Nestor Dramatic; Lillian Herbert, Rex Dramatic; Victoria Forde, 101 Bison, and Mrs. Eugenie Forde of the Rex Dramatic, who acted in the capacity of chaperon.

Director Francis Ford of the 101 Bison Company is producing "The Battle of Bull Run" at Universal City. This is one of the usual difficult productions in which the able director excels.

Harry Blakemore, who is now playing character parts in the Powers Comedy Company of the Universal, is the same Harry Blakemore who appeared in the "Traveling Salesman" for several seasons and with T. Daniel Frawley for four years. He is one of the real big men of the stage now in pictures.

The Keystone Company has just finished a clever comedy picture in which Fred Mace appears as a much mutilated police judge.

Smythe Addison, leading man of the Ocean-to-Ocean Highway Company, may not be able to attend the Photoplayer's Ball, tomorrow night. He is slated to try to ride the bucking horse, Cyclone, at the Rodeo this afternoon. This horse has a record of four men and Addison admits that he is not an expert rider, but is taking the chance for the sake of his company's camera.

One of the children working in the picture which H. Mathews is now producing, is Marion Emmons, a bright little actor of seven. This juvenile photoplayer has appeared in a great number of pictures for the Universal. The lad has acted in more than 350 productions, appearing for the Biograph, Pathe, Kinemacolor and other companies.

Milton H. Fahrney, the Nestor director, is making an interesting western romance picture. The scenario was written by the director and his wife, and like all their other stories, is true to life and full of western color. The leading characters are being played by Belle Bennett, Paul Machette, Virginia Neal and Jefferson Osbourne.

Another great Kinemacolor production is "Feathertop." The story is virtually Hawthorne's witch tale of that title. The first scenes show the scarecrow in the corn field. By her power, the witch endows this scarecrow with life and sends it to win the daughter of an enemy. There is a wonderful scene in the picture. "Feathertop" sees himself in a mirror, as he is, a scarecrow; and he is seen at the same time as a gorgeously dressed prince. When he sees that he has life, but not a soul, he breaks the charm; and the last scene shows him in the corn field again, at sunset, scaring the birds away.

A snappy and entertaining comedy picture is being produced by David Wall, the Powers director. The scenario was written by Boots Wall, (Margaret Vollmer,) and is the story of five girls who form an anti-flirting society, but all break their vows on account of one man. The clever acting of Boots Wall, Lee Morris and the director, promises to make this picture a popular one.

Phillips Smalley and Lois Weber are producing "The Peace Maker," by Lois Weber herself. This story is fully up to the standard of those produced by Mr. Smalley and Miss Weber in the past and is being well acted by them, assisted by Miss Lois Howard. The characters which put the comedy in Richard Willis's "bully class" are a loving blacksmith, self-sacrificing woman, frivolous young sister and a bewhiskered stranger. If all blacksmiths were as handsome as Phillips Smalley, matinee idols would be out of luck.

Expert Testimony.

KNOCKOUT BROWN GIVES ADVICE TO REDUCING LADY.

KNOCKOUT BROWN has undertaken to give a little advice to the little Morosco actress who is trying to take off weight enough to play Oliver Twist in the forthcoming Kat Goodwin production.

The little boxer met the lady by accident at the theater yesterday.

"Say," he said, blushing furiously, "are you the girl that's trying to take off eight pounds?"

Miss Valentine truthfully admitted it. "I have run the bottom off my shoes," she said, "but I can't seem to get any thinner."

"Road work ain't no good for you," said Kayo bashfully. "A girl ain't strong enough to do enough of it to make her thin. What you ought to do is to box."

"How do you do it?" asked Miss Valentine.

"If I had some boxing gloves, I would show you," said Kayo.

Some one sent for a set of gloves, and the ingenue had the distinction of pommeling the countenance that is worn with dents from the fists of Wolgast, McFarland, Attel and all the rest of the stars.

"How thin are you now?" asked K. O. when they took off the gloves at last.

"How thin are you? Haven't I hammered ten pounds off your face?" retorted the ingenue.

NATIONAL LEAGUE HAS QUIET SESSION.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, Feb. 12.—With the adoption of the playing schedule for 1918 the club owners in the National League ended today one of the shortest and most peaceful sessions in the league's history.

The schedule calls for 154 games, the season opening with one exception on April 10, and ending October 6. The game originally scheduled between Philadelphia and Brooklyn for April 17 has been brought forward to April 9.

The opening games, aside from the advanced Brooklyn opening, are Boston at New York, St. Louis at Chicago, and Pittsburgh at Cincinnati. Brooklyn opens the season in Philadelphia on that day.

Comparison of the two major league schedules shows only four conflicting dates, all at Chicago, April 27, May 4 and 25, and August 31.

McCORMICK WINS.

TUXEDO PARK (N. Y.) Feb. 12.—[By A. P. Night Wire.] Harold F. McCormick of the University Club, Chicago, won the national championship at racquets today, defeating Ernest Greenshields, Jr., of the tennis and racquet club of Montreal three games to one in the final round for the gold racquet championship on the courts of the Tuxedo Tennis and Racquet Club. The Canadian won the first game after an uphill fight, 15-12. The next three went to the Chicagoan, 15-2, 15-2, 15-6. Although the score looks easy, it was a hard fight all the way.

UP AND DOWN BROADWAY.

By "ZIP."

THE OTHER morning I invited correspondence on anything theatrical. Nine letters today is the answer, in fact, the mail is increasing. And it's everything from asking a young actress's age to a very pointed criticism of Paul Armstrong's "A Love Story of the Ages," now running at the Morosco Theater.

And this last, which consumed four typewritten pages, is very interesting. So much so, in fact, that here goes a goodly portion of it. I neglected to state that it hails from one Harold Miller of Pasadena.

At the close he asks me to say nothing about the name Harold—so, Harold, being of an obliging nature, I will not mention Harold again.

Mr. Miller's comment is as follows: "Concerning "A Love Story of the Ages:"

The stage setting is wonderfully well done; the acting is, almost without exception, excellent; the idea is a great one—and the play is punk.

Mr. Armstrong seems to have tried to do something that is far beyond him; he should return to his crook plays. (No doubt he will follow my advice.)

In the first place, he has drawn too heavily upon his fancy. If the two principals were the only ones affected by the reincarnation, we could get it better and with less of a strain on our imaginations. But to have almost the entire cast double in this fashion is ridiculous.

Think of it for a moment; granted that all the Egyptians' souls were passed on through life after life, how much probability is there that this same group that had so much to do with each other on the banks of the Nile would ever get together within the confines of one city, and one social set, and under the same practical conditions, centuries after, and have the same problem to attack and solve that troubled them in the first life? The idea is grotesque.

Another thing; the posturing in the first two acts. What right have we to believe that the Egyptians in actual life so carried their hands and arms and heads as the drawings they have left us show?

The opening of the play is very effective, doubtless, but it is not art.

Do you think this play would have been a success in a town not so well acquainted with Mr. Armstrong? I am wondering. The eastern production will be of great interest to me.

All right, Mr. Miller. In many ways I quite agree with you, and in many others I do not.

There are a thousand chances for argument and discussion in "A Love Story of the Ages."

I will not attempt to defend Mr. Armstrong in any particular. What you say about the two principals and not the whole cast being affected by the reincarnation may all be perfectly true—it might have made better drama.

Anyway, I will give you the answer that I think you would get from Mr. Armstrong, should the letter have been addressed to him. He would very probably have pulled a little bunch of box office statements out of his pocket and pointed out to you the fact that over 20,000 people have paid real money to see "A Love Story of the Ages."

Byron Ongley, a well-known producer and director, also an author of considerable note, will soon join the authors' colony n Los Angeles. Mr. Ongley writes that he will accompany John Cort to the Coast, leaving New York in time to witness the initial production of "The Elixir of Youth" at the Burbank next week.

Mrs. Langtry's one week at the Orpheum is likely to pack that theater to the doors, as of course every one wants to see the "Lily" and her famous gowns perhaps for the last time. Mrs. Langtry, by the way, will not bathe in any champagne while here—she never did it, anyhow, and would have little cause for that in Los Angeles' "liquid sunshine" climate.

The Los Angeles friends of Thais Magrane, a former leading actress of the Belasco Stock Company, will regret to know that this talented and popular actress has got in the spotlight by reason of her application to have the courts of her native St. Louis free her from her matrimonial relations with Husband Prescott.

According to Miss Magrane's petition, she suffered every sort of cruelty that is to be found in a divorce proceeding, but when Husband Prescott contracted the habit of drawing her salary and expending the major portion of it upon himself, the Magrane patience reached the snapping point—and snapped.

Miss Magrane is playing the role of "Everywoman" in Mr. Savage's eastern company this season, and inasmuch as the actress' native town is not included in the itinerary of the company, the divorce proceedings cannot be considered under the head of press work.

All of the local reviewers seem to have found considerable to write concerning Grace Valentine, the charming little ingenue of the Morosco company.

She has been making aeroplane ascensions, breaking automobile records, in fact, everything this little lady attempts promptly finds its way into print. Now she is a nice little girl and I think we all like her and her work, but it forces me to recall that once upon a time a certain lady named Marjorie Rambeau caused just as much comment. But Marjorie couldn't stand it and neither could her manager, so they parted company.

However, Miss Valentine seems a level-headed little lady and there will probably be no disastrous results, but it is just as well to add that Miss Rambeau is now doing three-a-day vaudeville.

Dean Worley, who is in San Diego trying to settle the war between the Sullivan & Considine and the Pantages bill posters last night sent a hurry call for a force of reserves.

The Worley wire concluded: "Try and get Joe Rivers, Bull Young, Kid Williams, Eddie Campi, Knockout Brown and Al Palser, if he is in the country.

Decision Was Fair.

going to Eddie. He was always a dangerous hitter up to the last blow struck.

Williams also upset my judgment of his condition. When he entered the ring, he looked pale and drawn and at times got very tired. But after a few rounds the healthy color came back in his skin and he set a fast pace to the finish.

SMALL MARGIN.

The kid did not win by a big margin, by any means, and has little to brag about. On the other hand, Campi showed great form and deserves a world of credit for doing as well as he did.

Williams is up to all the dirty tricks of the ring and started in the first round, to use them, but was immediately called down by Charlie Eyton. He was there with his head in the clinches and would have done a lot of damage to Eddie if he had been allowed to get away with it.

Campi complained after the contest that his Adam's apple was sore from where Williams butted him in the first round. Williams was also using his elbow in the clinches and was warned by Eyton for this.

The contest was between a hard, rugged slugger, and a fast, clever boxer without a punch, and the slugger won.

Williams used his right hand little, depending mostly on his left. He was used unsure to do anything damaging in the clinches with Eddie. Campi is clever at blocking and clinching. Aside from these few infringments of the rules, it was one of the cleanest and cleverest bouts ever seen in Southern California.

Senator Brown, who has a bill before the Legislature to stop boxing in this State, was an interested spectator to the bouts.

If the Senator can find anything degrading in a contest of that kind, we had better get back to the Pilgrim days as soon as possible.

Many prominent business and professional men were at the ringside and enjoyed every blow struck.

When seen in the dressing-rooms after the contest, Eddie Campi, said; "I thought I won the decision and should have been given it. Williams hurt me when he butted me in the throat. I was also afraid of Eyton, who paid no attention to my protests.

Williams had nothing to say at all, other than that Campi held his arm too much.

Tim McGrath, Campi's manager, was a good loser and was pleased with the showing that Eddie made and he may well be proud of it.

FINE SHOWING MADE.

When we stop to consider that this was Campi's first main event, outside of the four-round game, he made a wonderful showing. From there to boxing a man who claims the championship of his class, is going some for a young fellow just starting out as a professional, and losing by such a small margin is better still.

I am, and always have been, a great admirer of Charlie Eyton's judgment, and do not believe in draw contests, but in this particular case a draw would have satisfied the fans better. I, personally, believe the decision was correct.

TOO MUCH DELAY.

There was a long unnecessary delay by the boys in entering the ring. This was said to be from Kid Williams refusing to enter the ring until Campi was ready. This should have been attended to by the management and the fighters should never be allowed to dictate in these matters.

Before the fighters entered the ring, Harry Burns, announced that there would be no betting allowed in the Vernon arena. A good thing for the game, if it can be stopped.

Bud Anderson, Willie Meehan, a San Francisco middleweight; Manuel Vierra, Solly, Burns, Spike Robson, an old-time English fighter, who has fought the best lightweights in this country; Bull Young, Jack Geyer, Joe Rivers, Knockout Brown, Jack White and Jimmie Fox were introduced in the ring during the walk.

BIG CROWD PRESENT.

The attendance was 9000 and the receipts were $6842. Both boys were given a guarantee.

Williams refused to toss for corners and gave Campi the choice. Eddie took the southwest corner and Williams the northeast.

Campi was seconded by Tim McGrth, his brother Knockout Campi and a couple of towel swingers. Spider Kelly was not able to get here to assist McGrath.

Williams was seconded by his manager, Sammy Harris, and three towel swingers.

HOCKEY PRACTICE ON SATURDAY.

The second of a series of cup matches, for the Neil Nettleship trophy and the ladies' hockey championship of Southern California, will be played at Exposition Park on Washington's Birthday, February 22. The competing teams will be Duarte, the present pennant holders, and Los Angeles. The "bully-off" will be at 1:30 o'clock.

On Saturday there will be a practice game between members of the Los Angeles, Manual Arts High, Y.W.C.A., and the University of Southern California players. This will be for the purpose of choosing the team to play Duarte in the cup match. The "bully-off" will be at 2:30 p.m.

EX-CHAMPS DO WELL.

NEW YORK, Feb. 12.—[By A. P. Night Wire to The Times.] In the opening rounds of the national indoor lawn tennis championship tournament on the courts of the Seventh Regiment armory here today, the two former holders of the title—T. R. Pell, G. F. Touchard and W. C. Grant, the present champion, were successful in maintaining their places. One match was decided in the doubles, Grant and Shafer defeating Phillips and Voshell 6-1, 6-3.

E. T. Doeg, a Californian who has been abroad for ten years, proved a sensation. He gained the third round, defeating A. R. Dunham, 3-6, 6-2, 6-2, and Harry Park 6-3, 6-3.

MAYOR OBJECTS.

CHICAGO, Feb. 12.—[By A. P. Night Wire.] Mayor Harrison expressed his disapproval today of the boxing bill now before the Legislature. He believes that each municipality should be given authority to regulate and control its own boxing entertainments. The bill provides for a State commission and ten-round bouts.

STANFORD WINS.

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Feb. 12.—[By A. P. Night Wire.] Stanford University defeated St. Mary's College of Oakland, in a fast baseball game here today, by a score of 6 to 0. Noonam, right fielder, and Maple, pitcher, new men on the Stanford team, made exceptionally good showing.

THE KALEM FILM AT AUDITORIUM.

SPECIAL PROGRAMME OF MERIT BY QUARTETTE.

Big Hastings at the Organ and St. Vincent Quartette Present Fine Selection of Sacred Music—Admirable Film Fails to Attract Fine Throngs.

BY HECTOR ALLIOT.

At the private view of "From the Manger to the Cross" it was thought advisable to have an explanatory text read before each one of the five parts covering the wonderful film.

In its public presentation that feature has wisely been omitted and instead Ray Hastings at the organ and the St. Vincent quartette give a special musical programme.

At all times the choir is invisible behind the screen upon which are flashed the pictures.

Melville Rutherford, tenor; Edwin Evans, baritone; Miss Blanche Beesemueller, and Mrs. M. Whitehorn, organ, compose the quartette.

Throughout the evening old hymns were sung and the organ was played almost continuously. Among many excellent selections, Gounod's "Benedictus" St. Cecilia Mass, and a sanctus and benedictus composed by a local artist of talent, Thomas Wilde, were given in succession.

Before the announcement of this new picture presentation was first made the universal opinion was that the Auditorium had crowded the Auditorium day after day, standing room only, and at a premium for this week and the Auditorium, with its experienced judgment of what the public's final verdict. Large people filled the balconies, while the main body of the house, on the third night of "From the Manger to the Cross."

The explanation of this evident lack of interest is difficult to give, when one considers the merit of the production, which, outside of a certain lack of familiarity evident to those versed in the sequence of biblical events, is admirable.

Those who witness the Passion Play as given, and one might well do so, the Kalem film, produced in Palestine and Egypt, might at least arouse as much curiosity, if not interest.

It is some of this public indifference which is explained by the attitude of many of the various persons present last night.

Two of an artist and two theatrical managers who were discussing the merits of R. Henderson Bland as the Christ, Gene Gauntier as Mary Magdalene, Robert Vignola as Judas, were caustic impersonators. Acting of parts reverendly and with impressionality in a setting impressive and historical.

As a Roman Catholic many interpretations, especially the Annunciation, seemed to be lacking in the most of the most conceptions, are inconsistent.

At the Morosco—"Oliver Twist."

"A Love Story of the Ages" is nearing the end of its career at the Morosco Theater. This is the last week of the Paul Armstrong play of reincarnation and while the playhouse is crowded at each performance the piece will be withdrawn Sunday night, to make way for the special starring engagement with the Morosco Producing Company, of Nat C. Goodwin.

This eminent actor will be seen in the Comyn Carr version of Dickens's "Oliver Twist." Goodwin will have the part of Fagin in which he achieved one of the most brilliant successes of his career at the New Amsterdam Theater, New York, a year ago. Harrison Hunter will be seen as Bill Sykes; Helen Robertson will have the part of Nancy Sykes and Grace Valentine will be the Oliver of the performance. A production of special worth is promised for "Oliver Twist" and everything will be done in a managerial way to make the Goodwin engagement at the Morosco the most important and notable event of the year. The seat sale which has been in progress since Monday morning, makes it apparent that the Morosco will be crowded at each performance.

The "One Hundred Years of Mormonism" motion pictures at the Majestic Theater are creating a great deal of interest, not only among those who have an especial interest in the subject of the film, but among persons who follow the development of the moving pictures of the more elaborate sort. The Majestic Theater engagement is for this week only and the final display of the story of the Mormon Church will be given Saturday night.

In "Algeria"—Victor Herbert's most successful piece of recent production—Kolb and Dill are said to be provided with capital chances for fun making, while their organization, headed by Maude Amber and Winfield Blake, is bigger and more plentifully supplied with good looking chorus girls than ever. The seat sale for "Algeria" with Kolb and Dill, will begin this morning at the Majestic Theater box office.

Notwithstanding the success of "Mother" at the Burbank, this popular Jules Eckert Goodman's domestic comedy will be succeeded Sunday afternoon by Zella Covington's new comedy, "The Elixir of Youth." Mr. Covington will be seen in the chief role, with the entire Burbank organization in the contributing parts. "The Elixir of Youth" is described as a comedy of an entirely new character, one that not only has a lot of genuinely good, clean fun, but a story of unusual interest, with a novel treatment and altogether uncommon development.

The current Empress bill headed by Fred Karno's big London company of comedians in his latest laughing success "The Wow-Wows," is attracting capacity audiences to the Empress Theater at every performance.

The new bill coming to the Empress Theater next Monday afternoon will have as its headline attraction, Nick Kaufman's famous roller skating girls, from the Berlin Wintergarden.

Other acts on the new bill will be Marie Stoddard; George Leonard and company in the merry musical skit, "The Maid and the Meddler;" Les Adlers, Lola Paulisch, Gilbert Losee and the new comedy and news pictures.

This is the final week of the remarkably fine motion pictures showing Blanche Walsh in her great performance of Katusha Maslova in Count Leo Tolstoy's dramatic masterpiece, "The Resurrection," at the Lyceum.

On Monday afternoon another especially attractive feature film will come to the Lyceum Theater, showing every detail of the thrilling several days' incidents of the recent big round-up at Pendleton, Or. This is probably the greatest of all of the truly picturesque western events and one in which every cow puncher, roper and rider of any fame, in America, participated. The pictures will be shown every day from 11 a.m., to 11 p.m., and a popular scale of prices from 10 to 25 cents will prevail.

The seat sale for the long-anticipated engagement of David Warfield at the Mason Operahouse next week will open Thursday. He appears in "The Return of Peter Grimm," one of David Belasco's most interesting and most unusual plays.

BURKE'S Dry Gin will agree with you. It is pure and wholesome and an excellent stomachic.

Operatic Stars.

PROSPECTIVE TOURISTS SEND ADVANCE ORDERS.

Extraordinary Interest Is Shown in the Coming Engagement of the Chicago Grand Opera Company. Mischa Elman, the Violinist, Passed Through Los Angeles.

The eyes of the entire musical East are turned upon Los Angeles and the fact that we are to enjoy seven splendid operatic events.

Wires were received yesterday from the editor of Pearson's Magazine asking for six season tickets to be laid away for his Philadelphia party; Mr. Seligman, the well-known banker in New York City, ordered a bunch of season tickets for his family, and from Detroit came season orders for the Mershons, and from Chicago Mr. Ulrich wired groups of orders covering at least twenty parties who will be here visiting at that time. From every section of the Union are coming mail orders for those who are interested in the grand opera in the house and who will be among our visitors during the month of March. Practically every city of note in America has been heard from, particularly those cities which are musically inclined.

March 4 will chronicle two inaugurations; that of President Wilson in Washington and that of the Chicago Grand Opera and Mary Garden in "Thais" in the Auditorium in Los Angeles; fitting celebrations of both will undoubtedly attract the elite of the land. Already the study of the operas is being taken up by the musically-inclined of this city; all clubdom is waiting to attend the lectures to be given by Anna Shaw Faulkner at the Auditorium to prepare the Auditorium to listen to "Tristan and Isolde," "Die Walkure," "Thais," "Natoma," and an additional talk on the entire ring so that "Die Walkure" may be better understood.

The reservation of seats is going rapidly on, and a surprising interest is being shown throughout Southern California for information concerning the engagement. Manager Behymer's office is deluged with inquiries and if one-half of the recipients of the prospectus respond favorably, standing-room for each event will be at a premium. It is really gratifying, indeed, to know that Los Angeles and its people are rising to the occasion and putting their faith and their dollars into the movement to give grand opera in the right manner at this time.

Mischa Elman, the brilliant little Russian violin virtuoso, passed through here last Saturday on his way to San Francisco, where he has been enjoying a sensational success, in fact the greatest probably that any violinist has gained in that cosmopolitan city. He will arrive in Los Angeles Monday, preparatory to his recitals here at the Auditorium, next Tuesday evening and Saturday matinee, the 22nd inst. Tickets were placed on sale this morning at both Bartlett's and the Auditorium box offices.

The thinkers are very evidently enthused over the opportunity to be afforded them next week of hearing Anne Shaw Faulkner and Marx Oberendorfer in their inimitable lecture-recitals on the operas to be presented by the Chicago Grand Opera Company here in March. These authorities enjoy the distinction of appearing many times a year in Chicago in explanatory lectures of the Chicago Opera and the Symphony Orchestra programmes; their talks here will be given on Thursday afternoon and Friday and Saturday evenings, with special matinee for the High School and grammar grade pupils. The prices are reasonable and a number of clubs are eagerly availing themselves of the opportunity of attending in a body.

At Lomax Hall, Vernon and Central avenue, the Apollo Male Quartette will present a programme, tonight, under the auspices of Marvin Progressives Bayseas. This organization is composed of C. Rand, tenor; E. A. Hulse, second tenor; A. H. Clayton, baritone; G. H. Curtis, bass. The quartette will be assisted by Verna Edith McMardie, dialectician, and Paul G. Granel, pianist.

RAPS RED TENDENCIES.

Chamber of Commerce Committee Recommends Influence Be Used Against Two Bills.

Socialistic tendencies of the State Assembly received a rap yesterday when the Mercantile Affairs Committee of the Chamber of Commerce recommended to the directorate that the chamber's influence be used to prevent the passage of Assembly bill No. 3 and Senate bill No. 1081.

These bills, ostensibly aimed to encourage increased competition within the State, were denominated by the committee as veiled attacks on co-operative handling of fruit and other commodities and to take the management of any business entirely out of the hands of the owners.

Ten concerns were admitted to membership. A report was submitted by the Industrial Bureau Campaign Committee showing that thirty-five concerns have been enrolled to date. The directorate also voted to give a trophy in one of the class exhibits at the National Orange Show at San Bernardino.

FOR BETTER SERVICE.

Manager of American District Telegraph Company Says Large Sum Will Be Expended.

The American District Telegraph is to expend large sums on the improvement of local service, according to John McRobie, general manager of the company, who arrived at the Van Nuys yesterday from New York.

"This is one of the most rapidly growing territories in the United States," said McRobie, "and in order to keep up with it amplified facilities and installation of the latest innovations are essential.

"We have only 135 offices in the United States, our business being the special service end of the Western Union, and this has room only in the large cities. The Los Angeles office takes care of all of the business in this section of the State.

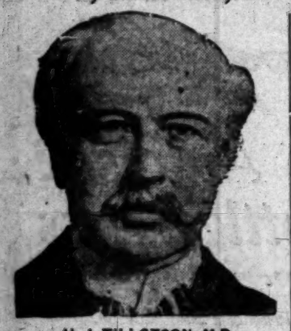
Piles, Fistula, Fissures and Hernia



H. J. TILLOTSON, M.D.
[Established 31 Years.]

I publish my photograph, personally conduct my office. I am the longest established, most successful and reliable, as medical credentials and press records prove. I possess skill and experience acquired in such a way that no other can share. Experience is the safe standard by which judgment should be valued.

NO MONEY REQUIRED TO COMMENCE TREATMENT. Many patients have no confidence in their doctor because he demands pay before a cure has been effected, and there are many who have been misinformed about their condition, or through unsuccessful treatment have become skeptical and think there is no cure for them. I want an opportunity to treat such cases. It makes no difference about the financial part, as I accept pay for my services as benefits are derived, when I am satisfied the patient is reliable. I will prove my ability to cure you before asking pay for my services.

Most Time Saving, Most Natural, Most Safe, No Detention from Occupation, Family or Home. A Radical and Permanent Cure.

I invite you to come to my office. I will explain my treatment for Hernia, Piles, Fistula, Varicose Veins, Pelvic, Nervous, Blood, Kidney, Bladder and Rectal Diseases.

Piles, Fistula, Rectal Diseases.

These diseases are very common; most frequently found in persons of middle or advanced age; are exceedingly annoying, often very painful, and sometimes very dangerous, and frequently unfit one for pleasure or occupation. My treatment and successes are the result of years of experience; my treatment is kindly applied. I cure Piles without cutting. If I do not cure your Piles, Fistula and other Rectal Diseases, my treatment does not cost you anything. Gentleness in treatment comes from treating many cases. I guarantee a cure of Piles, Fistula, Ulcers and all curable Rectal Diseases.

Trusses Seldom Cure Rupture.

Disregard for existing Hernias has cost many lives. The smallest hernias are the most dangerous, because of the increased liability to strangulation. I am aware that a great deal of fraud has been practiced in connection with the alleged cure of rupture. I say positively that I cure rupture, to stay cured. I cure with perfect safety, and entail no suffering, and do not detain you from occupation.

Written Guarantee

Dr. Tillotson's written guarantee means a cure or no pay for services. I guarantee to cure certain diseases or refund every dollar you have paid me. My services cost you nothing unless I cure your Varicose Veins, Hernia, Piles, Fissures, Fistula or any disease I guarantee to cure. My terms are reasonable and no more than you are willing and able to pay.

The Markets, Finance and Trade

LOCAL PRODUCE MARKET.

A feature of the market was some very high-grade winter crimson rhubarb received from the North. It brings around $2.25 a box. Some local stock sells for $1.60 to $1.75 in some instances. Bell peppers and eggplant were received from New Orleans and were quoted as high as 30 cents a pound. Potatoes showed a shade of firmness, although there was no particular change in prices. Receipts have been a little lighter. Sweet potato receipts continue very good and the market is comparatively easy.

The apple trade was good and receipts were light. No material change in the position of the market occurred, however. Guaranteed navel oranges are selling around $2.75. Tangerines of good grade bring around $2 a box. A surplus of poor citrus fruit still remains. The dried fruit market is practically the same with the exception that the prunes of the fifty-sixty size were offered a little lower than usual.

Local ranch eggs were down ½ cent and some dealers are quoting to the trade 1 to 2 cents below the present general market price. Taken as a whole eggs appear to be rather weak, although not much more of a decline is expected. Butter was a little steadier. Cheese remained about the same.

Reported receipts were: Eggs, 677 cases; butter, 22,923 pounds; cheese, 775 pounds; potatoes 744 sacks; sweet potatoes, 192 sacks; apples, six boxes.

SOUTH PASADENA, Feb. 12.—Police surveillance of the city is on the point of perfection, and in a few days the whole system will be complete. A switchboard for all the city offices including the police department has been installed in the office of the Recorder and there will be somebody there at all hours of the day and night. Anyone who is in need of police, fire, or other city protection, is invited to call.

Six men are on duty all night and call boxes in various parts of the city are being installed so that the night police can connect directly with the central office every half hour. With the obtaining of the extra night policemen, the motorcycle police have gone back to their regular jobs.

Marshal Johnson arrested a man last night who was begging from house to house. The man was taken before Recorder Crump at Pasadena this morning, where he was given a sentence of twenty days in the County Jail for vagrancy.

RING-NECK PHEASANTS.

Several of the residents of Ellerslie Park at Monterey Road and Garfield avenue, have released a number of ring-neck pheasants, which it is hoped will breed at large during the coming nesting season. These are the celebrated game pheasants of Oregon and the Game Commission of the State is anxious to see a start made here with this attractive game bird. The pheasants at liberty are protected by the State law, which makes it a misdemeanor, punishable by a fine of $500 or six months' imprisonment, for any person to catch or kill them.

The Women's League of the Baptist Church is arranging an art loan exhibit to be given in the church, El Centro and Mound streets, February 20 and 21. At the age of 11 with her family she moved to Buffalo, and later to Milwaukee. In 1861 she was married to August Sperling, then of Sheboygan, where they resided for a time. In 1865 they removed to Champaign county, Illinois, and in September, 1907, located permanently in South Pasadena.

There were ten children, six of whom are left: Miss Emma Sperling of South Pasadena, J. A. Fred Sperling and Mrs. Anna M. Jones of Dewey, Ill.; Alvin H. Sperling of Fisher, Ill.; Godfrey Sperling of Boise, Idaho, and Mrs. Johanna S. Burkhardt of Los Angeles.

SHORT LINE WORK.

Construction work on the South Pasadena short line is progressing rapidly and General Manager Pillsbury said the line, which will save ten to fifteen minutes' time on a trip for the South Pasadena residents, would be completed much sooner than was originally expected. It will pass through a range of hills and the open cuts will make the line one of the most expensive for its length in the Pacific Electric system.

The road starts from the four-track system at Schuetzen Park, near Rose Hill and runs west of Bairdstown directly north of the South Pasadena line at the Ostrich Farm. It will be three and one-half miles in length, and will cost about $500,000 and will be double-tracked all the way.

The board of education held a special meeting Monday night at the High School to consider the plans for the construction of the two new buildings, for which bonds were recently voted. The plans which were submitted by Norman F. Marsh, the architect, were accepted with slight changes and the board authorized Superintendent of Schools George C. Bush to advertise for bids within the next ten days, when the plans will be placed on exhibition.

ADRIFT ALL NIGHT.

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Feb. 12.—The Poco Tiempo, a gasoline launch from San Pedro having on board Dr. S. Sweet of Los Angeles and an engineer, was in distress here at an early hour this morning, the propeller shaft of the engine having been broken by becoming entangled in masses of kelp. It was seen from shore when it was about a half-mile out opposite the pier here and Paul Holme rowed out in a small boat through the heavy breakers, carrying a pair of oars to the launch. A telephone message was sent to Newport Beach and a launch came here and towed the disabled boat to that city. Its two occupants had been out on the ocean the greater part of Tuesday night without bedding or food.

HOSTILE CAMPS GIRDING LOINS.

Aristocratic Canine Colony Out for the Winter.

Los Angeles Visitor Seeks to Be Crucified.

PASADENA, Feb. 13.—Another clash between the members of the Board of Education and the City Council threatens the former with arrests on the warrants issued last December. Mayor Thum called a special conference of the City Councilmen last night and an extra session will probably be held some time this week.

This resumption of hostile relations between the members of the school board and the city officials has resulted from the resolution that was presented to the Mayor and the Councilmen last Tuesday by the Board of Education. In it the schol board announces that if the new Polytechnic High School buildings, the inspection of which is at the root of all the trouble, are to be ready for the opening of school next fall, the work that has now been at a standstill for several weeks will have to be recommenced at once.

"I am glad to hear that a meeting of the Council is to be held," said Fred E. Wilcox, a member of the Board of Education, last night. "The sooner the better. Out of courtesy to the Mayor and Councilmen we will wait a while longer, perhaps two days, and then begin work on the school again, no matter what is done. We are not afraid of arrest. It is imperative that we do this. If we do not the buildings will not be ready for use by the time school begins next fall."

On the other hand, the Mayor last night stated that he has hopes the difficulties may be adjusted.

"I do not know about the serving of the warrants that were issued last December," he said, "but for that matter others could be issued. However, I am going to work all day tomorrow on this matter and I think that it can be arranged to the satisfaction of all."

The complaint that the school board has is that the special joint inspecting committee, which was appointed several weeks ago, is taking much too long a time to inspect the buildings, which, it contends, have already been shown to be all right.

DOGS WINTER HERE.

Humane Officer Kelly last night estimated that there are at least 200 dogs in the city that are owned by tourists who have come from the East for longer or shorter visits. Each winter a small dog colony grows in the city, mostly of aristocratic, blue-blooded animals, many of whose owners are millionaires; but this winter there are more of them than usual.

The dogs are taken care of in various parts of the city. Most of those with dogs who have leased houses for the winter, or taken apartments, have their pets with them, while those who are staying at the large hotels have arranged with various dog fanciers in the city to take care of their dogs for them while they are here.

At the Hotel Green a place has been arranged in the basement for the care of dogs, and while there are none at the hotel at present, the winter usually sees from twenty-five or thirty taken care of there, so that they may accompany their owners on their walks and drives.

WANTS TO BE CRUCIFIED.

P. F. Mosher, who has been employed at a manufacturing jewelry store at No. 621½ South Broadway, Los Angeles, was taken into custody here yesterday by Constable Austin, with whom he had unsuspectingly engaged in conversation, and taken to the County Hospital in Los Angeles to be examined for his sanity. He expressed a wish to Austin that he be crucified, and Austin, affecting to be setting about to indulge him in his request, escorted him to the police station. There he gave minute instructions of how he wished to be placed upon a cross, and urged that after his death he should be stabbed with a spear.

"But be careful not to do that until you are quite sure I am dead," he admonished the police officers.

NEW OFFICERS ELECTED.

The vacancies caused by the resignation several days ago of Mrs. W. F. Knight, Mrs. J. D. Thompson and Mrs. Henry Vilas, president, vice-president and secretary, respectively, of the Pasadena Emergency League, were filled yesterday by the election of Mrs. F. W. Kellogg, as president; Mrs. P. L. Austin, first vice-president; Mrs. Helena Childs, second vice-president; Mrs. S. E. Bartlett, third vice-president; Mrs. J. H. Steward, treasurer, and Mrs. Theodore Welch, secretary. The meeting at which the election of officers took place was held at the home of Mrs. Auton, No. 119 North Madison avenue.

The former officers resigned because they had recently been elected to corresponding offices in the Scripp's Altadena Home for Aged Persons, and felt that the dual duties would make too great a demand on their time. The Emergency League maintained and conducted the Home for Aged Women, which was superseded by the new institution.

HONOR HIS MEMORY.

Lincoln's birthday was observed in Pasadena yesterday by appropriate exercises at most of the school buildings. The pupils of the two buildings of the Pasadena High School assembled in the forenoon at the Christian Church, where they were addressed by Rev. Matt S. Hughes.

The Boy Scouts met last night at Carmelita Playground. There a unique programme was arranged. It consisted largely of a few words from each one of the boys concerning the beloved President.

TO ENTERTAIN AUTHOR.

Arrangements were completed yesterday for the banquet that is to be given at the Hotel Maryland the night of the 19th inst. as a welcoming entertainment for Dr. Henry Van Dyke, noted writer, lecturer and fisherman, who is expected soon to arrive to spend some time in the city.

A pleasing feature of the affair will be the exhibiting of stereopticon views of some of the tuna fishermen who will be present snapped as they are landing large fish off Catalina Island. Among the speakers will be Dr. Robert J. Burdette, Dr. James A. B. Scherer, Dr. George L. Spinning, ex-Senator Frank P. Flint and Dr. Charles F. Holder.

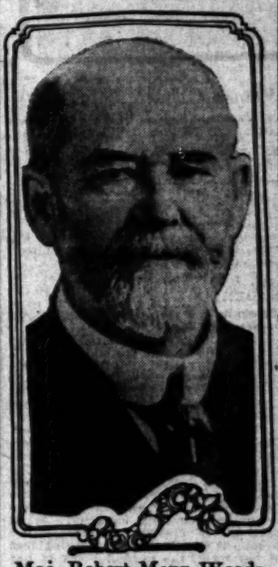
PAYING TRIBUTE TO HIS MEMORY.

ILLINOIS SOCIETY IN PICNIC ON LINCOLN'S BIRTHDAY.

Six Thousand Enjoy Fun at the Beach and Listen to Address by Maj. Woods—Cook County Led in Attendance—People to Decide on Question of Buying Water Plants.

SANTA MONICA, Feb. 12.—Ample tribute was paid to the memory of Abraham Lincoln today by 6000 former residents of Illinois, who gathered at the annual picnic of the Illinois Association of Southern California at North Beach plaza. The martyred son of the great middle western state was eulogized, and loyalty to the great principles born in him was pledged anew by the Illinois people. It was the greatest midwinter gathering of the association.



Maj. Robert Mann Woods,

Who addressed the Illinois Society at its annual picnic at Santa Monica yesterday.

The picnickers were guests of the Greater Santa Monica Club, the members of which placed the Benjamin ocean parlors and adjacent picnic grounds at the disposal of the gathering. A long glass windshield at the western edge of the Ocean Front promenade sheltered the former Illinoisans from any stray breezes from the ocean that might remind them of their eastern home. The day was delightful and the crowd enjoyed basket lunches out in the warm sunshine.

Deputy District Attorney Blair, who is president of the association, was busy handshaking and making everybody feel at home. Secretary Snively directed those who arrived on three-car trains to county headquarters, where they registered and renewed acquaintances in "folks back home." The members of the Board of Control, always on the job, were M. D. Hurley, Chairman; Dr. D. D. Nice, E. Y. Murray, C. L. Logan, Dr. W. C. B. Jaynes, G. H. Moore, A. W. Brode, Joseph Korninek, W. W. Haskell, P. House and R. L. Culver.

The singing of the anthem "America" opened the day's exercises. President Blair then delivered the opening address, congratulating the Illinoisans on coming to Southern California. Carl F. Schader then delivered a tribute to the greatness of Lincoln. He reviewed his life and works and made an appeal for the continuation of the Lincoln principles. Miss Lucia Isham, of Santa Monica, delivered the Gettysburg address of Lincoln in a manner that won much applause.

Cook county residents led in point of attendance by a small margin ahead of Fulton county, but each district in the great State was well represented. During the morning a dozen automobiles were placed at the disposal of the picnickers by members of the Greater Santa Monica Club, and rides over the entire bay section were taken. The Donatelli band rendered patriotic and pleasing airs during the afternoon. Many took advantage of the excellent fishing to drop a line from the municipal pier close at hand.

WHALES BATTLE IN AVALON BAY.

AVALON, Feb. 12.—A large crowd gathered on the beach here today to witness what appeared to be a battle between two mammoth whales, which lasted for nearly an hour. At first it was thought the huge combatants were thresher sharks or black fish from their great leaps from the water, but on closer inspection they were found to be whales. The sea was threshed to foam for many cable lengths from the battlers.

Steamship and Warehouse Interests Split.

Kelp Reduction Concern to Begin Operations.

Pipe Line to Be Laid from the Oil Fields.

SAN PEDRO, Feb. 12.—The relations heretofore existing between the Crescent Wharf and Warehouse Company and the Independent Steamship Company have been dissolved as to the dual management is concerned. Both companies for several years have been under the management of C. J. Lehman, who has been associated with William Bayly and his son.

Lehman has been president and general manager and William Bayly, Jr., secretary. The elder Bayly is a wealthy mining man of Los Angeles with extensive interests who heretofore has taken no active management in the harbor properties.

Practically the entire stock of both companies has been owned by Lehman and Bayly and they have been operated under the direction of Lehman. The two men have now divided their interests and Lehman will take over the sole control and management of the steamship line, including the ownership of the steamer Hanalei operating between San Pedro and San Francisco on a five-day schedule, and Bayly will operate the wharf and warehouse business. William Bayly, Jr., will take some charge of the Crescent Company as general manager.

It is expected that extensive improvements on the Crescent wharf will follow the taking over of the entire property by the Bayly interests. The company owns frontage that can be equipped with terminal facilities that will make one of the most valuable berths in the entire harbor at the upper end of the wharf is 100 feet that at an expense of about $30,000 for a new layout of track and cargo-handling facilities, would permit of such rapid discharge of cargo that the berth would be in great demand by owners of steamers carrying general cargo.

KELP FACTORY.

The Pacific Products Company, which has been conducting extensive experiments in treating kelp at White's Point for a year, has its new plant ready for operation, with bright prospects for success.

The concern is a close corporation, owned by J. W. Cheney, president, and W. Frank Fisher, secretary. Nearly $20,000 has been expended in putting the plant in shape. Chemists report that will convert fifty tons of kelp per day into charcoal and other products have been built.

The experiment of drying the kelp in the sun has been abandoned and machinery have been perfected by which the wet kelp is run through rollers similar to those used for sugar cane. By this process none of the chemicals are lost.

Iodine and other products are extracted from the juice that is entirely lost by the drying process.

Then by a leaching process of burning the charcoal after the kelp is burned, both the chlorides and phates are retained as well as the potash and a briquette binder. Residue fertiliser in addition to tons of wet kelp will produce six tons of charcoal besides the by-products.

The kelp is being gathered by barges at the point and the product will be hauled from the plant by motor truck. The company has acquired a location from Roman Sapulveda where the supply of kelp is practically inexhaustible, as a new crop is produced every few months.

TO LAY PIPE LINE.

Work has commenced on the harbor end of the oil pipe line of the General Pipe Line Company to the oil fields. A big force of men began work Sunday morning at the tank station at Thirty-sixth street and Pacific avenue laying the pipe northward.

The pipe is wrought steel, and a curious machine is used to screw the pipe. It is run by the engine and was made from an old automobile engine. The machine runs down the pipe, picking up each added section with a boom and screwing on the line before proceeding to the next section.

The work marks the beginning of a wholesale tearing up of the streets of the entire town for water, gas and oil mains. The first trenches for the new water mains were started on Ninth and Mesa this week.

CAPTAIN RESIGNS.

Capt. P. B. Blanchard, master of the Catalina steamer Cabrillo, will soon resign. It is reported, and go to New York to accept a responsible position with a brother, who has a steadily increasing business. Blanchard, being known as a good navigator, is well fitted for work in that capacity.

TRUSTEE QUITS HIS POST.

Man Criticised During Recent Administration Resigns After the Trouble Has Subsided.

REDONDO BEACH, Feb. 11.—The resignation of Henry C. Feder as a member of the Board of City Trustees has been accepted. Feder gave as reason for his resignation that Mrs. Browning, a real estate man, would be appointed to fill the vacancy, and once took his seat he (Feder) would be appointed to complete the unexpired term of office of Councilman A. Feder, who resigned when appointed postmaster.

During the recall agitation, though no charges were made personally against Feder, who is well liked throughout the city, and a resident, it was charged by the recallers that he was illegally holding office by the board when he was censor of Steel should have resigned when elected by the people. His appointment was sustained by the City Attorney Ferti, who held that he was legal.

SAN BERNARDINO, Feb. 13.—Because he refuses to take orders from political bosses, and for the further reason that he greatly peeved publisher of an evening paper, Councilman George Chambers may attempt to recall him.

Chambers was elected two years ago on the Democratic ticket, though he was at the time endorsed by the Democrats. Recently he began to develop belligerency and some of the members of the Socialist party, the latter showing a stubbornly independent tendency that indicated he would not take orders.

It was announced recently in the Socialist local communicating Chambers' membership in the party with disclaiming responsibility for his further acts. Chambers resigned and now some of the Socialists are reported as plotting to withdraw the assurances that they have given the support of a dissatisfied member to aid the cause and it is declared to be doubtful if any plan to oust Chambers from the council can be made to succeed as candidates has as yet been found for him.

Chambers is in a fighting mood and declares he is ready to meet any charges that may be brought against him. Socialist leaders declare he will lose a reduction in gas rates, but a vote indicates he supports the move made in that direction.

RURAL MAIL CARRIERS.

Preparations is to have automobile delivery on two routes, beginning February 15. The auto carriers, W. C. Pease and Dwight Hall, will serve some of the rural sections and will give the residents on deliveries daily where they have been supplied.

This will make it possible to extend to them the city's carrier service. In other degree, the autos take the place of the horse carriers for a number of years. Other changes in the local mail service are looked for in the near future.

COLLINS COMPANY BANQUET.

NEWPORT BEACH, Feb. 14.—The annual banquet of the Collins Commercial Company was held at Gray's Cafe at Balboa Monday evening and was attended by about thirty employees. A fine spread was served at which roast mallard duck was the piece de resistance. W. S. Collins, president of the company, related the advancement of the concern from the time five years ago when the large island belonging to the company was a salt marsh to the present. He outlined some of his plans for the coming year.

W. A. Cornelius complimented the company for being one of the foremost factors in the development of Newport Bay to its present stage. He said that the War Department, as learned at the meeting in Col. McKinstry's office in Los Angeles on Monday, had paved the way for the commencing of the jetty building by the city. The city will make good by voting $100,000 in bonds for that purpose as soon as the harbor lines are approved at Washington, it is announced.

Business Men Favor Single Telephone System—Cannery Project Recommended to Chamber of Commerce to Provide New Fruit Industry.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

RIVERSIDE, Feb. 12.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Representatives of the Redondo Beach to Riverside Automobile Association visited the city this afternoon and succeeded in stirring up considerable interest in their plans for a first-class highway connecting a number of important towns in the counties of Riverside, Orange and Los Angeles.

A meeting was called hurriedly at the Chamber of Commerce rooms to hear the plans discussed, with Mayor Peters presiding. Some of the visitors remained in the city tonight to appear before the regular meeting of the Chamber of Commerce directors, tomorrow.

President Small this evening declared himself strongly in favor of the adoption of a resolution indorsing the movement which would give Riverside an outlet almost due west to the Coast over a seventy-five-mile highway. The improvement of the portion in Riverside county through Corona and the Santa Ana canyon has had the consideration of the Board of Supervisors for some time.

Addresses were delivered by E. E. Elliott of Compton, president of the new road association; A. W. Fry and E. E. Thompson of Hines, vice-president and secretary, respectively; and O. K. Parker, engineer of the Southern California Automobile Association. Supervisor Holmes of Riverside spoke enthusiastically in favor of the project, his attitude being significant of that of the board as a whole.

The visiting party was composed of the following representatives: George Oberly, J. Guy Smith, Artesia; F. A. Leak, J. V. Shepard, E. E. Elliott, Nelson Ward, Compton; W. W. Clayton, Norwalk; F. C. Gillett, Carmenita; Y. J. Thorpe, D. M. Towne, D. W. Towne, W. S. Martin, Gardena; H. G. Phelps, George Nelson, Redondo Beach; E. C. Thompson, A. W. Fry, Hines; O. K. Parker, Los Angeles.

SINGLE TELEPHONES.

The Riverside Business Men's Association tonight went on record as unanimously favoring a single telephone system. The franchise of the Pacific company expires in March and so far the company has made no move towards securing a renewal of the franchise. No preference was expressed as between the Pacific and Home system.

The business men also went on record as favoring all legitimate manufacturing enterprises that can be secured for Riverside, and President Fertig will name a committee to work on the proposition of securing minor manufacturing industries.

CANNERY PROJECT.

A corporation with $100,000 capital stock, for the erection of a $10,000 cannery and equipment costing approximately $25,000 is the substance of the recommendations that will be presented the Chamber of Commerce Committee on Diversified Industries by the subcommittee appointed to investigate a cannery proposition.

The report announces the purpose of the project to be the "canning and selling of all kinds of deciduous fruit, tomatoes and marmalade." The committee believes that there is sufficient fruit produced at the present time in this district to make possible an output this year of 200 carloads, and that the cannery would give employment to 400 people at a weekly wage of $3600. The total amount of money placed in circulation in one season as the result of the operation of a cannery on such a scale is estimated at $175,000.

GIRLS RING LEADERS.

The three girls who are being held in the County Jail until conditions are deemed such as to make it safe to return them to the State School at Whittier are said to be among the ringleaders of the recent revolt at the school, and one has admitted here that she dug her way out through a twelve-inch wall to escape. Sheriff Wilson has the girls in custody on the third floor of the jail, in the woman's ward, remote from the other prisoners.

EL CENTRO, Feb. 12.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] That Imperial county will do its part in improving the highway between El Centro and San Diego was demonstrated yesterday when Deputy County Surveyor E. H. Gaines took charge of a party of county prisoners who will spend the next three months improving the road between El Centro and Coyote Wells. A gang of from eighteen to twenty men will be constantly on the job until hot weather sets in. It is intended that the San Diego-El Centro road will be one of the best highways in California inside of six months.

Letter to Council.

WOULD BUILD HARBOR ROAD.

CALIFORNIA MAIN LINE RAILWAY COMPANY'S OFFER.

Asks That Proposition of Issuing Million Dollars in Bonds for Project Be Not Eliminated from Ballot—Commensurate Rate of Interest Is Asked.

The California Main Line Railway Company, by Glen Behymer, its general counsel, has sent to the City Council a request that the proposition of issuing $1,000,000 bonds for the proposed municipal railway from the city to the harbor be not eliminated from the ballot at the forthcoming election, and making an offer to purchase these bonds if they are authorized, under certain conditions.

The communication has been referred to the Municipal Railway Committee and a report probably will be made to the Council next Tuesday, when the bond issues are scheduled for consideration.

This offer, states Behymer, is based on the assumption that the city intends to build a municipal railway to the harbor and its docks, wharves and other transportation facilities, and that the only conditions attached to the offer of financing the enterprise is that the bankers who are backing the railroad organization be given a rate of interest on their loan commensurate with the ordinary banking principals, and that this be secured by a bond issue or some other legal security from the city for the principal and interest.

"Our bankers would require definite assurances that the municipal railway would be built in a substantial manner and of standard gauge," says the letter to the Council, "with suitable freight and passenger terminals both in the city and at the harbor, and in the immediate future, and that track privileges and joint terminal facilities be afforded our company upon a reasonable basis."

Behymer asserts his company is prepared to give ample and definite assurance of its ability to finance the municipal railway and that it is not now nor will it be directly or indirectly connected with any line entering the city, except such physical connections as will be necessary to transfer passengers and freight from one line to another and that it will give ample assurance of this fact by such means as may be suggested by the City Attorney.

The company offers to build the road according to plans and specifications of the City Engineer provided certain franchises on certain streets in the city be given it and also such right of way as he city now has between Los Angeles and San Pedro; and that in such case it would give to the city an option to purchase the road within a given time at the cost of construction, plus 5 per cent. a year, provided that in the event of the city purchasing the road the company be given track privileges and joint terminal facilities with the municipal railroad.

The communication says the duplication of costly plants for a railroad to the harbor is not desirable and therefore the company is desirous of securing from the city a definite statement as to whether it is the city's intention to build the line at an early date as it will be necessary for the company to build such a line soon unless the city intends to do so.

"Our road will be built with the utmost rapidity practicable," says the letter, "and we are anxious to commence construction of the same, and have only been holding the matter up waiting to see whether the city would build a municipal railway."

TO COLLECT A TAX.

SANTA BARBARA, Feb. 12.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] State Controller A. B. Nye has begun an action in the Santa Barbara county Superior Court to collect an inheritage tax from Mrs. Alexander Stewart, a wealthy widow of Washington, D. C., who was served with a citation for her appearance in court on Monday, February 17. The property involved is located in Siskiyou county, being timber land said to be worth more than a million dollars. The case is unusual owing to the fact that while Mrs. Stewart owns the property it was willed to her as so much stock in a corporation and whether the State can collect inheritage tax from a corporation is the question that must be decided in settling the case.

To Renew Complexion Without Cosmetics

(From The Dermatologist.)

If the excessive user of cosmetics only knew the impression her artificiality really makes upon others, she would quickly seek means of gaining a natural complexion. Let her acquire the mercolized wax habit, discarding makeups entirely, and she will soon have the kind of complexion that women envy and men admire. It's so easy to get an ounce of mercolized wax at any drug store, use nightly like cold cream and wash it off mornings. And the results are so remarkable. Gradually the lifeless cuticle peels off, in almost invisible flaky particles. In a week or so there's a brand new complexion, clear, velvety-soft, of girlish color and texture. The treatment is so simple, harmless and marvelously effective, the wonder is that every woman whose skin is withered, discolored, rough, chapped, freckled or pimpled, has not already adopted it.

Let wrinkled women quit pastes and massage creams which mar the skin still more and try this more sensible treatment: Dissolve 1 oz. powdered saxolite in ½ pint witch hazel; use as a face bath. Every line will quickly disappear.—[Advertisement.

MR. WILSON ON Building Companies

(A Series of Daily Talks on Building Opportunities)

(A) The Tourist and Homeseeker when he arrives in Los Angeles for the first time, meets with several surprises. The most wonderful is the tremendous amount of building. I refer not only to office buildings and apartment-houses, but particularly to the thousands of Bungalows that are being built in and around our great City.

One Mile of Bungalows every week, and fifty-two weeks in the year is the record. These Bungalow homes are bought as fast as they can be built by the middle-class people.

Nowhere in the world can you get a home on as small a payment down, and nowhere in the world are people of moderate means buying homes to such an extent as they are in Los Angeles. These homes have made Los Angeles the City of Homes that it is. Home Life is the backbone of the Nation. This condition of affairs is made possible by home building companies. They are the biggest organizations in Los Angeles, and public-spirited people point with pride to these institutions that make it possible for the clerk, the mechanic, in fact, for all classes of people to enjoy real home life.

Standing at the head of the Building Companies, is the great Los Angeles Investment Company, which today is the largest building company in the world. Los Angeles says to you, "Come Unto Me, and I Will Build You a Home." Take a trip around Los Angeles, take in Pasadena, Alhambra, Hollywood, Santa Monica, Venice, and you will agree with me that the invitation that Los Angeles sends to the world is the most acceptable invitation that was ever sent out, and the response means a million population for Los Angeles in a very few years.

The Building Companies have been large dividend payers, and stocks have advanced rapidly. There is less speculation in building companies' stock than in any other business.

The Tourist and Homeseeker who has money to invest, buys as soon as they understand and see for themselves the exact situation:

These Building Companies are co-operative. When they want money they go to the Public, and the Public's money is used for building. I have been successful in the building business. One of the Companies I am associated with is paying today 12 per cent. Its stock is worth more than par, and is to be advanced March 1st.

LOS ANGELES BUILDING CO.

My associates and myself have organized the Los Angeles Building Company, with the idea of developing and building low cost, attractive bungalows on a tract of land at Alhambra and Santa Monica.

I am offering today what might be termed, an Underwriting Offer of our Pre-Organization 7% Cumulative participating preferred stock. The par value of these shares is 10c. If you can come in as a charter member, we will accept your subscription for this 7% cumulative, participating, preferred stock at 8c A SHARE, to include a bonus of 10% of your subscription in common stock.

My plan is to build exclusively on well-located property. My idea is to carry out certain cherished plans that I have had for low cost, modern, artistic Bungalows. I will invest in nothing else. My plan is to offer 250,000 shares on this basis. When this has been subscribed, the shares will be placed at 10c par. This advance may come at any time.

I shall continue daily this series of talks. These talks will be instructive and helpful. They will give the real facts about the Building Companies. I hope to keep this offer open for two weeks, but if the stock is over-subscribed, the offer will be withdrawn, and during the balance of the series of my talks, the shares will sell at par value.

I will accept your subscription on this basis if, within thirty days after a thorough investigation you find, for any reason under the sun, you do not care to continue as a stockholder, the Company will refund your money. This gives you every opportunity to investigate our Company, as well as the building conditions of the City. I make this offer because I do not want any one associated in my Company who is not thoroughly satisfied. There are certainly investors enough who will be satisfied.

I shall be glad to take the time to interview you at my office, where I will lay before you, if you are an earnest investor, all the plans of the Company. You can also meet the Directors.

Our office is open daily until 9 p.m., and on Sunday from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m.

If it is impossible for you to call, write for full particulars.

Dilemma.

DESERTED BY CHAPERON THEY DECIDE TO MARRY.

Mrs. Marx Obendorfer,

Who as Miss Anne Shaw Faulkner, lecturer, yesterday became the bride of her pianist after they had been deserted in Los Angeles by their chaperon. They went to Riverside for a brief honeymoon.

RUTHLESSLY deserted here by their chaperon, Miss Anne Shaw Faulkner, lecturer on operas, and Max Obendorfer, her pianist, both of Chicago, decided to relieve the embarrassing situation by becoming wedded. They were married yesterday afternoon at St. Andrew's Episcopal Church and went to Riverside for a brief honeymoon. They will begin a week of lecture recitals next Monday to prepare the public for the coming of the Chicago Grand Opera to the Auditorium.

The lecturer and her accompanist have been traveling together for four years. Their chaperon has been Miss Elizabeth Shaw. When she arrived in Los Angeles she met friends and decided to remain indefinitely. Here were left her sister and Obendorfer without any one to look after them. They had expected to marry at the end of the season. The sister's decision to remain in Los Angeles made them consider an earlier wedding. They wired to their parents in Chicago for advice and when a "bless you my children" came back, that settled the question.

"We pleaded with sister to induce her to continue as our chaperon," Mrs. Obendorfer said yesterday, "but she was enamored of the country and was very firm in her decision to stay here. It left us in a dreadful situation. We didn't know any one whom we could engage to fill her place."

"Yes, that is correct," said the husband. "We did our very best to persuade Sister Elizabeth not to desert us in that way, but it was no use. Under the complicated circumstances there seemed but one other course to follow—that is, to forever do away with the necessity of a chaperon."

The obstinate sister and a few friends were present at the wedding. The bride and groom each are 32 years old. Mrs. Obendorfer is a native American. Her husband is a Hungarian and has the musical talent that has distinguished a number of persons of that nationality.

Mrs. Obendorfer and her husband were the originators of the opera musicale as a method for preparing the public to understand and appreciate grand opera. They gave advance educational musicales for the Thomas orchestra, Henry E. Savage's "Girl of the Golden West," and a number of other musical aggregations. Mrs. Obendorfer is regarded as an authority on Wagnerian opera.

MASKED MYSTERY GETS GAY WITH THE GIRLS.

ONTARIO, Feb. 12.—The mysterious appearance and disappearance of a masked man, apparently either intoxicated or deranged, who on several occasions of late has terrorized the youths and maidens of the southern part of this city, by appearing before them from behind a tree on dark nights and, backing up his demands with a gun, telling the men to "beat it" and the girls to come with him, is at present puzzling the Ontario police.

The doings of the "masked mystery" have been guarded by the officers for several days in the hope that they would be able to run him to earth, but aside from the arrest of several suspects, which the parties held up have been unable to identify, nothing has been accomplished.

The officers were first asked to take a hand in the matter when the man, wearing a mask over the lower part of his face, stopped a party comprising Miss Florence Pardee, aged 19, Miss Juanita Baker, aged 18, Doss Craigmiles and O. Mayn, who were walking to the homes of the young women after an evening spent at a local theater.

Stepping suddenly out of the darkness on a poorly lighted street, the man covered the party with a gun, told the men to make a quick getaway and the girls to stand still. The girls, however, ran away and they were followed by young Mayn. Craigmiles stood his ground and when the masked man saw that he had lost his prize, he also made a hasty retreat.

A few minutes after this occurrence, as Miss Pardee sat reading by an open window at her home in West Deseau street, she was suddenly seized from behind the lace curtains by a man's arms and was dragged half way through the window, when her screams brought her father, Albert F. Pardee, on the run.

A search was at once made about the house, but nothing could be found of the man. The girl saw the curtains move before she was seized, but at first thought it was her brother preparing to play a joke on her and was not alarmed.

The man is described as walking in a stooped position and is said to stagger as though intoxicated. Women in the southern part of the city are terror-stricken by the mysterious masked man and mothers are refusing to allow their daughters out after dark.

NEW COMMANDER COMING.

Eva Booth of Salvation Army, Upon Whose Shoulders Fell Mantle of Her Father, to Lecture Here.

Commander Eva Booth of the Salvation Army will arrive in this city on Saturday, March 1, and will remain in this section until the following Thursday. She will be accompanied by Commissioner Estill and Brig. Finn of Chicago. Lieut.-Col. Parker of New York and Lieut.-Col. and Mrs. Sharp of San Francisco. Commander Booth will speak in the Mason Operahouse at 2 o'clock Sunday afternoon, March 2, on the "Life and Work of Gen. William Booth," illustrated by motion pictures and the stereopticon. During her visit she will also lecture at Long Beach and Riverside, and will conduct an officers' council in this city.

YOUNG AT EIGHTY-TWO.

"Cucamonga Kid" Comes to Town and Talks of Bicycles and Cold Cures—One Remedy.

"The Cucamonga Kid," 82 years young, arrived at the Hollenbeck yesterday and proceeded to pass part of the day in buying cold cure. J. L. Motsinger, as this husky voiced, happy faced, with the beard of an Iowa farmer, is the man who answers to the almost pugilistic nom de plume.

It was not inherited or imported, but has grown to him gradually until it sticks closer than any bur. When 60 years young, Motsinger bought a bicycle and proceeded to astound the natives around Cucamonga. His daily speed stunts along the roads around that place, Upland and Ontario soon won his fame.

About five years ago he was injured while hitching a horse and since that time has been able to ride only on his regular weekly schedule twice a month from Cucamonga to Ontario to attend the Masonic lodge meetings, which he hasn't missed for seventeen years, and twice every Sunday to the Presbyterian Church at Upland.

One of his favorite cold remedies is a large capsule filled with cayeene pepper. If it burns, he says, he swallows a little olive oil. He recommends this antidote to all.

Motsinger drove his own automobile in the orange show parade, but declares that such a machine is a very poor substitute for a good bicycle.

PENNILESS, SEEKS LUNCHES.

Young Man Is Arrested Searching Students' Coats in High School Cloak-room—His Story.

Weak from a lack of proper nourishment, penniless, weary from walking the streets in quest of his stepfather, Clifford Hills, 22 years old, who first gave his name as George Roy Emery, was arrested yesterday while searching students' coats in a cloak-room of the Los Angeles High School. He is held at the City Jail.

"I wasn't hunting for money," said Hills. "I wanted something to eat. I know many students bring their lunch to school and I was searching for food. I hadn't had anything to eat all day."

Hills says his home is in Salt Lake City. He left there three weeks ago to come to Los Angeles to find employment and try to locate his stepfather, who, he said, deserted his mother some time ago.

"The last my mother heard of him," said Hills, "he was in Los Angeles. I gave his name when they arrested me because I didn't want to disgrace my own father's name."

Means the Interest on $100 for a Year

Now, it is far from our intention to urge any man to go without the pleasures of life. Such a course is the shortest road to becoming crabbed, cranky and cussed. What we do suggest is that, before you spend money on luxuries, you should, as it were, take yourself by the hand and argue out the matter with yourself; weigh what you can afford against what you can't afford, and see whether a year from now you will get more fun from having gone to that show, or from having $4 in the bank. A little self-argument of this sort won't take your enjoyment away from the pleasure you anticipate, and it may be a mighty effective regret-saver.

Our service for savings depositors is something decidedly out of the ordinary, in the matter of its intense, human, personal characteristics. It is worth investigating by any man who has, or who expects to have, a savings account.
